Slow Code, I think it is time you put up or shut up. If the skills among you dinos were so great, then you had to finish at the top of your category. So tell us now, what group were you part of, what section, and what category did you compete in?

Then, when the results are published, we will compare your standings with those other groups who had the modern, technically trained operators.

We'll see if the dinos are extinct or if modern humans have triumphed.

"Nice" forgery. But that's OK. When the opposition proves that it cannot make its argument via anything other than dirty tricks, then it clearly undermines its own position.

Your forgery wasn't perfect, though. Based on the NNTP-Posting-Host and X-Complaints-To header, a forgery report has been passed on to your ISP (abuse@aioe.org). They probably won't prorate your account for the rest of the month when they cancel you.

Back then, a ham radio club would upgrade the technical knowledge of members via more experienced hams coaching (Elmering) the newer inexperienced members.

Today, ham radio clubs always end up "dumbing-down" to the level of their dumbest members, with the end result of the technically more competent members leaving the club out of boredom and no challenge.

A sad testimony to the state of ham radio today.

Aioe.org is an Italian nntp server which is free, so there won't be any cancelling going on. Unfortunately, a significant number of forged posts is originated at that server on a daily basis, although it doesn't even begin to come close to the trash which Google permits to enter Usenet. Good luck on tracking the idiot down, but I wouldn't hold my breath waiting for anything meaningful to happen.

Even if only three contacts are made, the score isn't what's important.
What is important is showing and training new hams in how to communicate and operate effectively during emergencies and not be Appliance operators.
Hams like you that worry about final score are more likely to cheat because you choose to ignore or fail to see the things that are important.

I know you're right, but it's not really the fault of the clubs, it's that the hams getting licensed are dumbed down so clubs don't have good operators to sign up.

You could not be more correct OM !!

I went out to a "Field Day" last week to see a local Club effort.

The BASTARDS had EXTENSION CORDS running out of the windows of the building they were set up outside of running the SB-220 amplifier so they could make more contest points. (!!)

(I managed to snap a few covert photos with my camera
phone and that of their club banner for easy ID by the ARRL.
It will be VERY FUNNY to see them when their logs are DISQUALIFIED for running illegal AC power when they claimed they were running class 6A)

Ham radio today is nothing but one big EGO TRIP for a bunch of dirty old men white blowhards and racist pricks.
I hope their ham radio goes right into the TOILET in the comming years.

I call B.S.! If you old, outdated methods of communication are so superior, then you should have locked up the contest.

So, this means one of two things. 1.) you're not telling the truth, or, 2.) the old methods you claim are superior are really not and the new "appliance operators" at other clubs using modern methods kicked your collective butts.

I suspect that 1. is the truth and you did not participate in FD and didn't teach any news hams anything. In fact, if you did participate in FD, the "appliance operators" probably ran rings around you and embarrassed you so bad, you had to create this story to save face.

Nice try, no one is buying the BS.

"Nice" forgery. But that's OK. When the opposition proves that it cannot make its argument via anything other than dirty tricks, then it clearly undermines its own position.

Your forgery wasn't perfect, though. Based on the NNTP-Posting-Host and X-Complaints-To header, a forgery report has been passed on to your ISP (abuse@aioe.org). They probably won't prorate your account for the rest of the month when they cancel you.

Who nominated YOU as newsgroup moderator, Paul? Oh, and please DO stop sending "welcome" messages to the new users of the ra newsgroups, won't you?
Why, if we didn't already know that you are a self-appointed stuffed shirt, you could almost have a newcomer believe that you actually have something to do with the groups.
If I want to hear from a stuffed shirt, Paul, I'll write a letter to Ted Kennedy.

I have been instrumental in establishing and publishing FAQs about the rra newsgroups since 1923, when Hiram Percy Maxim appointed me to the position of Usenet News Coordinator (Mr. Maxim was so farsighted that he acutally foresaw the creation of Usenet.) I have forgotten more about amateur radio than you have yet to learn, so I suggest that you STFU, as they say at League Headquarters.

5A7, LIBYA (Update). After some years of silence, an international team will activate Libya between November 14-28th. The callsign will be 5A7A. Activity will be on all bands with CW and SSB, and for the first time ever, digital modes on RTTY, SSTV and PSK plus another first will be FM. The goals of the Dxpedition are:
* To support the development of ham radio in Libya
* To activate a rare country on all bands and modes including the digital modes and FM

* To provide more than 50,000 QSOs
* To take part in CQWW DX CW Contest as a Multi/Multi entry
* To activate a new prefix - 5A7
* To set the focus on "long distance DX" like W6/7, JA, VK, etc.
* To provide lowbands contacts
The international team operators are: Andy/DJ7IK (Team Coordinator), Mustapha/DL1BDF, Dominik/DL5EBE, Gunter/DJ9CB, Ruth/IT9ESZ (YL-operations), David/K3LP, Manfred/DK1BT, Volkmar/DF2SS, Andy/DL5CW, Andi/DL9USA, Markus/DJ7EO, Jan/DJ8NK, Franz/DF6QV, Rein/PA0R, Willy/HB9AHL, Franz/DK1II, Pirmin/HB9DTE, Jurgen/DJ2VO, Dieter/DL3KDV, Frank/DL8YHR, Andy/DL5CW, Rudi/DK7PE, Mitch/VE6OH, Krassy/K1LZ and their local friends Haytem/5A1HA (ASSAKR Club Coordinator) and Tarek/5A1TA. The Bureau QSL cards will be processed very last after the direct requests are processed. For updates and more info, please see the following Web page at: http://5a7a.gmxhome.de

5C, MORROCCO. M'hamed, CN8NK, will be active in the IARU Radiosport World Championship Contest (July 8-9th) using the special callsign 5C8A. He will also represent Morrocco as a headquarter station.

DXCC NEWS.....
New DXCC Entity -- ARLD026 Montenegro is the newest ARRL DXCC entity:
"A new ARRL DXCC entity has come into being! As expected, the United Nations admitted the Republic of Montenegro as its 192nd member June 28, and that action automatically makes the tiny Balkan nation the 336th current DXCC entity.
'According to the ARRL DXCC List criteria, entities on the UN list of member-states qualify as political entities,' said ARRL Membership Services Manager Wayne Mills, N7NG. 'Therefore, effective June 28, 2006 (UTC), ARRL has added The Republic of Montenegro to the DXCC List. Claims for DXCC credit will be accepted immediately.'
Current Montenegrin radio amateurs reportedly may continue using their YU/YT/YZ/4O/4N-prefix callsigns until the International Telecommunication Union designates a new callsign block for the new country.
In anticipation of Montenegro's new nation status, the International DX Festival Montenegro, with information on the web at, http://www.yu6scg.cg.yu/international-dx-festival.html, has been set for July 20 until August 12. That's when several international operators will join forces with Montenegrin Amateur Radio operators from at least three different stations using a common callsign in an effort to meet the DX community's need to work the newest DXCC Entity. Festival organizers have set the ambitious goal of 200,000 contacts for the event, which will use all HF bands.
Montenegro declared its independence on June 3 following a national referendum May 21."

ARRL Membership Services Manager Wayne Mills, N7NG, reports that the ARRL "DXCC Dialog" blog debuted on June 26th. He mentions that the "DXCC Dialog Weblog" -- contains news and notes about the ARRL DXCC program. "This page will have up-to-date information about the DXCC program," says Wayne Mills, N7NG. "It does not provide for users to post responses, but authors and e-mail addresses are listed." The blog will be updated as needed to inform and update the DXing community regarding news of interest. DXCC Dialog Weblog is available at: http://www.arrl.org/blog/DXCC%20Dialog

DXCC Fee Increase Reminder! ARRL Membership Services Manager Wayne Mills, N7NG, wants to remind everone: "The new DXCC fee schedule will go into effect on July first. Applications received at the DXCC Desk by Friday afternoon, June 30th, will be processed under the existing fee schedule. Applications which have not reached the DXCC Desk by June 30th will be processed under the new fee schedule." The new DXCC fee schedule is available at: http://www.arrl.org/news/stories/2006/05/23/3/fees-06Jul.html

E5, NORTH AND SOUTH COOK ISLANDS. Victor, ZK1CG/ZK1USA (now as of July 1st E51CG and E51USA), reports that the callsign change from ZK1 for the North and South Cook Islands was officially announced in the local newspaper "Cook Islands News Daily" on Monday, June 28th: "Please be advised that as of 1, July 2006 UTC the International Cook Islands Radio Callsign prefix ZK (Zulu Kilo) will be replaced with E5 (Echo Five). This will mean that if your callsign is currently ZKR (Zulu Kilo Romeo) it will now be E5R (Echo Romeo). Please note that only the first two characters will change, the remainder will remain as is. If you require further clarification please contact radio licensing division at 29680 during working hours." Paper's Web page is: http://www.cookislandsnews.com So, current callsigns ZK1CG and ZK1USA and ZK1JD will now change to E51CG, E51USA and E51JD. Victor mentions that the local amateur radio operators normally get a 2 letter suffix callsign, while visiting Ham operators get a 3 letter suffix callsigns. Over the past weekend, Jim, E51JD, was heard on 20/15 meters SSB, while Victor, E51CG, was heard on 10 meters SSB.

FM, MARTINIQUE. Sido, F4CKP, will be here for 2 months from July 3rd and until end of August. His activity will be on 80-10 meters including the WARC bands on RTTY and SSB. He will use a FT-897 into a Cushcraft vertical and a G5RV antenna. QSL direct via his home callsign or by the bureau.

FR5/E, EUROPA. Luc, FR5IZ, will be active as FR5IZ/E from Europa (AF-009, DIFO FR-003) from July 4-6th. He will be using a FT-897 (w/100w) into a doublet antenna. QSL via the French Bureau (REF-Union du Ref) or direct to FR5IZ address via QRZ.com. LAST NOTE: "The DAILY DX" reports that Luc is here on a work assignment, and will be active only during his free time. Look for him mainly on 20/12/10/6 meters and possibly 17 meters.

GB5, ENGLAND. The RSGB HQ station GB5HQ will be active in the IARU Contest (July 8-9th). This year, look for ten GB5HQ stations (with 30+ operators) to be active and located around the country. There is a series of free GB5HQ Awards for the 2006 event available, and they are managed by John, G3LZQ. More details about the awards and station locations can be found at the following Web site: http://www.gb5hq.com
QSL via G3TXF direct (QRZ.com) or through the RSGB bureau to GB5HQ.

HC8, GALAPAGOS ISLANDS. Trey, N5KO, and other operators will be active as HC8N during the CQWW DX CW Contest (November 25-26th) as Multi/Multi entry. QSL via W5UE.

HI3, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC. Mark, KB2MS, will be active as HI3/KB2MS from Puerto Plata, starting July 28th until about August 23rd. Activity will be on all bands except 160m. QSL via his home callsign.

IOTA NEWS.....
AS-076. Koyo, JA5BEX, was expected to be active as JA5BEX/5 this past weekend from Oshima Island (JIIA AS-076-003), JA5 Shikoku Island group, Kagawa Pref. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

EU-011. Dom, M1KTA, will activate St. Agnes Island as M1KTA/p between July 28th and August 4th. His activity will include an entry in the RSGB IOTA Contest on all bands CW/SSB. There is also the possibility that Dom might activate St. Mary's, Tresco or Bryher islands during the same weekend. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

EU-016. Branko/9A7YY and Antonio, 9A/K6LKH, will activate (depending on sea condition) Brusnik Island, July 8-9th. Other reference numbers are: All Croatian Island Award ACIA-800 and Mediterranian Island Award MC-047.

EU-030. Klaus, DJ4JI, will be active as OZ/DJ4JI from Bornholm Island (BO-001 for the Danish Islands Award, WLOTA LH-2203), September 3-13th. Activity will be on 80/40/20 meters, SSB only with a Swan 350 (400 watts). QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

EU-031. Operators John/IK8LIU, Franco/IK8WEJ, Enzino/IK8YTG, Giovanni/IW7DOL, Luigi/IW8EQS, Orlando/IW8FCA, Simone/IZ0BTV, Marco/IZ7DOK, Oreste/IZ8EDJ and Francesco/IZ8EQF will activate Licosa Island (I.I.A. SA 001, D.C.I. SA 028 and ARLHS ITA 089) on July 9th. Operators will sign homecall/P. QSL via their home callsigns. Watch for more info at:
http://www.strangeradioteam.com

EU-034. Frank, DL1FT, will be active as ES0FTZ from Saaremaa Island (WLOTA LH-1401), July 4-14th. Activity will be on 40/20/10 meters SSB. QSL via DL1FT. More information is available at:
http://www.funkexpedition.de/estland/index.html

NA-144. Six operators will activate Santa Cruz Island July 27-30th. Their activity will include the IOTA Contest (July 29-30th). Operators mentioned are: Ray/N6VR, Jim/N6KZ, Fred/N6AWD, Jim/ WB9AWX, Vic/KI6VC and Sreven/WA6SC. They will use the callsign N6VR/P for the IOTA Contest and their home callsigns at other times. They will have three stations active: one on the WARC bands and two for the other bands. During the contest they will use a tri-band yagi for SSB and amplifier and a vertical on CW. QSLs for N6VR and N6AWD go to N6AWD; all others go directly to the operator's home address.

OC-130. Peter, DK2PR, reports he will operate as DU9/DK2PR from the Island of Mindanao, between July 28th and August 15th. This will be a holiday style operation. A side trip to islands in the OC-235 group are possible, but it depends on the local situation.

SA-055. Members of the Radio Club Argentino will be operating as LR4D from Martin Garcia Island, July 6-9th. They will take part in the IARU HF World Championship as HQ station for Argentina. QSL via LU4AA.

IS0, SARDINIA. Simone, IW5EDI, will be active as IS0/IW5EDI from the northeastern part of Sardinia Island (EU-024), now through July 7th. Activity will be on HF bands (mainly of 20 meters). QSL via the Bureau. For more info, visit: http://www.iw5edi.com

KH0, MARIANA ISLANDS. Operators Nao/JK1FNL, Jim/7K4QOK and Takky/JE1KUC will be active from Saipan, Nothern Mariana Islands (OC-086), July 7-10th. They will operate as NA8O/KH0 (JK1FNL), KG8RP/KH0 (7K4QOK) and N1KU/KH0 (JE1KUC), and be active on 80-6 meters. Also, look for them to participate in the IARU HF World Championship. QSL via their JA home callsigns, direct or by the bureau.

OP0, BELGIUM (Attention Prefix Hunters!). Look for members of the Royal Union of Belgian Amateur Radio (UBA) to participate in the IARU Contest (July 8-9th). Look for HQ station OP0HQ to be active on all 6 bands and on both modes. This will be the first time that the "OP0" prefix has ever been used. All QSOs will be confirmed with a QSL via the bureau. However, direct QSLs can be sent to ON5ZO (UBA HF Manager). The address is OK on QRZ.com.

QSL INFO AND NEWS.....
NEW IRCS AVAILABLE. New IRCs are now available as of July 1st. The Universal Postal Union (UPU) has redesigned the International Reply Coupon (IRC) again. The new design, known as "Beijing Model No. 2," was submitted by Volodymyr Taran, a graphic artist from Ukraine. Taran's design was inspired by Michelangelo's painting on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel -- "two fingers about to touch framed in a postage stamp, representing the notions of communication and exchange." The newly designed IRC will be valid until December 31, 2009. However, the current IRC is valid through December 31, 2006 (ed. Depending on who you talk to...). ADDED NOTE: The IRC will celebrate its centenary in 2007. It was October 1st, 1907, that the International Bureau issued the first International Reply Coupon. To mark this event, countries can ask the International Bureau to include a special overprint that reads "1907-2007: 100 years of IRCs"! Collectors, philatelists and future buyers will appreciate this added feature. The coupon is certain to be a popular collector's item at post offices next year.

Charles, S9SS, informs OPDX that his QSL Manager Gerard, N4JR, will be out of country. He will return home in the latter part of July and will catch up on the backlog of QSLs as soon as possible.

Nilay, TA3YJ, informs OPDX that she sent out QSL cards for TA3YJ, TA3YJ/4 LH, TA3J, TA3J/4 LH, TA3J/60, YM3ATA, YM3SV, YM75TA, YM21TA, YM3LZ/WPX2000, YM3LZ/WAE2000 and TC2K4J to the QSL Bureaus of Germany, Russia, Serbia&Montenegro and Ukraine by registered mail on June 27th, 2006.

SPECIAL EVENT. The International Shortwave League (ISWL), continues with their 60th (Diamond) Anniversary celebrations throughout the month of July. Look for the following special station to be active:
July 5th - GB6SWL will be active for 1 day from Dagenham, Essex. John, M0HEM, will be the operator.
July 8-9th and 12th - GB6SWL will be active for 3 days from Walton on the Naze, Essex. Herbie, G6XOU, will be the main operator.
July 15-16th - GB6SWL will be active for 2 days from Bagulay, Manchester. Ron, G6BMY, will be the main operator.
July 22-23rd - GB6SWL will be active for 2 days from RAF Macrihanish, Argyllshire, Scotland. Andy, MM0CXA, will be the main operator.
July 29-30th - GB6SWL will be active for 2 days from Walton on the Naze, Essex. Herbie, G6XOU, will be the main operator.
ADDED NOTE: The ISWL Club callsigns GS4BJC/P and MX1SWL/P will also be active throughout July. The ISWL Awards Program is open to non members for a very small fee to cover postage to any country in the world. Please see the following Web page for all details, including QSL information and Special Diamond Anniversay Awards etc... at: http://www.iswl.org.uk

SV5, DODECANESE. Drew, GM3YOR, will be on holiday on the Island of Halki (EU-001) and will be active as SV5/GM3YOR from September 21st to October 4th. Activity will be CW only during his stay; bands will depend on conditions and the times he is available. He will be taking his TS-50s transciever and wire antennas. QSL via his home callsign.

T7, SAN MARINO. A mixed team of San Marino and Italian operators will be active from the ARRSM Headquarters (Associazione Radioamatori Repubblica San Marino) during the next IARU HF World Championship (July 8-9th), with the special callsign T70HQ. Activity will be on all bands, both CW and SSB. Operators will be: I4FYF, I4TJE, IK3QAR, IK4DCW, IK4GNI, IK4HVR, IK4MGP, IK4MGX, IK4SXJ, IK4UNH, IK4WMH, IZ4AKS, T77C, T77CD, T77EB and T77GO. Also, expect some activity by operators before the contest as T70A. QSL via T70A, via Bureau or direct. A special QSL for the event will be printed. Further information can be found at:

http://www.ir4m.it/english/index.htm

VE1, CANADA (IOTA Ops). Len/VE9MY and Linda/VE9GLF will be vacationing in Nova Scotia during the week of July 16th. They plan to activate a few IOTAs in the Nova Scotia Island groups (NA-081, NA-126, NA-127 and NA-154) during their week stay, but have not determined at this time the sequence of activation. They will also try to activate new Canadian Islands whenever possible and any lighthouses that are accessible. Operations will be mobile or portable with 100 watts, on 20 and 40 meters. QSL via their home callsign, by the bureau or direct.

XX9, MACAO. Members of the Associacao dos Radioamadores de Macau (ARM) will be active as XX9A as a HQ station during the IARU HF World Championship. There will be four stations operating from Taipa Island (AS-075). QSL via XX9BB.

YI, IRAQ. Carlos, N4THW, informs OPDX that he is in Iraq for the next four months on a military air base. He states that he has already applied for YI license and is expected to be on the air soon. He may sign YI/N4THW if the military gives him approval. Carlos plans to be on all bands 80-10 meters including the WARC bands. He currently is looking (for help) to find a good radio and antenna. Right now all he has is an old military HF radio w/100 watts into a G5RV dipole.

YJ, VANUATU. Remember to look for Tommy, VK2IR, to be active as YJ0IR from New Hebrides (OC-035) between July 3-15th. His activity will be on 80/40/20/17/15/12/10 meters SSB depending on conditions. QSL via W3HNK.

YR0, ROMANIA. Look for YR0HQ to participate in the 2006 IARU World Wide Championship Contest (July 8-9th) as an IARU Member Society HQ Station representing the Romanian Amateur Radio Federation (FRR). All the contacts will be confimed by eQSL and LoTW. Please note, an award, free of charge, will be issued to all those who will prove at least 3 contacts with YR0HQ during the contest. For 6, 9 or 12 contacts, the award could be printed for different classes (3rd, 2nd, 1st or Extra Class) in accordance with the number of contacts, but only one single award is given. The application, along with the log extract, should be sent to one of the following addresses. By mail to: FRR, YR0HQ Award, BOX 22-50, RO-014780 BUCURESTI 22, ROMANIA. By e-mail to: adrian.sinitaru@electricaserv.ro

Z2, ZIMBABWE. World-wide traveler Vladimir, UA4WHX, continues to be active as Z2/UA4WHX. He was heard this past weekend on 80/40/30/20/17 meters CW. There were a few SSB QSNs on 20/17 meters. The length of his stay or where he goes next is unknown. QSL via UA4WHX.

ZA, ALBANIA (LH, WW Loc. and IOTA Ops). A group of four Italian operators will be here between July 7-17th. Activity will be on all bands HF and VHF, CW, SSB, PSK31 and RTTY. They also plan to activate lighthouses, WW Loc.'s and be in the upcoming contests for HF/VHF (IARU HF World, Six Club Contest and CQ World-Wide VHF Contest). Operators mentioned are: Giuseppe/I2AZ, Pino/I8YGZ, Alfredo/IK7JWX and Giancarlo/IK7QMJ. All plan to sign

ZA*/homecall. The group is currently waiting for permission to activate Sazan Island (EU-169) plus the lighthouses on the island. QSL via their home callsigns (via the ARI Bureau or direct using the QRZ.com address).

They cheapened the license, now nobody decent wants to get one and the FCC is still thinking of dumbing it down even more. Pretty soon it will be just CB'ers, lids, and retards that get licensed because testing will get dumbed down to the point even they can get an extra, then the rest of us will have to listen to bands that sound like 11 meters.

Just exactly what are you trying to babble out now? Having more qualified hams will kill the service? An amateur radio license isn't worth enough that you should have to work for it? License candidates are lazy and won't work to get a license?

Please babble to us how requiring more proficient amateurs will kill ham radio.

It would probably reduce the total number of hams. But those who just want to buy a radio, plug it in and yell at people can still buy a CB set from RatShack.

Usenet itself doesn't matter any more and is slowly going the way of the dinosaurs. Look at these newsgroups as an example of why real radio discussion is carried on elswhere. People like Mark are like the squatters which still inhabit an otherwise abandoned city.

Want to keep up with amateur radio policy and activities? You need to go to a web site these days, perhaps http://www.qrz.com or http://www.arrl.org. Have something for sale or trade? The pages of http://www.qth.com may hold the answer for you. If not, you can always go to Ebay.

Is there a specialized topic that interests you? Again, if you want to discuss something while remaining unmolested by the Mark Morgans of the world, you probably will find what you want on the web. I find extremely useful broadband information at http://broadbandreports.com that simply can't be found on Usenet at all.

Usenet is basically a wasteland which is very close to death. Even AOL realized that was the case and shut down its own news servers a couple of years ago.

Mostly misfits remain on Usenet, and they'll remain here until some admin somewhere finally pulls the plug on the last nntp server. Until that time, attention seekers like Mark Morgan will continue to provoke anyone they can into paying attention to them.

And people like me will oblige by making fun of Mark. It is, after all, what he really wants.

Lardass eats the leftovers!

Bird droppings survive space launch Wed Jul 5, 5:29 PM ET

HOUSTON - NASA's rocket scientists have a new appreciation for the out-of-this-world power of bird droppings. The orbiting space shuttle Discovery sported some whitish splotches on its black right wing edge that NASA officials said appeared to be bird droppings.

Shuttle lead flight director Tony Ceccacci said he saw the same splotches on the identical part of the shuttle about three weeks ago when Discovery was on the launch pad and laughed when pictures beamed back from space Wednesday showed they were still there.

That means these bird droppings withstood regular Florida thunderstorms, a mighty Fourth of July launch during which 300,000 gallons of water is sprayed at the shuttle's main engines, and a burst upward through Earth's atmosphere. During that launch Discovery went from zero to 17,500 mph in just under 9 minutes.

And still the bird droppings remained in place. Mostly.

Some of the droppings may have shaken off during liftoff, Ceccacci guessed. He figures the rest will burn up during landing, when the shuttle's edges get as hot as 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Rob Fergus, science coordinator for Audubon At Home, a division of the National Audubon Society, sometimes gets calls from people asking how to remove bird excrement from their cars.

"Usually they can hose it off," he said. "Apparently that doesn't work with the space shuttle. Maybe they need a bigger hose or Lloyd Davies."

Muwhahahahahahaha!!!!!!!!!

For those of you who may not be subscribed -

SUNSPOT BREAKUP: Big sunspot 898 is breaking apart, sending shock waves through the sun's atmosphere and radio bursts toward Earth. You can listen to some of the radio sounds at http://spaceweather.com . The breakup does not herald a major solar storm, but it does offer an opportunity to watch a sunspot in its death throes--very entertaining.

190. Suggestions for TR7 transmit problem?

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.misc
Date: 2006-07-07 15:54:54 UTC
From: AK <nomail@aol.com>
Message-ID: <itvrg.823019$084.209575@attbi_s22>
Source record: 33788

My faithful Drake TR7 (SN 3119/ purchased new in April of 1979) has developed a power output problem. The TR7 generates normal power output at turn on, but after a few minutes of transmission the ALC becomes active and starts cutting back the power, with the output shutting down to a fraction (1/10th) of normal power. It appears to continue to work (CW, SSB, and psk), but the reflected power jumps up (suggesting out-of-band energy). The antenna is not the problem. I have checked the transmit relay, cable and board connections, and switch contacts. All appear to be OK and not contributing to the output problem. Running reduced power (25 watts) slows down the ALC coming on a little, but not for long. The TR7 receiving is stable and normal for all modes and all bands. The problem is not band related either.

Has anyone seen this problem or have an idea what is going on?

Any suggestions on the best place to get it repaired?

Andy, K4YKZ

You've repeatedly tried to imply that English Common Law was the only valid law. Ergo you obviously DO care.

I can dig some of those posts up and rub your nose in those too, if you care.

Jim Miccolis has "opposed" me before.

So has Hans.

And a whole host of others.

The only ones who don't get so-labled are those who have obviously

About your WHAT...?!?!

What's an "mperant"...?!?!

This taunt coming from a putz who keeps readdressing these posts to a non-germane newsgroup!

"No, you don't"....what...?!?!

> > > yes I do

You are not a degreed person, Morkie.

Until you provide some reference to an established educational institution that can be verified, each and every time you insist that you have a college degree you're simply lying.

It really is THAT simple.

> > > > Not a single one.

It's not libel if it's true.

Go ahead...Take a head-to-toe picture of yourself holding today's "USA Today" paper and post it here.

Do it...Prove me wrong.

Make an excuse, prove me right.

Fatboy.

not have a ollege degree from any institution at any degree level in any discipline"

I doubt you "attenedd: school anywhere.

I imagine you were kept at home...Much like Oswald Cobblepot.

Nope.

YOU have insisted that YOU have college degrees.

YOU refuse to identify by whom.

I am using PUBLIC RECORDS to prove you a liar.

So far. it's working!

You're right about that. I don't obsess like you think I do.

I've not turned up much, and I doubt I ever will.

You're lying about your degrees.

Period.

HOW do you think telling us what your college degrees are is going to do to "stalk" you, Mork?

I already know what you look like, where you live, and a whole host of other information I am sure you'd rather I not know.

You won't "identify" you college degrees since you CAN'T. You don't have any.

Yetr another untruth, Morkie.

You continue to make "unwise statements" to this very day.

For example..."I have three college degrees" is one of them.

There you go again.

I am sure I can. Just love making fun of an idiot who says he has three college degrees yet can't demonstrate the skills or knowledge of a 3rd grade education.

Asked but avoided.

Nothing I say about you is "libel"...It's not libel because it's true.

Nope.

YOU have proven that your asserions of multiple college degrees was a lie, Mork.

> > But I guess that's too much for you.

But obviously not smart enough to keep from making a fool out of yourself, Mork.

You're doing THAT very well!

I am doing just fine.

So far...You're the loser I have always claimed.

As for a "life"...I see that you're still wasting the whole day in RRAP.

Nope.

You claimed you have college degrees.

You won't prove it.

You can't.

It has everything to do with you making up tales about things you allegedly did.

In other words...More lying on your part.

YOU are the one with a problem.

THIS argument is only two MONTHS old. Not "years back", fatboy!

No, you've not.

It's not what I "like", Mork...It's just yet another example of your incompetence with the language.

Sure you do! You repeatedly claim that you are perfectly competent with English grammar, construction and comprehension when it's PAINFULLY clear that you are none of that!

In the foregoing you accused me of not being familiar with teh concept of time.

This is the third time you've responded to the fact that this is an argument that is only "months" old (not the 'years' you keep suggesting) with "so?"

You only serve to prove yourself a fool, Morkie.

GTE touch tone desk set. These were manufactured by GTE. If you are looking for a perfect telephone this is it. Line cord terminates in a standard, modular RJ11 plug.

My guess is that some transistor in the xmit circuit is going into oscillation, could be the transistor has gone bad, could be a resistor is breaking down, could be one of the cap's (feed back) is breaking down

If you're referring to Mr. Davies, I don't think the post was by him.

He's on a well-earned sabbatical leave from Papa John's and has gone to spend a few months in the contemplative life at profit Stair's monastery.

He'll be contemplating false predictions and "young colored girls" under the tutelage of none other than the profit himself.

I think Mr. Davies has been selected from tens of thousands of candidates to succeed the aging profit and will now become the new "profit in training".

Look for Mr. Davies in the picture files at http://www.overcomerministry.org/ - he'll surely be included soon.

Maybe there'll be candids of him meditating "out behind the barn" with Sister Tameka and Sister Rasheeka and Sister LaWanda and Sister RaShanda.

Too bad Mr. Davies will be out of town during Huntsville hamfest.

But I'm sure he'd prefer to be making false predictions with the "young colored girls" over a delivering pizza to a bunch of geeky old ham operators any day.

Construction and Use laws? Not sure what that is exactly in terms of American usage. But, no, there are no laws preventing mobile operation, so

No wonder everyone listens to the profit instead of The Great Liberty Net now.

Lots of fading here in MemTown but the profit's message is punching through anyway.

The ID of "jmackey" used in the header information below is NOT mine.
Someone either has a similar name to mine, or assumed my identity.

It is interesting to point out that once again Eric Oyen is involved in online trouble. Eric has been a LOOONG time generator of problems online in usenet groups and he has a proven track record of usenet forgeries.

Eric is a well known pathetic trouble maker.

Yeah, I must have my "Mark Morgans" mixed up.

I thought you were referring to the Mark Morgan who posted a recent request

Bzzzzttt....wrong. The problem is the old farts fought changes for so long that the population got interested in other things like computers and Internet. I mean who the heck wants to learn old, outdated code in an Internet world. It's not "dumbing down" it's antiquated and not needed. Sure it's fun if you want to learn it, but why force people to learn something that is just not necessary? It's not. The change away from code should have been made 20 years ago.

Actually, you apparently don't even listen to 11 meters because if you did, you would hear a very quiet band. They've left for the Internet and cell phones.

I don't know where you come up with this stuff you have been spewing out lately, but you are grossly out of touch with reality.

There's nothing wrong with appliance operators. Let people communicate and communicate easily. This is the age of easy to use radios. Radios with silicon and not old, big, hot glass tubes. The world always changes and you have to learn to change with it.

So give up your buggy whip, get down from your horse, and learn to drive a car. We're not going to test you on animal husbandry as it applies to horses in order for you to get a license to drive a modern car. It's not dumbing down, it's just evolution.

No, please tell us how requiring code tests and more difficult technical testing creates a "more proficient" ham?

When code testing was 13/20 WPM and the technical tests were much harder, we still had all the idiots on the bands. Those idiots are not more proficient. You are simply ignoring reality. Do you live in a cave or something?

When you complete the paper, I would very much like to have a copy to post on novena.net. It would be used as guidance for recruiting new news group moderators with precisely those characteristics.

The claim was "more proficient", not "generally nicer and better able to get along with people". There will always be idiots in <insert any field> but a ham who can't copy code at 1 wpm isn't more proficient (or as proficient) at communicating under any and all conditions as one who can.

Someone who can do something is, by definition, more proficient at doing it than someone who can't. Requiring code tests and real technical testing (the current tests are a joke) makes sure that most of the people who get licensed are more proficient at receiving code and with technical matters.

no it does not

most of the people that get license tody never take a code test therfore they are not made more profeincent at Morse code even

No, it's your ability to understand the difference between "are

Activity will be on 80-10 meters CW, SSB and RTTY, including the WARC bands. QSL via K4KWK (QRZ.com).

NA-112. Steve, W3HF, will be active as W3HF/4 from Bogue Banks Island (USI NC-010S, Grid Loc. FM14, Carteret County, North Carolina), August 6-12th. Activity will be QRP on 40-15 meters. Primary mode will be PSK, with some SSB possible. Steve requests that stations who want SSB QSOs to contact him before the trip via E-mail at: w3hf@arrl.net
His equipment will be a vertical and a Yaesu FT-817. This operation qualifies for the APE (August PSK Expedition) endorsement from the PODXS 070 Club. See the following Web page at: http://www.podxs.com/html/070_club.html
There is also a possibility of 6 meter PSK and/or SSB operation, from either Steve or his twelve-year-old son Matthew (KB3JJV). QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau, or via W3HF/4 on eQSL.

FREE IOTA LOGGER. Paul, EI5DI, reminds everyone that the 14th IOTA (Islands On The Air) Contest takes place on July 29-30th. The SDI program by EI5DI is the only contest logger dedicated to this event. SDI is recommended for stations that will be in the IOTA Contest as a Single-Operator entry. Since SDI is optimised for IOTA, it offers many unique features. SDI runs on any Windows PC, and is free from:
http://www.ei5di.com/sd/sdisetup.exe
It is intended for SO-unassisted entries. It supports ESM (Enter Sends Message) in both Run and S&P modes, with internal serial or parallel keying - or external keying via WinKeyer USB (recommended) - see: http://www.k1el.com
Any problems, just send E-mails to: sd-user@contesting.com

OJ0, MARKET REEF. Members of the QLF DX-Team will be active as OJ0LA from September 8-14th. Activity will be on all bands from 160-10 meters and on modes CW, SSB and RTTY. Operators mentioned are: Bjorn/LA5UKA , Andy/LA8AJA, Morten/LA9DFA, Trond/LA9VDA and Olav/LB8IB. QSL Manager is LA9VDA. For updates and more info, visit their Web page at:
http://www.la8aja.com/expeditions/oj0la_2006/

OA, PERU. Just a reminder to start looking for Ulli, DL2AH, to be active from a few different areas in Peru. His holiday style operation will be on 40-10 meters on SSB and possibly RTTY using a FT897 + Windom + Sigma5/Force antennas. Look for him to use the following callsigns during his purposed schedule:

July 13-17th - OA3/DL2AH from Caraz/Huaraz
July 19-21st - OA2/DL2AH from Trujillo
July 23-25th - OA1/DL2AH from Mancora/Tumbes
July 26-31st - Perhaps Iquitos/OA8 or Puno/OA7
QSL direct to DL2AH or via the DL Bureau.

QSL INFO AND NEWS.....
Joe, W3HNK, is now the QSL Manager for the following stations:
*/FS5KA - All contacts after March 2006
PJ7A - All contacts starting 2006

HL0HQ QSLS. Look for QSLs to be sent out automatically via the bureau.
Activity by HL0HQ was during the IARU Contest.

QSL PP5WRTC via PP5VB: Barbosa, P.O. Box 13, Imbituba, Santa Catarina, 88.780-000, BRAZIL. Activity from Santa Catarina Island [Ilha de Santa Catarina, (SC)] (SA-026, DIB 05 for the Brazil Islands Award, WLOTA LH-2981).

Toni, EA5RM, reports that the S01R Web page has been updated with the late news about QSL card. You can see the S01R QSL card at:
http://www.s01r.com S01R QSL will be ready around July 15th, so direct confirmations will start very soon.

QSL YT6ML via DL3ML: Dr. Reinhard Bollmann Am Wildpfad 19, D-53797 Lohmar, Germany.

Jerry, N4JF, received a note from Andy, ZD9BV, stating that IRCs are NOT exchangeable at his post office or bank and requests to please send only currency for return QSL.

T8, PALAU. Operators Taka/JO2JDJ, Ryo/JG3DOR and Hide/JM1LJS will be active as T88DJ, T88OR and T80W, respectively, between 1300z, July 14th and 1500z, July 18th. Activity will be from the "IMAPC Palau Rental Shack" on 40-6 meters CW/SSB. QSL via their home callsigns. Visit Hide's Web page at:
http://radio-dream.com/t80w/

TX1, NEW CALEDONIA (Lighthouse Activation). Members of the Association Radio Amateur en Nouvelle Caledonie (A.R.A.N.C) will sponsor the activation of the Amedee Lighthouse (FK-0147), to celebrate the 140th anniversary of this lighthouse. Operator Sam, FK8DD, will be using the callsign TX1A from July 21-31st. The equipment will be 2 transceivers, dipoles for 80-40 meters, multiband T2FD and a vertical Cushcraft antenna R7 with 100 watts of power. Activity will be mainly on CW with some SSB if conditions are good, on 160-10 meters (no 6m). QSL via LZ1JZ: Tony Stefanov, P.O Box 43, HARMANLI -6450, BULGARIA.

VU7, LAKSHADWEEP ISLANDS. There has been a report that David, K3LP, is planning to be active from here as VU7/VU3RWO between January 15-25th.
Activity will be mainly CW and SSB, with limited RTTY. He will use 2
SteppIR beams with 2 amps. No other details were provided. Stay tuned!

XX9, MACAO. Hide, JM1LJS, will be here between August 10-16th. He is trying to renew his XX9TJS license. He states that his activity will start around 0700z on August 11th. QSL XX9TJS via JM1LJS.

YI, IRAQ (Update/Correction). Carlos, N4THW, informs OPDX that he is currently in Fallujah and should be back in Al Asad around July 20th. He reports that he received an E-mail from Baghdad, and his license is being processed, and he should have it about the same time he is back from Fallujah. We misunderstood Carlos last week about his stay in Iraq. He has been in Iraq for four months already on a military air base. However, he expects to be in Iraq for the next 8 months until his contract expires. Stay tuned.

Yup, points to Cecil for realizing this.

Based on similar turns of phrase in a private E-mail message sent to me recently (of the usual, unhinged, "I didn't ask to be welcomed to this newsgroup!" variety), I can say with great likelihood that the perpetrator of this forgery is the individual who posts on rec.radio.amateur.policy with the E-mail address "wussyroger@yahoo.com." I sent a complaint to alt.net and altopia.com in case they caught the poster in their logs.

It seems that we've really, really hit a raw nerve here among the unbalanced trolls who populate rec.radio.amateur.policy. They very much seem to fear the prospect that a new, moderated discussion newsgroup for amateur radio stands a good chance of getting created, one that will leave them behind.

I suspect that there will continue to be a storm of retaliatory forgeries for some time to come, at least through the fall. As I said previously, check the headers. If something appears to be from me, and is not from Novia/Newscene, then it's a forgery. Check also for misspellings, poor grammar, and obscene language.

Oh, it's a forgery alright, unless he doesn't know how to spell his own name. He spelled it correctly once, mispelled it twice, and none of the domains resolve. And the sender was not using his ISP, which is easy to find.

A little attention to details, checking of headers, plus google goes a long way folks.

Al, someone who passes a code test should be more proficient in code than someone who cannot pass the code test. That simply makes that person proficient in code, not necessarily a more proficient operator.

You may be able to use the code, but if you cannot use modern digital methods, use sat communication, able to handle emergency communication, able to set up digital networks and use them effectively, build modern solid-state equipment, etc., then you are not a more proficient amateur operator, you just are more proficient in code and that is not going to help us much in the 21st Century.

As I said before, PSK31 can be copied when the human ear cannot even hear the signal, if you cannot hear code, you cannot copy it period. So code is no longer the be-all-end-all. Modern 21st communication methods have replaced it.

If we are going to attract new people to the service, we need to get into the 21st Century and get the old farts away from the old code and tubes crap.

well I know can't pass a code test and I can use Morse code did a few feedto an pc for translation I have done the same (with code reader as well) to see if I could do that made a sweep in a cw sweepstakes (with

If they are proficient in code as well as other modes, then they are a more proficient operator. The more you can do, the more proficient you are.

Setting up digital networks may not be particularly practical in the early days right after a large scale disaster. Satellite passes are short and if you don't have internet access to look up pass times, you may be up the proverbial creek without the proverbial paddle if you rely too much on that form of communications. Even with the pass info, the passes are too short to be useful for handling very much emergency communication.

Yes it is true that PSK31 can be copied when you cannot hear it. However, it is useless when there are ionospheric disturbances that cause phase shifts (solar flares with the attendent aurora come to mind). This happens on a fairly regular basis. In addition, although the signal you are putting out is low power, PSK31 has a fairly high power consumption requirement since a computer is essential in the system. If you have limited power resources, it may not be a wise choice.

While code is not the end-all and be-all, it still has its place in list of communications methods. Let us go back to the auroral activity. The various digital modes fail first. Voice holds up a little bit longer getting distorted but sometimes still copyable. Code holds up a bit longer, being still copyable when voice becomes too distorted. Under auroral conditions, both voice and code fare better than digital.

Every single method has a valid place in the list of communications methods. Every mode has its strong points and its weak points. In my opinion, hams should be able to use as many modes as possible and that includes code.

The major drawback to code is that it requires people to develop a skill rather than being a matter of just slapping parts together. Heck, I don't any skill in soldering as I've soldered only about 4 items in my life but I built both myself and my OM PSK31 interfaces in about 1/2 hour each. They were two of those four items.

> If we are going to attract new people to the service, we need to get into

I find that it is the "old farts" who are doing most of the exotic activities. When I work PSK31, I come across many seniors working this mode with the latest radios and computers. When I work VHF/UHF contests and look up the call signs afterwards, it is mostly the experience hams that I run across.

You have let your disdain for the code blind you to its merits. As I stated above, EVERY mode has its strengths and weaknesses and its place in wireless communications.

Dee, the issue is that many old hams know CW, but cannot operate most new digital modes. But if I understand what you are saying, if a 20 WPM Extra Class ham only operates CW and maybe SSB is less proficient than a 5 WPM Technician that operates on 10 different digital modes. See the 10 modes is more than CW and SSB, that ham is more proficient. Then I guess I agree with you.

Your comments on setting up networks, sat communication, and digital modes show that you have little knowledge on either. For instance, it depends on the sat orbit how long it is useful.

If PSK cannot be used due to ionospheric disturbances, well then either can CW. Computers can be operated on battery or generator. You are going to need something to power the radio right? Does not take much more for a laptop and with digital modes, the power can be much less so there is more power for the laptop.

Your comparison of voice, digital modes and CW shows you have little knowledge of what you are talking about. I have personally used digital modes when voice and CW were not able to be copied.

Finally, I happen to like CW a lot. But I don't think it makes anyone a better operator for knowing it, you should not be tested on it anymore than any other mode. Yes, there are a lot of seniors using digital, but there are too many more hanging on to the old crap CW only and tubes.

The original claim wasn't that it makes him more proficient in everything, just that it makes him a more proficient operator. Being equal in everything else, but more proficient in code, makes one more proficient.

Is logic a lost art?

And, if there's effectively no testing, which is the current case, how do you propose that we get operators who CAN "use modern digital methods, use sat communication, able to handle emergency communication
...", etc? Wishing makes it so?

>As I said before, PSK31 can be copied when the human ear cannot even >hear the signal, if you cannot hear code, you cannot copy it period.

CW can be copied below the noise. Whether it can be copied as far below the noise as PSK31 can is a good question. With the amount of experience I have with both modes, I think I can safely say that CW can be copied further into the noise than PSK31 can. (You need SOME detectable original signal for PSK31 to work - after all, you have to be able to detect the phase shift. CW can be copied even if it's nothing more than modulated noise. And, if there are any old sounder

> So code is no longer the be-all-end-all. Modern 21st communication methods

It never was all there is, but let's see you use "modern 21st communication methods" in an emergency situation when all you have is a source of RF - nothing to modulate it with. Going to yell at the oscillator and hope it's microphonic enough to produce some NBFM?

>If we are going to attract new people to the service, we need to get

They said that in the 50s too - "we have modern communications like SSB - who needs CW?" ... yet CW still lives. I doubt it'll be a requirement in 100 years , but I also doubt that no one will be able to copy it.

Thanks for the memories. I enjoyed "the barrel" in the late '50s. No one who works voice on aurora will ever forget what it sounds like. Or forget working half-way across the country with 5 watts on 6 with a TV antenna.

The problem is that a lot of people think that all the "skill" operating takes is being able to turn the equipment on. Even using an appliance rig, it's easy to tell the appliance operators from those who have developed some skill.

I'll second that - from the old fart side. :)

And many of us know CW, originated some digital modes (you think not all, of them. We had working RTTY (that's digital) regenerating repeaters (thanks, Norm) before most current hams were even born.

Not true - the human brain is a more efficient detector than a computer sound card in some cases.

You can get a CW signal to anywhere in the world with a 9 volt battery for a few hours. You can't run a pocket PC on that kind of power.

And I have personally used CW when digital modes weren't even detectable, let alone copyable. So have many people who have used CW for extremely low signal work. Try decoding a PSK signal that's been bounced off an aurora. (The phase is constantly rolling - there's nothing for the detector to detect.) Aurora CW sounds weird (okay, it makes "weird" boring), but it's easy to copy.

Okay - the same then. You're tested on your ability to understand English, and to read the written word - that covers voice and digital.
Let's test for CW. Not "more", just "same".

I still hold to the belief, claim, whatever that knowing CW in itself, does not make an operator more proficient in anything but CW. I would even submit that some operators who only use CW are less proficient operators than a modern ham who uses many more modes and methods, including modern digital modes, to communicate. Follow the logic Al. Someone who is versed in more facets of Amateur Radio than simply CW is a more proficient operator. Yes, I guess you are correct, logic is a lost art.

No, desire does. Every amateur has their niche that they want to pursue. Forcing a CW test on someone does not make them have a desire to use it. In fact, forcing someone to test on an archaic mode of communication may in fact keep them away from the service and therefore they will never develop an interest in learning and using modern communication methods.

Al, you seem to have trouble reading. I never mentioned copying below the noise level. What I said was CW cannot be copied if the human ear cannot hear it. I have copied PSK when the audio of the signal could not be copied by the human ear. It's just that simple. All the BS about CW being the only true weak signal mode is well just BS. There are superior modes to CW and PSK is one of them.

Yup, if all you have is a source of RF and nothing else, I guess you are screwed. But that is not reality. You would have a real problem if you did not have a source of RF, gee Al, let's call it a transmitter and use big people words. I wonder why NASA does not have CW capability on the forces stopped using it? What happens in war if all they have is a

Yup CW still lives and it will go on for quite awhile. Forcing people to learn and use it is not the way to keep it going. It probably won't be a requirement in 5 to 10 years. I guess that is just evolution. Out with the old and in with the new.

Next you'll tell us that the sun rises in the East. Thank you, Captain Obvious.

Knowledge of any single thing doesn't make an operator more proficient in anything but that one thing. Should we have testing in TV techniques, simply because it's a "modern communications mode"? How about microwaves? Programming? Hey, there's one I'd go for. Let's be "modern" and make sure that hams can program the computers they're using for "communications".

No one said that CW is the only weak signal mode, but it can sometimes be copied when it's weaker than any other mode can be copied. If the noise frequency is higher than the bit frequency ... well, you know weak signal analysis, right? Or you wouldn't be discussing it, would you?

Oh, but CW takes MUCH less power for the same path than any digital mode, and CW is the ONLY mode you can use when the only thing you have is a source of RF.

>Yup, if all you have is a source of RF and nothing else, I guess you are

Until you have a radio with a broken voice or data circuit and the only thing standing between you and safety is your inability to communicate because the radio's broken.

Excuse me? They sure do.

You're comparing military intelligence to actual intelligence? They die. Soldiers have been known to do that in combat. The prime mission of the military in wartime is NOT saving the lives of individual soldiers, it's winning wars at the COST of the lives of individual soldiers. Why don't YOU "get real"?

>Yup CW still lives and it will go on for quite awhile. Forcing people

Neither is forcing them to learn electronics. Or the laws they're going to have to know. Let's just post ham licenses in stores and people can pick them up if they like. Just like they used to do with CB licenses. Why keep anyone from having access to a public property? Just let anyone buy a radio (no knowledge of how to even build a kit should be required) and use it. Those of us who want to learn something can petition for a new service that requires actual knowledge of something.

Actually, now that you mention it, that's a fair offer. If the moderated newsgroup is created, I will retire the first-time-poster welcome message service. Now, the moderated newsgroup itself will likely have some sort of autoreply to acknowledge submissions. But autoreplies to posts to the unmoderated groups would then cease.

So, if you want the welcome messages to cease to the unmoderated rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroups, express support for the moderated newsgroup during the Request For Discussion (RFD) and vote for its creation during the Call For Votes (CFV). Watch for these announcements sometime late summer/early fall.

Since this OP is the new sheriff he will need to get some spy software for his computer to spy on the newsgroups. So he need to find and load SPY SHERIFF on his computer to control all of us offenders...M.M.

you are the one that failed the class

I did not

CW currently stands as more imprtant than the rest of HAMradio combined for HF access

CW is not anyway near that valuble

therefore the current testing system is ilgoical

BTW to answer your red herring from another thread No one is proposing adding a test on digital mode

I am a new ham and will respond to this based on being new. I got my license last year at age 48 so I'm neither a kid nor a senior. I've been tested and scored at 136 so I'm not a genius but am far from a dummy. I mention these things to give a general picture of who I am and where my position comes from.

Radio Buff wrote:
> No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements

Although I see the reasoning behind this request I disagree. There are older hams who wouldn't be able to pass their license class test but who still enjoy participating in their nets and talking to their circle of ham friends. I don't want to be the one to take that away from a senior ham who is hurting absolutely no one by enjoying their hobby.
The fact they might not pass the Extra test means nothing.

Radio Buff isn't going to want to give up enjoying radio when he/she is older and can't pass the exam either.

> The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

I have no problem with this provided the exam is similar. If you want to raise the minimum score required while also increasing the difficulty level of the exam by 20-25% the combination will make it too difficult for many. You will kill amateur radio because there will be far fewer coming into the hobby than going SK.

> Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

Code should not be a part of the license test anymore than PSK or any other operating mode. There are so many different ways to enjoy and utilize amateur radio today that were not available decades ago that make code no longer a necessity. Mandating code skills is now similar to mandating slide rule skills for an engineer. It is an excellent tool and anyone capable of using it has a true skill. That said, there is nothing that can't be done by one without slide rule skills. They may be at a disadvantage at certain times and in certain specific locations and scenarios but for the most part the individual with the slide rule skills has no true advantage today as they did a few decades ago. The same holds true with code.

I do believe there should be a segment of the bands each license class is authorized that is reserved for those with code in their license. It just shouldn't be a requirement any longer. It keeps otherwise intelligent and capable people away from the hobby and the goal should be to bring them in not keep them away.

> Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

This point is pointless with the sensible approach outlined above.

I know you're right.

Hams just want to be appliance operators these days and they don't want license exams that will interfere with them getting to those appliances even though it means being less worthy. I don't see anyone modernizing like everyone says is happening. They just get their licenses and grab a microphone. What percentage of hams have a computer connected to a radio? Probably less than 30%. Hams don't want to modernize. Guess we just have live with inferior operators on the bands from here on out.
Then again, maybe hams shouldn't be required to be knowledgable or have skills. Requiring skills and knowledge is too old skool. Everything must be outcome based these days, even licensing. It ain't like we have to help out in emergencies or anything. It's Quantity, not quality.

Yes it does mean something. It means they're appliance operators. They pass their exams once then forget everything and don't want to advance themselves anymore or be proficient hams. They're not an asset to the service, they're just lazy asses with licenses and only want to operate appliances.

If I can't pass the tests, I don't deserve a license, or renewel. I don't get to operate if I can't qualify. It's that simple. You people think that if someone can't pass a test, they should get the license anyway.
It's a government handout just like how you get your welfare checks and food stamps in the mail at your project housing. Your Democrat party outcome based thinking is what is distroying Amateur radio and America.
Everyone is equal and if you want to excel and improve yourself there is something wrong with you because your not supposed to want to do that.

Quality or quantity? You people that want things easy always say requiring more qualified licensees will kill the service. You're against quality because it require you have to work a little. Well, If you ever need radio help in an emergency to save lives & property, and the ham operator you talk to on the other end is an incompetant retard, I'll bet you'd wished for quality then.

Yah, we can't require quality or skill for a license. I know you're right.
We gotta be like CB'ers.

all you want.

No, it's not pointless. It insures licenses will improve and will be valuable to the service. I know you would hate that because in another month you would either have to upgrade or loose your ticket.

Doesn't anyone else here want to save ham radio? I'm getting tired of arguing with the lazy asses. I hope some of you cared and want to help me save ham radio enough that you emailed this to President Bush, your Senators and Congressmen to press the FCC does the right thing for us:

No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements required for their license class.

The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

you got that right the point is that you want to kill the ARS becuase
it has eveoled

nope

I do hate the ioidea of yet again taking prevdeges away form operators that Have earned them I think een the ARRL and FCC learned that lesson year ago

Sure I want to save it

you don't

then do your self a kindness and stop you are not helping the ARS except for contuiing to prod the No Coders into pushing the FCC to stop the bleeding your kind hae created not bad but not likely since it will rsult in prevledges being taken away from those that EARNED them suicide for the service and will never be enacted by the FCC they have ejuected anything that takes prevedlges awayfrom people

Everyone saw me put a good-faith offer on the table, one even based on Lloyd's implicit suggestion. Lloyd swatted it away, even adding an insulting, bad-faith, counter "offer." Which makes me wonder what Lloyd really wants (or if he really wants anything, except maybe to argue).

And whether Lloyd wants to accept it or not, I will consider the offer still good for anyone else who wants to accept it in good faith.

Actually, that is another "Lloyd" who does not speak for me (I know his identity, BTW). As a matter of fact, I just got back on the net after some DSL modem problems and found the other Lloyd's response.

Bottom line: Your proposal looks quite acceptable to me. I am of course only one of the Lloyds, but I don't have any problems with a moderated group, because it will be a new group. People will be able to choose where they want to post, and moderation will not be forced on anyone.

Because the other Lloyd has attempted to reproduce all of the headers in my messages, I will begin signing my messages with PGP. Before the other Lloyd has a chance to spoof a bogus public key, I have attached the public key which matches the private key I will be using to sign future messages as Lloyd.

Since you have PGP, you should have no difficutly verifying any signed messages I post in the future. The spoofing Lloyd will, on the other hand, not be able to produce a validly signed message.

Cheers,
Lloyd the 1st

Anything I choose can be forged unless I sign the message cryptographically, especially since the forger is located at my own NSP. The PGP signature is unique and will have to serve as a unique identifier. I will change my nym to "Lloyd 1", and will continue to sign my messages with the key posted

Then dropping CW because it's old and no longer used is illogical. Not

I think that's one of the problems here. CW isn't just an operating mode - it's a language, and the test already includes one language, so testing for knowledge of a language isn't anything new.

There's NEVER been a test of CW operating mode, technique or ability - just proficiency with the language of International Morse. Since one must demonstrate proficiency with another language (English) to obtain a license, it's a matter of degree, not a matter of kind.

He's right, though. Anyone who ever heard K2SUC out of Nutley, NJ, would agree. The repeater wars of the 60s and 70s. The 146.715 repeater on Long Island in the early 70s.

We've had our share of pre-VEC idiots. But it was never as bad as no such requirement exists indeed if you can read then the question and answers are suposed to read to you and your aswers taken down

no requirement to understand english exists in order to be licensed Languageless? You MUST demonstrate proficiency in at least ONE language to get a license, even today. A code test is demonstrating proficiency in two languages - not a major step.

my opinion yes but also a fact Morse code is no more a language than Crillic is it is simply an alphabet

you can exchange a limited amount of info using the stand codes but you can say "do you walk or run by the sea" in morse to any one that does not speak or read english first you are simply spreading ignorance al

yes indeed although it easier if you do understand english not required not suree if you can take the test in spanish (or other ;lang)right off but if not now soon I expect it will be possible

> You MUST demonstrate proficiency in at least ONE > language to get a license, even today.

nope no such requirement exists not for techs not generals and not extras either

indeed you point out the way you can get a license without demtating skill with english if you simply memroize all the questions and answers their remains no requirement that you understand the content, that task is easier if you know english but not a requirement where is this requirement for lang skill in part 97?

> A code test is demonstrating > proficiency in two languages - not a major step.

expect you are never required to demostrate profiicentcy in any language at all and if you were 2 languages would twice one and Code is NOT a langauage

just an alphabet

Indeeded the ignorance of Hams that spread such tales have been one of the tools the No Code movement has been using against you

No Al, CW is a mode not a language. Are you seriously this ignorant?
Just about any language on the planet can use the mode CW which makes it not a language.

You people that keep trying to make CW something it's not amaze me.
It's not a god, it's just a old mode.

I think you have to refer to people like Al as "Code Nazis" as they want to force it on everyone, they try to make it into something it is not, they think code is a cure for what ails the amateur service, and the only way to salvation is through the code. Anyone who is not on the code bandwagon is unfit for the amateur service and needs to be eliminated.

"All hail the code!" - NOT!

Al, I am speaking 4-year-old English to you so that you can maybe comprehend the conversation. I would hate to go over your head and

Yes, I know your opinion. That still makes it just your opinion.

No more than ASL is "just an alphabet". (BTW, those who actually study the subject consider both Morse and ASL to be languages.)

>you can exchange a limited amount of info using the stand codes but you

Neither can you communicate with someone in ASL if they don't understand English. So? That still doesn't stop ASL from being a language.

That you don't know something doesn't make it the ignorance of others.

>> >no such requirement exists indeed if you can read then the question and

So if you don't understand English you can still answer English questions. Interesting.

I'm sure - you can. But one thing's for sure - it has to be in SOME language.

>> You MUST demonstrate proficiency in at least ONE

Stop arguing and start thinking. Your claim - that one doesn't have to know any language to pass the test - is nonsense.

>skill with english if you simply memroize all the questions and answers

In what language?

You can understand the content if you don't understand any language?
How?

Part 97 itself.

Which you are. You're just arguing, not thinking.

Again, your opinion, not the opinion of language experts.

>Indeeded the ignorance of Hams that spread such tales have been one of

The reason the FCC is dropping the code requirement has absolutely nothing to do with any "movement" or any lame argument like "you don't have to understand any language to pass the test".

Any language can be signed - but ASL is a recognized (by the experts) language. Which nullifies that argument.

CW is not a language, it is a mode. I think what is being confused here is Morse code, and in particular much of the Morse shorthand used in the CW mode (and, for that matter, in much of phone mode as well). Those ARE a language of sorts.

they are a jargon but they can comincate the rnanage of expression twith someone that does not share with the same underlying language that Al needing to glofiy his favortie mode chooses to over look it's limits (and prehaps it has no limits for him and can indeed express all that is required is getting the right answers down on the answer sheet

how the test taker manages that (other than cheating) is up the take of the test one of the options understanding the lang of the question is merely one or the options the best one for the ARS but for example MY wife did not understand some the question on her tech test using the fact I know something of how the test is asembled and graded she was able to fill correctly some of the ansers by looking for a patern in the in answers of the questions she could understand without this test taking skill (avarient of skill taught in some corners for passing other tests) she would not be a ham today

and yet she was able to help set up at FD this year and make some contact and has been able to devolpe soe of the skill needd in the ARS, enough to be complmented on her skill duiring reccent local emergency here in the area. i was busy geting theour aux power back online and adjusted to the loads I wanted carried and she used the radio (and helped by reading a a few reading fromt he station back to me as I worked on stablizing our household systems

My wife does not understand a great deal of the content of the messages she relayed, such understanding was not required in order to be of assitance

On her own she has slowly been feling her way into the preveldges offered by her license, amsuingly to those that know me she is developing some talnet for Morse Code and and has been making a qso's in that mode but due being still clumsy and a more than bit of test anxiety has been unable to pass a test that and the fact the tone the arrl uses gives her a headache and the ARRL will not alow another tone to used without the report of an audiologist (at a cost of about 2k) means she will wait tille the FCC acts to get an HF license like I am waiting

Can't you spell any better than that?

So, Al. Can you tell us how many receivers or transmitters have you built from scratch? Not from a kit, or someone else's design, but from scratch? Drew a block diagram that was converted to a real schematic one block at a time where you did all the math, laid out the chassis, cut and drilled all the holes and built the equipment all by yourself?

What is the biggest transmitter you've ever built or used? I'm a disabled now, but I worked in broadcast, and built telemetry equipment that is in use all over the world, and in orbit. Tell us, what can you do other than whine? Have you ever built a commercial TV station from scratch? Have you ever maintained a 5 MW EIRP UHF plant with a 1700 foot+ tower? Had the fun of finding parts for a transmitter that haven't been made for 15 years while managing to stay on the air?

I found CW boring years ago, and have some hearing problems so I said to hell with Morse code and got involved in the equipment design end of things. It was more fun for me to develop a design and built it, get it aligned and working, then move on to the next design.

This whole thing was started by what's called a troll. It was forged, not from the person it purports to be from. Many of the "responses" are also forged, and from the same person or his cohorts.

It exists to piss people off, get them riled up, and so the forgers can sit back and laugh at what they have gotten those in the newsgroups, who they consider to be idiots, to post as responses.

A ham who came from CB a long time ago, ain't a know-it-all, and doesn't care to tell you what to do, since it's your business.

3 receivers, about a dozen transmitters. Oh, yes, and the automation system of the Hong Kong Space Museum planetarium, the old Amtrak ticket printer, some software that's in use in over 50,000 installations around the world ...

But I'm not the typical ham, I've been a design engineer for a long time.

Never built anything over a kilowatt, but engineered some pretty hefty ones. (Ch. 40 in Waterbury CT, WWRL, WHN, a few others.)

(You remind me of an IBM HR department of old. They always wanted to know the largest program the applicant ever wrote. Someone legitimately told them, back when software was a few k, that he'd written a 3 meg program. It was a translation program with a 3 meg dictionary. You're playing "mine is bigger than yours.")

>Tell us, what can you do other than whine? Have you ever built a commercial TV station

All by myself, no. Ever build a planetarium automation system all by yourself from scratch (including inventing some of the technology - which is still, after 30 years, state of the art)? But I'm not going to get into a pissing contest with you. If you were mentally as old as you claim your body to be you wouldn't have started one.

Since I totally depend on 2 4 channel BTE aids, I can't receive CW that easily any more, but that's not a good reason for the FCC to drop the requirement. It's not even a bad reason. But when anyone can guess well enough to pass the "technical" part of the exam, the license isn't worth much.

He did grow up neurotic, because of his home life. His mommy sleeping until 4 P.M, climbing all over the poor bastards she brought home after barhopping, trying to break down the bathroom door when she heard Markie and his father taking a bath together when he was sixteen, the usual morgan perversions carried down for generations. Even the beer enemaas for that distended colon of Mark's that got assreamed so much.

Poor Morgan must have gotten so bored because nobody would answer his disjointed spam that he went to the Nim boards to stir up the white trash. Then they all followed him here. Sewage seeks its own level.

No offense, but only an idiot wouldn't have known that they would "spin up" people on these news groups, or any others for that matter. Your idea is possible, but I'd have to say not probable.

I was asked a number of times why I didn't have a degree in EE. When I found a problem, or saw something that needed improved I didn't just run crying to the MEs. I researched the problem and wrote up a detailed report. I found the way to correct the problem, found a source for any part we didn't already stock, and submitted it directly to the engineer responsible for that item. After a while they would just flip through my paperwork and submit it to be typed up on the proper forms, then sign it off. I had planned to go to college and get my degree, but my time in the Army threw those plans out the window.

Not really, but a lot of guys have never done anything more than solder a microphone plug to a cable, and then use those crappy solderless coax connectors. Actually, I'm always happy to meet a ham with some real electronics skills. I meet a lot of retired hams here near Ocala, and very few of them know any electronics. I hear the same I could through together a CW rig from scratch in an emergency, then they admit they don't even have an old ARRL handbook to look up a schematic, or any parts. One told me he would use parts from his TV set, that the horizontal output tube and a few other parts would put him on the air.
He didn't even know that his six month old TV only had one tube, and I've never seen a transmitter built from a CRT and salvaged, unmarked SMD parts.

Biggest isn't the goal, but a long term large project is always interesting. I always liked a challenge, and left the easy jobs for everyone else.

I never built anything like that, but I did repair some electronics for the manager of the planetarium at the Orlando Science Center years ago. I have worked on numerous industrial control systems, as well.
Sounds like it was a bit of a challenge. Good for you. :) My next couple projects are an electric gate controller, and a motorized flag pole, both with custom controllers with 100 MHz Ethernet interfaces so i can run them from any computer on my home network. I have about 50' of used TV tower in storage. I'm going to weld angle iron up two legs and use a motorized trolley to raise and lower the flag. The gate openers are a pair of used 24" sat tv jacks with a custom controller, a web cam, and an emergency open button that sets off the security system as the gate opens.

What about the people locked out by CW requirements who wanted to design and test RF equipment? Not the "I don't do solder" types, but people with a real love of electronic design? I've always had a severe dropout in my hearing that made it impossible to listen to CW for more than a few minutes at a time. I would end up with headaches, some that lasted for days. I finally threw in the towel and went into other areas of electronics. I wanted to learn microwave communications. Along the way I worked in Broadcast and Two way radio servicing. My last job was building commercial microwave receivers at Microdyne. They were custom built from base models for the customers application, on whatever band or segment they needed, and with IF and video bandwidths from 10 KHz to 40 MHz. In a place like that you would have thought there would be a lot of hams, but I only found about a dozen still licensed, and not one who was still active.

i hear you on the headaches I remmebr them from my teen aged efforts at Morse
amusing I listen I can lsiten to morse all day without a problem as long I don't try to break it down at all then a headache sets in a in matter of seconds and slowly grows as I try to process the signal

I can in fat qso in the mode using pc with a spectrographic display to allow me to look at the parts of the signal I can't read with the pc

There have been many people on the air thanks to a 6BG6 or similar.

Interesting idea, though - a CRT as a final with an inherent monitor.
I wonder how much RF output you can drive a CRT to. And, if you made it AM, would that be "focused" modulation? Or, if you were listening to the flyback, "high sing modulation"?

I'll take a stab - a Minolta projector? I doubt it's a Zeiss.

That was the whole idea behind the Tech ticket - minimal CW that anyone could get to in a few weeks and enough written exam to prove that you knew electronics. Anyone who can design or test RF equipment should be able to draw a few schematics.

There's the problem. "breaking down" CW is like listening to the letters someone is speaking. You don't break it down, you listen to what's being said.

RE,

The Mexicans just may refer to themselves as : Norte Amercanos
-or- Americanos del Norte
http://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Estados_Unidos_da_Am%C3%A9rica

The Cubans might call themselves : Americanos de Cuba.

Seriously NO Canadian would call themselves an : American [.]
- - - Even the French Canadians would say : Je Suis Un Canadien !

And the Argentinians, Chileans would most likely call themselves :
Sur Americanos -or- Americanos del Sur -or- Americanos Latinos

The Brazilians being slightly different would say : Americanos Sul

Only an American (USA) would Boldly Say :
I Am An American ! - and I Am Proud of It !
and so say i ~ RHF

Well at least your estate will get to keep your life savings. If you get sick late in the year, and the healthcare facility/hospital shut down for the rest of the year because it ran out of government money (a typical scenario in Canada), there will be no one to give you any care and you'll just die. But hey, your life savings will still be intact!
Is socialized health care great or what?

I am one
I try to operate as Good returning good for evil to point of course which you have croosed in your effort to promote the destruction of the ARS

well Fortran Pascal (I always liked that one) assably with ADA assmebly language Basci of course C at some level but not using much they may have added to it sincethen

but what does this have to with the future of the ARS

RE,

The Mexicans just may refer to themselves as : Norte Amercanos
-or- Americanos del Norte
http://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Estados_Unidos_da_Am%C3%A9rica

The Cubans might call themselves : Americanos de Cuba.

Seriously NO Canadian would call themselves an : American [.]
- - - Even the French Canadians would say : Je Suis Un Canadien !

And the Argentinians, Chileans would most likely call themselves :
Sur Americanos -or- Americanos del Sur -or- Americanos Latinos

The Brazilians being slightly different would say : Americanos Sul

Only an American (USA) would Boldly Say :
I Am An American ! - and I Am Proud of It !
and so say i ~ RHF

No problem. 4warned is 4armed. k35454.

Oh, he will. Mark is caught between two septic systems and wallows in both.
Does he want to spam Usenet with his inane comments or does he want to spam Nim Busters? Since nobody (with any credibility) on these boards has responded to Mark, he slowly learned that he was being ignored or avoided.
So, what is a spammer to do? He did what came naturally to him, and that meant that since the low-lifes had gone elsewhere, he followed.
Now he wants to bring his like-minded idiots back to Usenet and again disrupt it for the rest of us.
The greatest service any of us can render Mark is to ignore him. That, more than anything, seems to bug him the most.
Killfile the putz. Ignore him. Simple as that.

Listen at: http://www.ourmedia.org/node/247756
Background:
Tired of listening to Led Zepplin or NPR on your I-Pod? Wouldn't you like to be able to carry with you the kinds of ham radio conversations that you listen to while in your radio shack?
Mike, KL7R, in Juneau, Alaska, and Bill, M0HBR, in London, England meet regularly on the ECHOLINK system to discuss their homebrew radio projects. We are making them available as PODCASTS.

NEW RSS FEED: You can subscribe to the program, have them downloaded to your MP-3 player, and listen to them at your convenience. To subscribe, just cut and paste this URL into your I-poder (or similar) software. We've been having trouble with our Ourmedia RSS feed, so Mike (software wizard that he is) has homebrewed his own RSS feed. In order to subscribe to SolderSmoke, point your podcast software to:

http://kl7r.ham-radio.ch/soldersmoke.rss

If you don't have an MP3 player you can just go to the site below and listen to the latest program (and earlier editions) using the audio software on your computer.

I got nothing against CW, but being kept out of amateur radio for 40+ years cus I had difficulty learning the code, sucks.
Finally, I got enough right to barely pass the 5 wpm test. Still can't find anybody slow enough for me to copy on the air.
If I ever get good enough to use it, I'll try a few homebrew transmitter projects.

I expect there are some technically competent people who might be interested in amateur radio, but have no interest in learning code.

My Paul Schreck troll served its purpose.

For the last ten days I've watched as my New Sheriff In Town troll pitted you guys one against the other. To watch the verbal exchanges was reward enough, but to watch you guys argue amongst yourselves was the best yet.

You guys went nuts looking at headers while stumbling over yourselves to get "one up" on the other in the quest to figure out from whence my post originated.

The best part of this was when Paul himself commented that he would be posting complaints to my ISP for my sheer audacity. For what? I did not use Paul's name, remember? I used a name similar to, but not exactly as Paul spells his name.

Seems that stuffed-shirt Paul and his like-minded egocentric cohorts dislike being chastised, or worse, being made fun of.

By the way, Paul, I'm still waiting to see those complaints you offhandedly said you would lodge. Empty threats?

Sorry John, do some reading for once as that is the reality of the Canadian system. You'll actually learn something if you do research yourself and not just listen to NPR and CNN.

Now, on the other hand, if you live in the U.K., you'll still have healthcare through the end of the year, but if you are too old, they just let you die as it is not worth the expenditure to keep someone old alive even longer. But again, hey, your estate gets to keep the money!

Come on, this isn't really John now is it? Hillary Clinton, is that you?

John,

Just get on digital modes. Don't worry about CW. Digital is where the fun is and the copy is much better.

A buddy of mine in St. Louis and I experimented with low power and various digital modes last night on 40 meters. CW was marginal. The best was DominoEX with FEC - just about 100% all the time and it also has a second channel to display additional information.

CW can be fun at times, but maybe it's not your thing. Let the stone-age hams continue with CW, and move up and on to the digital modes.

MultiPSK, while a bit cluttered and ugly, is a great program you can use. MixW is cleaner looking and very good, but not as many capabilities in the program.

Move on and start having fun.

If you want easy...and most of the CW whiners do...why don't you just hook your laptop up to your DSL line and stay the hell off the air?

Jeez, you've got a pathetic joke for an exam now with canned questions to memorize and no code to learn. Too bad you're not still in your mother's womb so you don't have to feed yourselves. Though you have deluded yourselves into believing you are "hams," you are hardly believable when you wear that title. The only reason you have been able to slip through into the dumbed-down requirements and some sort of fcc "license" sham is because your appliance manufacturers that make your rigs and the charlatans like the arrl are selling out the hobby so they can sell you things.

It's ALL ABOUT THE MONEY and you no-coder idiots have fallen for it.

As for traditional, genuine "hams, we may be from the "Stone Age," but once the dinosauers became extinct the pristine landscape took on pollution and overcrowding. You simpletons have all drank the Kool-Aid and cannot see that you are parties to the eventual elimination of ham radio.

Thank God for "stone age hams," for at least there is someone still around that knows something about the avocation.

Well as a supporter of getting rid of the out-dated CW testing requirement, I passed my test 35 years ago and a 13WPM CW exam. So I am one of what you called a "genuine ham" but still have the intelligence to know that a CW exam is old, stupid and mostly supported by a bunch of stone-age hams who whine because they had to pass a more stringent test and can't accept that others are not having to study for and pass a more stringent test. Waaaaa, Waaaaa, Waaaaa.....I want my CW. Blah, Blah, Blah.

That is somewhat true. So what. Heck, what does a test even prove anymore? I can have 440 handheld family band transceivers with the same power as many small ham handhelds. I don't need a license to use those, so what's the big deal about stringent testing requirements for hams.
Test hams only on the legal issues and rules. We don't really even need the other crap anymore. It's not like we dealing with lethal voltages all the time like the days of ol'.

So what if it is about the money. You need money to live on right?
What's the matter with spending money to create jobs from manufacturing, selling, fixing, etc. ham radios. Maybe it's also about having experienced radio communicators in an emergency and a lot of extra equipment in home inventories.

> As for traditional, genuine "hams,

What is a genuine ham? Someone who knows CW? That's a laugh. Look at all the bickering "genuine hams" who passed that all important test and 13 or 20WPM CW and who argue and fight on the bands. Did you listen to 75 Meters? And I mean going back 30+ years ago? Your testing did not stop the idiot "genuine hams" back then now did it?

Yeah, you want a pristine landscape for yourself while keeping out the "undesirables" - you are a bigot.

You just don't get it do you. There are conditions for each mode that will make that mode "the best". Every mode has its place. That goes for voice, all the multiplicity of digital modes and yes CW. Last night you had the best luck with DominoEx. Another night RTTY might be better. Another night, voice might be more intelligible. Yet another night will favor CW.

Based on what I've read about DominoEX, it is a form of Multi-Frequency Shift Keying. This variation looks to be more robust than others, however, anything that can compromise FSK and MFSK has the potential to compromise DominoEX. It will merely be a matter of the degree of severity needed before it becomes unusable.

Just because something is old doesn't make it useless or stone age. Pencils have been around far longer and are still highly useful.

Actually it was a simple realization on my part that half the alphabet was the mirror of the other. i.e. a/n f/l e/t etc. When I had this epiphany I basically knew the code. All I had to do was learn to receive it which I did successfully twice, once for my novice and once again when I sat for my Tech before my novice license came. Passed both tests. Haven't used it much since. My choice.

no you don't get it

CW is in radio terms stone age, simol e fact stone does not mean useless you lack of ability to use english is worse than my problem with it you can't use words even though you can spell em

A stone club is still leathal does that mean the army should drill and train with stone weapons?
CW is obselete like HMS Canpous at the battle of the Falklands, like the Bowmen that fought with em in the retreat to Dunkirk .

utility does not preclude obselenece

LEARN ENGLISH esp when yo u lhave played spelling NAZI your self

Thanks Dee, you admitted that CW is not the best mode in any condition.
You agree that different modes work better under differing conditions.
I agree. That's why is it utterly stupid to test incoming hams on one mode of communication. Finally we agree on something.

Any mode can become unusable depending on conditions. The best thing is that some digital modes can be decoded when you cannot even hear the signal with a human ear. You just cannot do that with CW. With CW if you cannot hear it, you cannot decode it.

I agree. I never said do away with CW. I like to use it myself.
However, tube rigs suck more electricity than solid state rigs and are bad for the environment so old things can be rather useless or damaging.
Just like CW, it's not useless, but continuing to have a CW testing requirement is damaging and outdated.

Riding horses is fun still, but very few want them for the normal day to day transportation now. They may be useful still, but for everyday transportation they are no longer required. Horses are found more and more out in the pasture where the CW testing requirement belongs.

No that has nothing to do with whether it should be tested. We do NOT agree on that issue.

CW is a valid and useful mode but it is different in nature from the other modes. All the other digital modes simply require investing perhaps as much as 30 minutes in setting up the hardware and software to get up and running even if you make your own interface. So one can quickly evaluate whether or not they will like it. On the other hand, it is impossible to determine whether you will like CW until you have learned it, which takes some time.
Many people who might like it won't tackle it unless it's required as they will have a false impression that it is too hard since there are so many trying to get the code requirement dropped by trying to convince people it is difficult. It is not difficult to learn but it does take time. I've known a number of people who admitted that they wouldn't have tried it unless required to do so but now find that they enjoy it. It's rather like piano lessons. Every adult I know who took piano as a child has made one of the two following statements: a) I'm glad my parents didn't let me quit, or, b) I wish my parents had not let me quit. The very adults who, as a child, were glad to drop piano are the ones who most deeply regret it now.

That is true but it is not a reason to condemn CW. It is merely a working parameter that one must deal with. Besides one can run CW at a higher output without risking damage to the radio to often make up the difference. Keep in mind that if you include the power requirements for the computer and monitor plus radio that a 25watt output signal for the digital mode draws more power than a radio putting out 100watts of CW.

I have repeatedly maintained that each mode has its advantages and disadvantages but the anti-CW crowd takes its particular characteristics as a reason to castigate it. They refuse to objectively evaluate their "high-tech" digital modes for their unique advantages and disadvantages. There are times when a voice signal will beat the digital modes in intelligibility. For example, PSK goes belly up with even the slightest auroral disturbance yet voices, while distorted, can still come through. It will take a higher level of auroral activity to knock out voice in comparison to that required to knock out PSK.

A well rounded ham should be able to select his/her mode on the basis of conditions and not be limited to by the fact that they were allowed to "slide" on the code training.

Who says you have to stick to tube rigs to run CW? I know you know better than that. Tube rigs have largely gone away (except for collectors) simply because its much easier to deal with solid state equipment. Yet if one wants to run a legal limit amp, it's going to be a tube unit as they haven't come up with a way to do it cost effectively any other way.

I strongly disagree that a CW testing requirement is damaging or outdated. There simply is not sufficient data to support that point of few. An occasional anecdote does not qualify as valid data.

Again I disagree. That analogy is not really valid. A better one would be comparing it to driving an automobile with a stick shift. I personally feel that every one who drives should be required to know how to drive a stick. They often get better mileage than automatics as an experienced driver can do a better job of selecting the shift point than a mere gadget. More people might select stick shifts if only they knew how to drive one.

Unfortunately the anti-code crowd sees any rational comparison of the modes as supporting their position. I do not support dropping the code requirement.

Dee, you can disagree all you want. The fact is that the world is moving on and away from CW testing. Not the mode, but the testing requirement. It is just outdated and not necessary. If you want to learn it and then use it, great. The time has come to stop forcing an old mode onto people. We can debate the merits of CW all day. In 200 years, no one will be using it. It will die a natural death like all languages because the world evolves. Better things come along. And like many humans, you are resisting change because people hate change. But change is inevitable. You cannot stop this change and it is a change for the better even if you won't admit it. History will show the only way to save the Amateur Radio Service and help its growth is to evolve and change. Out with the old and in with the new. Those that won't evolve will fade from the earth just like stone-age man. Good bye CW testing requirement. Your departure is long, long overdue.

It's like riding a bicycle when you could be driving an SUV.
If you like to do it, then do it, but don't force others to adopt your particular favorite aspect of our hobby. There's room for many favorite aspects.

For communications capability under difficult conditions, CW cannot hold a candle to PACTOR II. For fun, PACTOR II cannot hold a candle to CW. That's my personal experience and opinion.

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction
ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.

Have I missed anything?

why do you lie

I'd love to various mode on HF indeed I oly use a mike half the time

oone can't "stick to CB for that"

but you can't face facts

nope

infact I as far as I recall I never rode a bus to school at all other than I did try a few times geting to college on the city bus system it took way to long and saved very little (but gas cheaper then)

Pray tell, oh wise one, from what source are you getting this information? You claim that this is a typical scenario in Canada, which is utter BS (= Bush shit), which means that it happens all the time. It seems rather strange that none of this seems to make the headlines or news.

BTW, I overheard this while I was visiting in Toronto and witnessed an accident: " Wow! The police and ambulance are much quicker here than in Atlanta".

Maybe they just don't want you to know the truth? Not surprising, since the government in CanaDuh woud fall if you ever discovered the truth.

Did the accident involve the police and the ambulance racing to the donut shop?
Maybe that's why they appeared to be quicker.

Sorry Blow Code, but you cannot turn back the hands of time. The 13 & 20 WPM tests are gone forever. And soon, the CW testing requirement will be eliminated completely. It's the will of the majority. It's evolution. You can whine, cry and carry on all you want about the CW testing requirement. It is going the way of the buggy whip, the Ford Model-T, dinosaurs, the carrier pigeons, and a host of other old, outdated, and unnecessary things of the past. Good Bye and Good Riddance.

not the majority prehaps it is the will of and judgement of those that are supposed to serve the bets interest of the people the best interest of the people are served but ending code testing and the code culture that has dominated it and sent it on a downword slide not certain we can fix it with NOCode but it will be easier to try

As it happens, I do think people should have to learn on a stick shift, but I don't support code testing. If you can't drive a stick shift, you can't drive my car, as every car I've had has had a stick shift and so will every car I buy in future. OTOH, every rig I've bought has come with a mic, and none of them came with a key. Now, I know you can get some QRP rigs that are CW only.

The point is, there is a very real chance that it may be necessary to drive someone else's car in an emergency, or even just to help out. What happens when you need to get someone to the emergency room and the only car available is a stick shift? It's no good saying that statistically manual shifts are declining in sales, as there are plenty of us who will never buy an automatic.

OK, maybe you can say that you don't own a mic, and all the rigs in your shack are hooked up to a key (good luck on the local repeater!). What then is the realistic scenario where I will have to use one of your radios to save the world? (or even to save the next door neighbour) Doesn't seem to likely, does it?

frankly you look like you are just troling or at best felling though somebody cheated on YOU in the latest contest

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction
ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

Now if SOMEONE could just set up an online shrine with .MP3 files of the infamous 14.313/14.300/3.894.5 wars of several years ago, the cycle would be complete.

WWW.HAMJAMMERS.COM

Free Audio Downloads From The Dark Netherworld of Ham Radio:

The Most Infamous Lids To Ever Disgrace The Amateur Service!

This website is devoted to demonstrating what an absolutely worthless, stupid hobby ham radio is.If anybody tells you that ham radio is fun, or interesting, or that you will meet nice, interesting people by becoming a ham, DON'T BELIEVE THEM!

Hams are the biggest group of whiners, snivelers, complainers and all-around no-talent losers you will ever meet.This is because the system itself is a veritable recipe for selecting dweebs and idiots with pocket protectors: Take a fat dweeb who has no friends or social skills and can't get a date; give him a trivial exam where the questions and answers are all available beforehand; and then give him a license and tell him he's somehow "special". Voila!
You have an insufferable, boring ham radio operator who thinks he's morally and intellectually superior to other people.

It's inevitable. Don't make the mistake of getting involved in this hobby!

WARNING: Some of the audio files are rated "R"! Your Webmaster cannot be responsible if you become addicted to listening to jamming recordings and you lose your job because you don't show up for work.

* PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work First Worry Later" (WFWL).

4O7, SERBIA. As of July 1st, the "World Wide Young Contesters" group has activated the special callsign 4O7WWYC (Four Oscar Seven) through August 31st to celebrate the 7th anniversary of establishing the WWYC club. Their special activity will be during the third meeting of WWYC members in Novi Sad, Serbia, between August 9-14th. Activities will include HF and maybe 6 meters, both CW/SSB, and an entry in WAE CW Contest. They were spotted this past week on 160/40/20/10 meters CW. QSL via YT7AW. Please note that this activity will be from SERBIA (not Montenegro as many may suspect).

Information about the WWYC's club and upcoming meeting can be found at:
http://wwyc2006.atspace.com
http://www.wwyc.net

5W, SAMOA. Operators Ted/K8AQM (5W0TR), Jeff/N8CC (5W0JB), Dennis/KT8X (5W0DW) and Kirk/JF3MYU (5W0KI) will be active from Upolu Island (OC-097) from July 27th to August 10th. Activity will be on 160-6 meters CW, SSB and RTTY. They plan to have three stations active, and will participate in the IOTA Contest (possibly as 5W0XX). More details, schedule and their operating frequencies are available via the following Web page at:
http://www.geocities.jp/jm3uml/samoa2006/index.html
QSL 5W0DW, 5W0JB, 5W0TR via KT8X; QSL 5W0KI and their IOTA Contest callsign via JF3MYU.

9A, CROATIA (Island Op). Look for Aniko/HA5TAA (ex-9M2/HA5TAA) and Feri/HA5AZZ to be active as 9A/homecall from Murter Island (Not a IOTA, ACIA IC-318, CIA-28, IOCA CI-074), through July 30th. They will try to visit as many Croatian islands as possible for the CI award. Activity will be SSB on their prefered bands 40/20 meters. QSL via HA Bureau.

C6, BAHAMAS. Gary/W2VQ and his son Paul/KC2NMZ will be heading to Treasure Cay, Abaco Island (NA-080), July 23-31st. Their activity will likely include a entry in the RSGB IOTA Contest (July 29-30th) that week. Paul tells OPDX that they will have 1 or 2 stations setup (100w and 50w). Operation will be on all modes by both of them. Activity will be on 80-6 meters, with an emphasis on RTTY, PSK31, CW, SSB and maybe some SSTV. They will using dipoles and verticals. QSL via KC2NMZ, by the bureau or direct.

C6, BAHAMAS. Peter/W2GJ and Jim/K4QO will be active as C6APR from Crooked Island (NA-113) between July 26-31st. Activity will include an entry in the IOTA Contest (July 29-30th). QSL via K3IXD.

DXCC NEWS. Bill Moore, NC1L, ARRL DXCC Branch Manager, reports that the following operation is approved for DXCC credit:
YU6AO - Montenegro; Operation beginning July 4, 2006

ADDED NOTE: From the "DXCC Dialog Weblog" - YU6AO is setting up an HF contest station and will be active starting July 20th with numerous operators for 10 to 20 days. Interestingly, this is the same date that YT6A has chosen for the start of the the Montenegro DX Festival (http://www.yu6scg.cg.yu/international-dx-festival.html). With so much activity, this should be a great opportunity to work a new one and even fill out many band-country slots.

FP, ST. PIERRE AND MIQUELON (Update). Paul/K9OT and Peg/KB9LIE will be making their sixth annual trip to Miquelon Island (NA-032), July 28th-August 6th. They will sign FP/K9OT (prefers CW on 40/30m) and FP/KB9LIE (strictly SSB, mostly 17/20/40m unless higher bands are open). They will try to run a breakable 6M beacon on 50.120. Both will be in the IOTA Contest as Single-Ops, and Paul will also be in the CW North American QSO

Party. Note: he just needs to confirm Alaska for his FP/WAS. QSL to their home callsigns, same address, either direct with return postage/IRC or via the bureau. Logs will eventually be uploaded to LOTW. No eQSLs. Visit the following Web page at: http://www.mhtc.net/~k9ot/

FR, REUNION ISLAND. Stewart, GM4AFF, will be active as FR/GM4AFF for one day (July 30th) during the upcoming RSGB IOTA Contest (July 29-30th). QSL via M0CMK.

GD, ISLE OF MAN. The "Worked All Britain Awards Group" (WAB) is pleased to announce that they will be holding a joint event with the "Isle of Man Amateur Radio Society" (IOMARS) and "The British Amateur Radio Lighthouse Society" (BARLS) between August 19-26th. This activity week was mutually arranged with the IOMARS to encourage new licensees to gain experience in portable, mobile and net activity. They hope that it will provide publicity for the Island and increase activity around the bands and generally promote an interest within our hobby. The Activity Week will coincide with the International Lighthouse/LightShip Weekend (ILLW) and a visit by two of the WAB Committee members, Dave and Judith Brooks (G4IAR and G4IAQ), plus members of the "British Amateur Radio Lighthouse Society" (BARLS). The "plan' for the week is as follows:
All three lighthouses on the Calf of Man will be activated on both days of ILLW event (August 19-20th) by members of WAB and BARLS.

Chicken Rock will be activated (Sea State permitting) on August 19th. All the major lighthouses on the island will be activated on the afternoon of the 19th; by both WAB and BARLS jointly. Callsigns of those taking part - GD0SGB/P, GD0VML/P or /M , GT4LAB/P/M (IAR and IAQ in disguise).

ALL 14 areas on the island will be activated during the week. Members of the IOMARS will position themselves around the island. More details will be posted on the Worked All Britain Web site at:
http://www.worked-all-britain.co.uk
Two new certificates have been produced especially for the event. There will be a "Basic Activity Week Certificate" stating how many areas have been worked and a "Premier Class Certificate" for all 14 IOM areas.

They all hope that the event will prove to be a great success and encourage newcomers to come forward to join in the fun. Please give all concerned your support by calling them. This may well become an Annual Event.

the air on 30/40 meters CW and 20 meters CW/SSB. QSL via HA1AG.

ISLAND NEWS. During the weekend of July 8-9th, Nenad, VE3EXY, was operating from the Island of Bonaventure (NA-177). Nenad informs OPDX: "The island itself is easily accessible by regularly operating boat lines, but the stay is strictly limited to the tourist season, and only during daylight operating hours of the National Park. I was allowed to operate for 5 hours each day. There is no electricity on the island, and I was allowed to use battery only. The reason is that the Island of Bonaventure is a bird sanctuary (Ganets colony), and they do not want them upset. I was not even sure if they will allow me to operate during daylight, and I did not announce my operation before. The island has IOTA designation NA-177, and CISA designation QC002. The call used was VE2/VE3EXY/p. In early evening (on Sunday) I activated the Rock itself (QC012) using VX2/VE3EXY call. The rock is connected to the mainland by tiny strip of land, but only during low tide (abt 2 hours). It is submerged otherwise. Even during the low tide, the waves may swipe the tiny strip of land which may put any operation in danger. 250 stations made QSOs with NA-177, and about 30 QSOs from the Rock (Pierced Rock)."

LIGHTHOUSE ACTIVITY. The Old Barney Amateur Radio Club will be operating from the Barnegat Lighthouse (nicknamed "Old Barney") in Barnegat Light, New Jersey, on Saturday, August 5th (rain date is Sunday August 6th). This counts for ARLHS lighthouse #USA-039, Long Beach Island NJ: IOTA NA-111, USI NJ-001S. Operation will be primarily on 20 and 40 meters SSB from about 1300-2200z. Visitors are welcome. A nice full color photo QSL of the lighthouse is available. QSL via N2OB.

MD, ISLE OF MAN (EU-116). Members of the MD4K Contest Group will be active as MD4K during the RSGB IOTA Contest (July 29-30th) as a Multi-Op entry. Operators mentioned are: Dave/G3NKC, Fred/G4BWP, Peter/G4MJS, Martin/G4XUM, Tim/M0BEW and Royce/M0RHI. QSL direct to G3NKC: David Sharred, Chestnut House, 510 Crewe Rd., Wistaston, Crewe CW2 6PS, U.K.. QSLs can be requested by the bureau on their Web site at: http://www.md4k.com/

OH0, ALAND ISLANDS (EU-002). Juha, OH9MM, will be active as OH0Z during the RSGB IOTA Contest (July 29-30th) as a Single-Op/24-HRS/SSB/Island entry. QSL via W0MM.

OY, FAROE ISLANDS (EU-018). Tom/DL2RMC and Katrin/DO3MSH will be active as OY/homecall from here August 21-23rd. Activity will be limited to their spare time but look for them on all HF bands on CW, SSB and digital modes, with 400 watts and a vertical antenna. QSL via DL2RCM, bureau preferred.

RUSSIA CALLBOOK. The HAM Radio Association distributes a Russian CallBook (English Version) containing detailed and updated information on all Russian HAM radio operators. It also contains:
1. Detailed information about the DX Expeditions which will take place in the nearest future.
2. Information about the diplomas.
3. List with names and addresses of Russian collectors of HAM equipment.
Should you be interested in ordering this directory, please write to:
zakaz@poste.ru
The price is 52 USDs, including the shipping to your country.

SPECIAL EVENT. On July 22nd, the Union de Radioaficionados de Estella (URDE) is organizing jointly with the City Council of the town of Lerin (50 KM South of Pampelona, Navarra) some ham activities, part of the Twin Cities partnership Lerin/Pompignac (Near Bordeaux) festivities. Among the Ham activities will be a flea market and the airing of the special callsign ED2HLP (HLP = Hermanamiento Lerin Pompignac = Jumelage Lerin Pompignac= Twin cities partnership Lerin Pompignac). QSL via the operator's instructions. More information is available at: http://ea2ccg.blogspot.com

SPECIAL EVENT. Members of the Club RadioAmateurs de Lanester (F6KPQ) will activate the special callsign TM0FIL from July 24th to August 6th, during the Inter Celtic Festival of Lorient (French Brittany) activities. Activity will be on all bands and modes. QSL via F6KPQ.

TF, ICELAND (EU-021). Tom/DL2RMC and Katrin/DO3MSH will be active as TF/homecall between August 24th and September 6th. Their activity will be limited to their spare time but will include an entry in the SSB Field Day Contest. Operations will be on all HF bands on CW, SSB and digital modes, with 400 watts and a vertical antenna. QSL via DL2RCM, bureau preferred.

V47, ST. KITTS AND NEVIS. Remember to look for Reiner, DL2AAZ, to be active as V47/DL2AAZ from the Island of Nevis (NA-104), July 20th to August 10th. Activity will be on 40/20/15/10 meters SSB and CW, with 100 watts, dipole and groundplane antennas. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

VP5, TURKS AND CAICOS ISLANDS. Look for Kelly/N0VD and Alan/WB9JTK to be active as VP5/homecall between August 1-6th. They will be there primarily for business but plan to be active during their spare time. N0VD will make a special effort on the low bands with attention given to the EU and JA sunrise. This, of course, will depend on the noise level. Both operators will be concentrating on CW with some operations in the U.S. general bands. QSL to their homecalls.

VP9, BERMUDA. Frank, K3TRM, will be returning to Hamilton Parish, Bermuda, again this summer for a short vacation from from August 3-8th. He will be operating as VP9/K3TRM. Activity will be on 160-6 meters, including the WARC bands using SSB, RTTY and CW. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau. Additional information will be available on his Web site at: http://www.k3trm.com/

VQ9, CHAGOS (Top-bander Take Note!). Larry, VQ9LA (aka WD0HSP), on Diego Garcia, announced this past weekend that he will be on the Island for one more year. He is now scheduled to leave December 2007. The company he works for won their contact and will be staying. During Larry's stay, he plans to get several things fixed (Alpha 99, FT-1000, VQ9X K9AY loop, etc..) and really clean up the shack (a makeover).

VU3, INDIA. Rene, DL2JRM, is now active as VU3RYO from New Delhi, until July 24th. Activity is on 160-10 meters CW with 100 watts, wires and a vertical. He was heard this past weekend on 80/40/30 meters CW between 1630-2130z. QSL via DL2JRM.

VY0, CANADA (IOTA Activity). Operators Mike/K9AJ and Bruce/KD6WW will be active as K9AJ/VY0 and KD6WW/VY0 from Nunavut (Hudson Bay - Quebec Coast) Centre Group (NA-195), July 19-23rd, and from Nunavut (Hudson Bay - Quebec Coast) North West Group (NA-156), July 23-26th. QSL to their respective home callsign.

Oh Brother!
Reality check time: Why don't YOU read a bit about Medicare D?
Aging baby boomers are about to be screwed in ways they couldn't even imagine.

Insurance companies entirely control Congressional debate and actually write the rules. Most of Congress doesn't even READ what they're signing on to.

O'Reilly, is that you?

We are hearing its 2nd harmonic on 27.112 MHz and the CBers are pissed at you for clobbering channel 13. Take the dam thing off the air or we will contact the FCC.

Mainly Markie leeches off of welfare and neglects the needs of his dying daddy. That poor bastard has to wait until Markie gets off the computer to even get a meal.

Quoted from http://www.lwca.org/sitepage/part15/index.htm

Yet another allows operation in a 14kHz-wide band centered at 13.56MHz, with a maximum field strength limit that works out to about 1.8mW into a quarter-wave vertical over a groundplane.

lying again steve
I answer one of the question asked

I could answer the other and said so no thread simple on pint answering of questioned

you instead turn and trun the thread into an attack threads

Still whining in that lisping, high pitched voice like the cunt you are, Lardass?

Lardass beat a hasty retreat already this morning and came over here from Nim Busters.

793. Looking for Eimac tube data sheets

I'd like to expand the collection of tube data sheets (mainly Eimac) at http://www.g8wrb.org/which has many tubes used by hams (and some which are a bit too big), like the

I would appreciate either paper copies (or better still electronic scans) of those I don't have.

Data sheets are several pages long (typically 5~10). I do not want the 1 page summaries that are on the Eimac web site.

http://www.cpii.com/eimac/catindex.htm or are reproduced in Eimac catalogues.

If you have a data sheet, you can upload the files (gif, jpeg, pdf etc) at:

http://www.althorne.org/php/

(then check they exist at http://www.althorne.org/up/ although permissions will prevent you reading them until I have reset them)

I'll then move them to http://www.g8wrb.org/ later.

The following page has a list of the missing / incomplete data sheets.

http://www.g8wrb.org/help.php

That list is automatically generated once/day and gets updated as new data arrives.

I'll reproduce that list here for completeness. I particularly want the Eimac Y799, Eimac Y808 and EEV CV6131, as either myself or someone else has an immediate need for them.

Here is the WANTED list!!!

PART 15--RADIO FREQUENCY DEVICES--Table of Contents

Subpart C--Intentional Radiators

Sec. 15.225 Operation within the band 13.553-13.567 MHz.

(a) The field strength of any emissions within this band shall not exceed 10,000 microvolts/meter at 30 meters.
(b) The field strength of any emissions appearing outside of this band shall not exceed the general radiated emission limits shown in Sec. 15.209.
(c) The frequency tolerance of the carrier signal shall be maintained within +/-0.01% of the operating frequency over a temperature variation of -20 degrees to +50 degrees C at normal supply voltage, and for a variation in the primary supply voltage from 85% to 115% of the rated supply voltage at a temperature of 20 degrees C. For battery operated equipment, the equipment tests shall be performed using a new

Oh, the irony, Toad. Your shitty blog shows off your Illinois education.

Like this:

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:

You forgot the four addresses he created as invocations of my deceased daughter's name and 2 or three using my father's name and callsign.

That makes 22 addresses right there.

Maybe he'll start using his "alma mater" e mail domain next?

And I bet AMSAT is real proud to have him as a member. I am sure they endorse all of his profane, inane and assinine psotings he's made under thier name.

Compared to you, Lloyd has a lot of relevant things to say. You're just jealous because even listening to his radio show, it was more intelligently produced than anything you ever said on the air. Not to

And the last comment was from a mommy abusing twat in his 50s who lived at home from the age of 38 onward until his mommy died a couple of years ago. A guy who had to take his amateur radio licensing exam over because of bad behavior on the bands. A guy who was repeatedly cited for flagrant violations of the rules and regulations involviing amateur radio. A guy who hid behind the curtains at least twice when visited by people who had a problem with his bad mouthing them in this group. A mommas boy who sat on his ass for years, lived with momma, and showed what a useless scum he is while never holding down a job or starting a business. What a loser!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

There you have it: Just start talking about fags, asses, or cocksucking, and Woger comes stumbling in stepping on his crank, with both cap guns blazing.

The Roger Wiseman Dictionary 2005 Edition

"Illarate" West BY GOD Virginny!
"Reveresed" Must be one of those off-brand keyboards.
"Soem" As in Some? What a looser.
"VIRIN" What Wogie was before he met the Lavender Lads.
"Minisule" Miniscule? Like his IQ.
"Champoin" No dictionaries in the mental ward?
"Anoinymous" A cross between anonymous and annoying?
"Acident" Roger's mom got preggers by "acident."
"Alreaedy" Alright, already!
"Amouints" Roger amounts to nothing.
"Aposterphe" A poster boy? Yes, for retards!
"Basios" A word Woger uses when he gets neeeerrrrvous.
"Behing" A cross between being and behind?
"Coiward" As in peeking from behind his mommy's curtains.
"Feamle" Female?
"Losser" Roger's the biggest loser.
"Ignroant" Typical, considering the source.
"Sluprs" Only Rogie knows what this means.
"Travelled" A Rogerism, replete with ignorance.
"Postss" Pssst...Roger..that should be Posts.
"Defgenerate" Well, it's Roger's word...
"Faity" He meant to say Fairy, but you know Roger.

"Ghet" Get a load of Curtain Boy!
"Distribiution" Roger likes using phonics.
"Biotch" He meant Bitch, but his phonics took over again.
"Methjadone" A West Virginia substitute for Heroin.
"Sumbliminal" One of Roger's favorites.
"Recepticle" Either of Roger's moist cavaties.
"Cociane" A West Virginia drug of choice?
"Tiome" Roger meant to say Time...but his fingers were numb.
"Beraking" No definition. Could he 'beraking' the leaves?
"Amny" He meant 'any',
"Nlay" A town in Maylaysia?
"Al;ong" Bushman word for penis.
"Becasu" Well, becasu Roger is not the brightest bulb on the tree.
"Seperation" Why? Because Roger cannot "seperate" from his mommie!
"Sisnce" He meant Since, but his pudgy little fingers slipped off the keys.

"gnetically" What?
"provce" prove?
"Piuzza" West Virginia Pizza
"Schol" school?
"strill" still?
"shoitgun" 12 ga or 20 ga?
"Snoip" How they spell "snip" in Glen Dale
"Maturbater" Wiseman does it all the time, he just can't spell it.
"Coskscuking". It's a Roger thing.
"Waddleing". Only in Glen Dale.
"Spaeaking" Curtain Boy was able to resume this after his second retest.
"Stgop" Roger's version of Stop.
"Fahter's" He meant Father's Day.
"fserting" Festering?
"poists" Roger meant "posts".
"snadwich" As in peanut butter and jelly?
"regualr" Wagon Wheel rendition of "regular".
"aftrer" After? Aftrer what?
"soory" Sorry, Roger fucks up again.
"didnb't" He didn't?
"whoile" He ate the whoile thing?
"Woamn" Woman? Man? It's all the same to Woger.
"prrof" And he can prove it, too.
"beforfe" Was that before he larnt to spell?
"yoiuy" Roger's version of "y'all".
"illerate" Only illiterate Roger can spell like this.
"haeart" Aw, how heartless of me to laugh!
"valule" Roger has no values. No wonder he can't spell it.
"proch" Doesn't everyone have one on their house?
"inmstitution" Where Roger's mom put him in June 1999.
"timne" It's Howdy Doody time?
"whgo" What? Who dat?
"crfy" As in, cry, Roger, cry.
"stutrtering" Some stutter, Wiseman stutrters.
"Whjere" Where is Curtain Boy?
"Webiste" That's Website to the rest of us.
"Youire" Your? You're? Who knows.
"fiored" As in fired?
"Parety" Roger gave a party once. Nobody came.
"Bouynce" Bounce?
"Varification" Verifiable mental case.
"Probelms" Poor Rogie has many problems of the mental sort.
"Partricipate" Oh, DUH!!!!
"Cryed" Cry me a river moron!
"Stoick" He meant stork. That's who delivered the parentless fuck.
"Partiall" More WV Phonics, I see.
"Obsucred" Either obscured or Rogie has "sucre" on his mind.
"Infinate" Stupid. Think finite, Rogie.
"Sustinance" As in Sustenance?

"Juvinile". This is the way Roger likes his boys.
"Piut" Put it where, Rogie?
"Toyus" Toyus R Us?
"Diminuative" Roger's height.
"Percriptions" Say what?
"Credibiliy" Credibelly - a kind of truthful coward.
"Thsoe" Yet another Glen Dale gaffe.

Hey Bubba, let's get a definition of "avatar"

Pronunciation: 'a-v&-"tï¿½r Function: noun Etymology: Sanskrit avatArah descent, from avatarati he descends, from ava- away + tarati he crosses over -- more at UKASE, THROUGH 1 : the incarnation of a Hindu deity (as Vishnu)
2 a : an incarnation in human form b : an embodiment (as of a concept or philosophy) often in a person
3 : a variant phase or version of a continuing basic entity
4 : an electronic image that represents and is manipulated by a computer user (as in a computer game)

It looks like Scheissman screwed up again, mwahahahhahahahah. Scheissman has many different incarnations and user names. Especially see under 2 or 3. That would define the Glendale white trash loser.

You are dreaming if you think your stuttering, stammering, bumbling attempt of a show (who has no listeners or guests) is relevant, Lardass Davies. Like when you lisped "Steve is not a Pedo" on one of your shows in that high pitched girly voice of yours.

The last comment was from a twat who beat his mommy after she caught him stealing money from her purse and was commited to a mental institution in Independence, Iowa for a year. Then after Lardass got out he was kicked out of his daddy's (his parents split up) shitty duplex and tried to go to college and flunked out. The mommy beater was forced to get a job at the only type of employment he was qualified to do deliver pizzas. The poor morbidly obese little twat also dreams he is a "time lord" and has fictional trashcan robots at his disposal. He can't get a date, and the internet is his only life. Is it any wonder he is still a virgin at 32 years of age?

Today is the international day for the mentally disabled.

Please send an encouraging message to a mentally challenged friend--

as I have just done for you.

Just thought I'd let your retarded ass know I don't mind being friends with you.

I don't care if you lick windows or even if you wear a football helmet to work.

It doesn't bother me that you wear your underwear on the outside of your pants.

You hang on in there because you are doing great!

You are Special, so keep trying!

Have a Great Day You Stupid Bastard!!!

Poor Lardass, his mommy Shelly is out at the truck stop doing fellatio, leaving him out again. Billy here still shits his pants daily, and more when Oris stops by.

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those

English skills, quite ironically in

Will the great Radio and Flame Wars Ever end?

Some people dont even know who started what. Some people just take sides for the heck of it.

>From 14.313 to the Hal Turner message board to Nim Busters and from people like Vonbluvens and Bill White(www.otherthrow.com) to Herb, KV4FZ and WA9KJI. Groups like the B.A.R.F and the NSM (National Solicialist Movement) have risen and fallen in the chaos.

But why do these little fueds keep going for? Is it for some greater good, or is it to satisfy someones ego? I just dont understand.

First, it started back in the late 70's or 80's in the form of Radio Wars on the 20 and 75 meter ham bands. (Read the KV4FZ Story for more Background info) It included all sorts of people, who have come and gone. Then The Great Liberty Net came to the scene, and it had its supporters and detractors as well. Glenn Baxter, K1MAN had his 15 minutes of fame too...

All that changed around late 1998 or so, when a "New Sherriff" came to town in the form of FCC's Riely Hollingsworth. He quickly went to work, sending out restet letters and giving people like 6 month suspensions and so forth. At that time, around the year 2000, people began to take the "Radio War" to the internet. Newsgroups were spammed as people began to take thier fueds online. Message boards like "Nim Busters" were hangouts for this sort of trash. People like KV4FZ, who were unjustly villfied for many years, were replaced by people like Internet talk show host Hal Turner. Radio clubs like the Better Amatuer Radio Federation have faded away, only to be replaced by Nim Busters and other related groups.

Will it ever end?

Hi,

I recently created the 425 toolbar and thought you might also find it interesting. It has lots of useful features and seems to be well-liked by a large number of users (including my self).
Amont the features you can quickly search a string in the 425 bulletins, a callsign in the QRZ.com or DXWatch.com, fast links to 425 calendars, bulletins, magazine, old dx spots and links to DXWatch spots (last 50 HF, 50 ANN, by band) and several HAM RSS feed for news. There is also a chat feature and audio amateur newsline.

To find out more about this toolbar and download it, go to:

If you think watching him type "gte help" every follow up, and whatever else he tries to type & spell is funny, you need more help than he does.

We need to save ham radio, not tease Mark. Just ignore his stupid ass.

Let's get these groups back on topic. Thanks. 73

I have put my lolicon board on 13.556 MHz usb (audio) and on sstv for the video. Already there is a big Taylorville audience of local winos and pedos who watch in a bar down the street. Sure it is niche programming, but at least it is a start.

If you can pick up the station, let my program manager Mark Morgan know.

Gee roger, I guest we all know you like that shit..

BWAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA

1041. Day 217 (YAWN) of Mark crying he was "libbeled".

Day 217 of Mark crying...
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
WAH! WAH! WAH!

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

"He said he was a Kentucky Colonel. And he works as a consultant for the Government, then said he was tech support..... "

There are a number of people on here who should "gte help."

Much like I ignore your stupid ass most of the time.

If you are going to give such advice, why even refer to Mark as a "dipshit?" Are you trying to start somthing while trying to ignore him? Just doesn't make sense.

I'm not agreeing with your opinion of Mark, but I am agreeing to ignore people who annoy you.

Much like most of us were taught to not respond to a repeater jammer, don't respond to the usenet jammer.

HOWEVER...

...Robeson simply won't stop.

It wasn't until after months of Mark "Out-Assholing" Steve did Steve finally back off.

It took some pretty despicable comments about Steve's family for Steve to finally get it. Then he sued Mark over it, or more correctly, he lied about suing Mark over it.

So in the end, ignoring people who annoy you works about 99% of the time and is still a good strategy. But Steve is so far out there that he's not even under the bell curve limbs. He's well beyond 3 standard deviations.

answering yourself again,tard??

aren't you the faggot who offered to suck off slow code if he'd get off your case.

slow code is a real man and wanted nothing to do with you.

you probably did blow dave.

is this some gay radioboi quarrel? why don't the two of you gather together in mommy's basement and play with each other's radios until everything is better, okay? maybe your old friend can put his dash in no woger God loves me even Jesus loves me (even through I don't think he is the Massaih) God even loves you for all your hate (but he would like you to stop hating I am sure)

may he bless and deliver you to pecae

(and for my part could you do that SOON God)

You don't have any real friends.
You didn't go to college, you begged somebody there to set up that account. The registrar's office says there is no record of you attending school there.

Day 217 of Mark crying...
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
WAH! WAH! WAH!

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction
ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

"He said he was a Kentucky Colonel. And he works as a consultant for the Government, then said he was tech support..... "

What the hell is wrong with you people, you no-code retards or something?
Stop teasing the dipshit! Just ignore Mark, he don't understand radio.
Someone probably took the test for him and that's how he got a license.

The rest of you are smart enough to know this will help save ham radio, email this to the FCC. Help save Ham radio and ignore markie to save usenet. Thanks

1->No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements required for their license class every ten years.

2->The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

3->Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

4->Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

5->Cancel your ARRL membership until they decide to work to improve things and stop them from proposing ham radio that is like CB.

Clean up your own act before you go after others. 99.99% of what you have posted doesn't belong in these news groups either.

P.S. Your Followup-To header was completely screwed up. You can't even manage that correctly.

Like you hid when Oris stopped by your filthy HUD apartment, fatassed pizza boy?
Or was a no-showe at Dalton hamfest? BWHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!

I happened to be traveling through Huntsville, Alabama early this morning, I deceided to stop in Athens and see just how tough Lloyd Davies was going to act when he saw me in person.

Many of you know that a few years ago, Lloyd got smart with several people in the Deja Newsgroup (now Google) and I issued a challenge to him. I told him I would be attending the Dalton, Ga. Hamfest if he wanted to continue the conversation. He said he would be there and he was going to kick my ass.

Well, Lloyd was a no-show and continued the verbal assault on the newsgroups. He always talks tough behind his keyboard. And, I understand he is now doing the same sort of thing on the NIM Busters Board.

Well, about 8.35 this morning (December 23, 2004) I located his apartment in a nasty looking section of town. I'm a pretty good sized man, but I put my gun in my back waistband after exiting the car. I located his apartment and knocked on the door. The doorbell was missing and bare wires were sticking out of the wall. I heard someone say I'm coming and shortly the door opened with a safety chain lock still engaged. He asked what I wanted and I introduced myself and asked if we could have a conversation. He turned white as a sheet and attempted to slam the door, but I already had a foot wedged in the opening. He started shaking uncontrollably and was shouting leave me alone, leave me alone! I told him he didn't seem so tough now face to face and then noticed a putrid odor of urine and he was pissing his pants and crying like a baby. Please leave me alone Oris he said, I was just having fun and meant no harm, please leave, please. I could see the filthy floor of this apartment and the dirty floors and the stench of a grown man pissing on himself were almost enough to make me want to vomit, and I don't have a queasy stomach. Upon telling him that this time he would escape a ass kicking and not to ever get a smart mouth with me again and a verbal yes from him, I departed. That apartment complex looked like a crackhouse, niggers everywhere, filthy grounds and stairwells. Junk cars everywhere and garbage overflowing the garbage cans.

This Lloyd is nothing more than white trash that delivers pizzas and could afford to take a trip out of town if the ticket cost $5.00.

I'm sending this to a friend who despises Lloyd Davies and he wanted to post it for everyone to see just what kind of chickenshit asshole this Davies really is.

Oris Grim

No, it's you, Lardass. YOU are the NO9GL sockpuppet.

Yeah, you still show you want to suck his dick, Davies. After all, you did call Roger up on the phone and asked if you could.

Just thought you should know that.

Help save Ham radio and ignore Markie to save
usenet. Thanks

1- No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements required for their license class every ten years.

2- The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

3- Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

4- Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

5- Cancel your ARRL membership until they decide to work to improve things and stop them from proposing ham radio that is like CB.

Well we did.

I betcha right now he's camped out at the Notel Motel with his harem.

Janet and Madelyn and Cynthia.

CNN reported today that Cynthia has been absent from Congress for a few days.

"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and

"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and

WAH! WAH! WAH!

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction
ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

glad to see that

Yeah, Mork. I'd like a "pecae" of ass every night, too.
You need to find a woman who knows how to spell it.
Master's degree, my ass.

Blow Code - your ideas will damn amateur radio and kill it. The ARRL is the best thing we have and all amateurs should join the organization to help preserve amateur radio. Forcing CW onto newcomers will only turn them away from amateur radio since CW is seen by outsiders as old-fashioned and out-of-date. This is the 21st Century and people do not want to be forced to learn and use and communication method developed in the 19th Century. Grow up and face reality. Stop clinging to your old buggy whip communication methods and get over the fact that amateur radio is changing for the better. It's going to change with our without you. You can stop change.

People today don't want to be forced to learn - whether it's CW, or how to build a trivial little interface between a transceiver (modern invention) and a computer (another modern invention), or some antenna theory. Just hand them a license and a radio and they want to be on the air.

>Grow up and face reality.

Reality is that ham radio is turning into a multi-band CB - just buy a radio and get on the air without actually knowing how it works or how to use it.

Much as it pains me, I have to admit the above is true. It is happening because that's what the majority wants. Isn't democracy

I'll agree with this - to a point. While hams "could" go about their hobby and be creative - making gadgets and so on to aid in their hobby or whatever else to keep the "electronics" part of it alive, many don't. Many just do as suggested, buy a radio and operate it - not doing another thing. Yes it can be a bit of a pain to design a multi band or even single band transmitter/receiver or transceiver - while they may not equal an off the shelf unit such as a Icom 706 or whatever, it does add to the fun of "Creating" and "Using" it. Yeah I know - like a car, who wants to build when you can buy. But if you've not built from scratch - try it sometime.
I've built many items and enjoy using them. They've also saved me umpteen hours of work to boot. I build only items I know I can get use of, not something I'm going to waste money on buying parts, time and labor and other materials - just to throw it in a drawer. IF you build something of use or convenience, you will appreciate it and desire to do even more. THAT is one way to carry out the Ham tradition EVEN IF you hate code and swear it off. I had to know code also for passing exams. I AM an examiner. I'm not "in love" with code, but then many are. To each their own. Radio is fairly diverse, it allows you to find your niche.

Technology in itself has to carry some blame - not everyone can repair the current type of equipment being sold. Not everyone has the tools and necessary special soldering/desoldering equipment. Some of that can cost as much as a radio - itself. So, I say if ya want to at least "try" to participate in repairing your own, buy some older stuff, use it, repair it, ENJOY it. Enjoy using it AND being able to keep it alive.

I guess to make a point short and to the point - if you like ham - try to get as much out of the hobby as you can - after all - you took the time to get a license and spent the money to get involved. IF you don't like ham - maybe into CB, fine - learn what you need about antennas, coax, etc..... and get into your hobby that way. There IS something for everyone if they just LOOK. A hoby, regardless of it's nature - is to be ENJOYED.

Right you are, but there is one area where homebuilders can still equal or even outperform commercial manufacturers: High power amplifiers.

Amplifiers these days are so expensive to buy and yet so simple to build that a lot of hams enjoying rolling their own. Anyone interested should join the Amps reflector at contesting.com or the RFAmplifiers group at yahoo.com, or both.

Don't expect to throw one together in a weekend, but do spend some time learning the ins and outs of amp design and go for it.

Fun, fun, fun!

Ya, and you're not a 'real' bowler either unless you have a $500 bowling ball.

And you're not a 'real' fisherman until you've caught a Marlin off the coast of Mexico either.

It's only a hobby. If you don't like it, pick another one!

You use what you can afford. I bought my first ham set up for like $50 used - it was all I could afford at the time AND I had to fabricate some things to boot. I got my feet wet with it and it kept me interested. Not everyone can afford the "best". It doesn't mean they're any less of a hobbiest in that particular field. "I" do not try to keep up with the Jones' as they say. IF my friend comes home with a brand new radio - it doesn't mean I'll run out to buy one. Same with a bowling ball, etc. That NEW radio, bowling ball, fishing (equipment) / expedition, hunting rifle - isn't going to promise a damned thing. Human intervention "still" counts. Take astronomy as a hobby..... there are bigger and better(?) telescopes supported by large universities or other groups. Still - many finds are done with the smaller back yard telescopes. It's not the size - the cost that count. The "user" has to do something to make it count. AND in many cases - be it finding a rare station on the bands, an asteroid, bowling all strikes, etc..... LUCK has a hell of a lot to do with it. Even the best in esperience and equipment - fail - sometimes.

Given a choice between a new H.F. rig and either an old boat anchor OR a homebrew rig to make a contact with, I'd pick the latter - hands down. It tends to give you a tad more pride using such old equipment that maybe you repaired or bought cheap OR built from scratch. Personally, I had an HW 101 and now have a TS440S (bought new when offered). If the Heathkit had as many bells and whistles as the Kenwood - only in the extra bands - I'd take it hands down. I love the audio of the tube radios over the newer radios. The Kenwood had an Autotuner - I could tune the Heath with an outboard tuner faster than that dumb autotuner did the Kenwood - in many cases. Point being, those older radios are not as sophisticated as the new stuff, but they sure still performed. Being new, being eh - better(?) isn't what it is always about. And even the homebrew stuff, be it solid state OR tube - when it comes alive with audio out of the speaker - or putting out that first signal over the air waves - there is no better feeling.

You have a ham license and buy a used rig - you're a ham. Buy a used bowling ball, go bowling as often as possible - you're a bowler. Go fishing as often as possible even with a $10 fishing pole, you're a fisherman. Pitch a tent with a sheet over a line - you're a camper. Too many people worry about "impressing" others. Do you do code? IF so, is it at 5 wpm or 60? WHO CARES - you're enjoying the hobby at your own level.

Code - CW........ a big argument over someone doing it or not........ WHY? When I got into Ham, I got into CW for a while, but then as now, I'm NOT in love with it. At that time, RTTY (Radio Teletype - for those who may not know) was still fairly big. Packet came in as did other modes. I "tried" RTTY - to me, as CW/Code is to some of you - it was BORING. You could also argue how RTTY could save a life. Any mode "could" under the right conditions. Someone may be aware of a situation and have had ONLY an RTTY machine - send the message to another with other equipment who then gets the help enroute to help the distressed. Let's say someone in a lighthouse seen a sinking ship and they only had the RTTY working. So - yes it may be far fetched but show how a "single" mode "could" "help" save a life. To bring it all together - again I say - you use what you have and to your level. IF you help save a life - congradulations. If you merely spend a quiet evening getting enjoyment out of it, more power to you. I would have found packet boring too, but it was before the internet got going hot and heavy - and it allowed me to get and receive "typed" messages to my friends who were licensed and so equipped.- just like e-mail for those of you who aren't familiar with packet. Pick a mode, try it - if ya like it - use it. If not, try another one. To each - his/her own.

Don't forget Sir Sidney and the late Arky Bob. And I hope Doofus Jammer and Tarzan are there, as well as WA9KJI, thought by some to be the greatest ham operator to ever key a microphone.

I hope these files are still there for the sake of posterity everyone can show their grandchildren what fun the hobby was before Riley came along and made everyone behave.

Too bad Kevin didn't get a tape of the Jammer of the Year awards ceremony the year Arky Bob was the winner.

W4SX, aka Captain America was a fine master of ceremonies that night.

And let us not forget the hard work by Mr. Davies and his staff in tallying the votes for this memorable event.

Scroll to the bottom of the page. See Kevin Alfred Strom's name there?
It the Liberty Net had even a shred of respectability, which it doesn't, the association with Nazi Strom shredded it and tossed it into the toilet.

It is worth downloading the .wav files to listen to W9ART jam Vic and his myopic apostles.

been trying EME with a staion that should just make it to the "big guns" on 144.111 eraticly getting what seems to be sent in CW a response of course I can't read it it is runing my wife guesses faster the 15wpm morse on the off chance someone was simply confused I switched programs and sent at 15 wpm a signal to the party unknown infrom any that could read cw what I was doing and still I get back half the time a cwsignal that breaks in over top of my eme contact are any morse code operators that stupid or should honestly assume this is someone jamming anntenna is included becuase I know cecil has been hanging out there and I would like his opinion

After a lapse of inactivity of almost 40 years, I want to revive my participation in amateur radio.

I'm planning to take the tech exam soon but have discovered that If I can prove that I had a technician license, I can get credit for the code test and enhanced theory. In essence, finding that proof will get me a general for a technician test.

My problem is that I discovered that BCPI, the archiver for the FCC has no 1960s liscense archives. THey were reduced to microfiche an later lost in a flood!!! Some archive.

Anyway, my old callsign was WB2VWZ. I got my tech during college (1962 - 1966) and I lived in Staten Island, NY.

If anyone has an old callbook, I may be able to use a copy of a page from it.

Please let me know.

Day 223 of Mark crying...
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
WAH! WAH! WAH!

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

"He said he was a Kentucky Colonel. And he works as a consultant for the Government, then said he was tech support..... "

I gotta say, this is one of the cleverer troll posts I have seen !

I'm going to no-sell it and say that I've got this damn noise around 50.175 that sounds just like weak SSB if you're tuning by it, and so I get all excited when I'm tuning around 6m and I come across it... until I look at the display.

Also have a bunch of them that sound like CW signals... this is mostly a problem on 6m where I'm really, really hoping something happens.

73 es you'll get over it someday,

Dan

Are you fucking stoned???

If it weren't for no code, there would be no new Hams! Another 20 years and all you legitimate code endorsed hams will be dx'ing with the worms. We have to go with the times fool!

We've already lost 80% of interest to the Internet and all the IM's email and all.. You clearly are living in the dark ages..

If we are to save amateur radio at all, we need numbers. We've already lost too much spectrum due to the lack of use. So what if no code'rs gain access to HF? It's either that or we loose HF to the commercial interests.

I took the 13 and used code a grand total of one time in the last 16 years.

Asshole.

 ANOTHER NEW DXCC ENTITY TO HIT THE AIRWAVES! ****
Well known DXer Kan, JA1BK/KH6BK, and a group of operators will activate another new DXCC entity. The team of 6 operators will travel to Swains Island some time this week. Swains Island was recently added to the DXCC's entity this past weekend due to the recent DXCC rule change (ed. See DXCC News below). The team of operators who have been in Pago Pago, American Samoa, since Thursday, July 20th, have been delayed in going to Swains Island due to some transportation problems. The list of operators are Kan/JA1BK/KH6BK (team leader), Uti/KS6FO, Paul/F6EXV/WH7S, John/K1ER, Tets/AH7C and John/K8YSE. Larry, AH8LG, President of the American Samoa Amateur Radio Association (ASARA), has been helping in planning/organizing and has provided the team with lots of resources and logistics to make this operation happen. Larry will not be going with the team but will be a pilot station for the operation. However, Larry's wife, Uti, KS6FO, is expected to travel with the team to Swains Island and will do the cooking for the team. The callsign will be KH8SI once again. Activity will be on HF bands CW/SSB. However, the team will utilize the best bands to work as many as possible during this short operation (possibly 3-4 days). The start date is unsure at this time due to the transportation to the island. QSL via JA1BK. More details will be forthcoming.

ADDED NOTE: Those who use propagation and bearing programs may be interested in the following coordinates (Lat/Long) to use. Some of the following agencies have a slight vary in their coordinates, but all are very close.
U.S. Department of Interior -- Latitude 11 degrees 3 minutes South
Longitude 170 degrees 55 minutes West
U.S. Coast Guard ------------- Latitude 11 degrees 4 minutes South
Longitude 171 degrees 5 minutes West
U.S. Census Bureau ----------- Latitude 11.08207 South
Longitude 171.04813 West
CIA FACT Book ---------------- Latitude 11 degrees 3 minutes South
Longitude 171 degrees 15 minutes West

3XY, GUINEA. Dani, 6W/EA4ATI, informs OPDX that he will be active from Conakry as 3XY9B, August 1-8th. He states that he will use a 3 element yagi beam antenna (three bands), dipole antennas and work all HF bands (occasionaly 6m band too). QSL via direct to EA4ATI.

CORRECTION DEPARTMENT. Last week in OPDX.767, we mentioned that Tom/DL2RMC and Katrin/DO3MSH were going to Faroe Islands and Iceland. The QSL route mentioned was incorrect. QSL via DL2RMC (NOT DL2RCM as mentioned) and Tom prefers the bureau.

DXCC NEWS.....
* The following was received from Wayne Mills, N7NG, ARRL Membership Service Department Manager, dated July 22nd, from Newington, Connecticut:
For Immediate Release
With the addition of Section II, Criteria Rule 1c) to the Political Entity criteria, certain former separation entities may now qualify as Political Entities. One such entity has been determined to be American Samoa. American Samoa is now a Political Entity for DXCC purposes.

As a result of the reclassification of American Samoa, and upon the filing of a request and substantiating evidence, and with the concurrence of the DXAC and the Awards Committee, Swain&#65533;s Island has been added to the DXCC List.

Swain&#65533;s Island, entity number 337, qualifies as the first separation entity from American Samoa, now a Political Entity. The distance between American Samoa and Swain's Island has been determined to be in excess of 350 km as required by DXCC Rules Section II, Paragraph 2, Section b).

QSOs made with Swain's Island on or after 0001Z, July 22, 2006 will count for DXCC credit.

For additional information, including the DXCC Reference Number for Swain's Island, contact Bill Moore at the DXCC Desk, dxcc@arrl.org.

* Bill Moore, NC1L, ARRL DXCC Branch Manager, informs OPDX: "Due to a problem with the DXCC software a few callsigns were not shown in the DXCC Honor Roll list that was published in August 2006 QST.
Although there were some errors in this computer-generated list, the on-line Honor Roll listing produced from the same database is correct.
If you were on the Honor Roll between April 1, 2005 and March 31, 2006 and your callsign did not show in the QST list, contact DXCC Branch Manager Bill Moore, NC1L, at (860)594-0234 or dxcc@arrl.org. We will publish a correction in October 2006 QST."

EA8, CANARY ISLANDS (AF-004). Chris, DJ2CK, is expected to be active as EA8/DJ2CK/p from Isla de Lanzarote (DIE S-007 for the Spanish Islands

QSL via AB2RF.

FR, REUNION ISLAND (Cancelled). Stewart, GM4AFF, who was expected to be active as FR/GM4AFF for the upcoming RSGB IOTA Contest has cancelled his operation. He states, "I have decided to cancel my operation from Reunion in the IOTA Contest. It was always going to be hard, but when I found out that conditions are also really awful, I decided to pull the plug. I'll have less luggage to carry now!"

July 21st
AMATEUR RADIO HITS NEW HEIGHTS IN NEW MONTENEGRO: "Today, Thursday, at noon an international amateur radio delegation saluted Montenegrin hams, the local Amateur Radio Union folks as well as representatives of the Telecom and the Military of Montenegro to kick off a three-week program to assist the local people in many areas of Amateur Radio as well as to help make Montenegro visible on the bands in a big way. Totally some seven 4O3T stations will hit the airwaves over this weekend. Veso Babic, YU6A, the Association President and Ranko Boca, YT6A, the Project Organizer, welcomed the foreign visitors to sunny Montenegro and promised all possible help. Martti, OH2BH discussed some of ham radio's current challenges and opportunities to form a schedule for further talks with the local administration. Hans, PB2T of the International Amateur Radio Union (IARU) promised every possible help to get Montenegro soon into the IARU family of national societies. Veso, YU6A, reminded those present of the valuable efforts made during a 1979 earthquake when Amateur Radio secured a permanent place in the hearts of people saved through emergency communication efforts by local amateurs. Mr. Peter Cupic, Deputy Director of Telecom, invited all delegates to a cruise at Boka Bay later on in the program, organized by his Agency. People were in tears when 19-year old Nikola, YZ6AMD called the first CQ to provide the first QSO under the 4O3T program. The German station DF3IU was there at 1020 UTC to win the honors. Now amateurs around the world are turning their antennas to the newly born Republic of Montenegro to salute 4O3T operators from three different continents, representing more than ten nations."

* Hrane, YT1AD-YT5A, informs OPDX that a team of operators will activate Montenegro with the callsign YU6AO from July 20th to August 15th. He mentions the location will be Podgorica, Montenegro. The host is Gojko, YU6AO. Hrane states, "Accomadation and food is free. All of our team is welcome. We will operate with 4 working station's at the same time."
Activity will be on all bands and modes (CW, SSB, RTTY, PSK, SSTV, FM).
Operators mentioned are: Gojko/YU6AO, Hrane/YT1AD, Milovan/YU1AU, Ratko/YU1NR, Mladen/YU7NU, Zoran/YU7KW, Marko/4N1JA, Goran/YT7AW, Igor/RA3AUU, Jack/RW3QC, Eugene/RK3AD(?), Srecko/YU1DX, Trajko/Z35A, Dragan/Z32AU, Marijan/S56A, Simone/IZ0BTV, Dragan/YZ1EW, Zeljko/YU6ST and YZ6DCT. Suggested frequencies are:
CW - 1830, 3530, 7010, 10115, 14015, 18080, 21015, 24900 and 28010
SSB - 1850, 3790, 7080, 14232/14250, 18130, 21250, 24930 and 28450
RTTY - 3585, 7040, 10130, 14085, 18110, 21085, 24910 and 28085 kHz
6m - 50.102 and 50.130 MHz
2m - 144.050 and 144.310 MHz
QSL via YU6AO, via the YU Bureau or direct to: Gojko Mitrovic, Crnojevica 4, 81000 Podgorica, Montenegro.

* During International DX Festival in Montenegro (July 20th-August 12th), Emir, 9A6AA, informs OPDX that he will try to get a license (4O3/9A6AA) for activity from Sv Nikola (IOTA EU-163, MIA MY-003). Depending on his free time (and license, of course), Emir plans to be active a few hours on SSB on 40 and 20 meters.

OH0, ALAND ISLANDS. Ralph/DL1SVA and Frank/DG0GA are now active as OH0/homecall/p until July 28th. Look for activity on all HF bands, CW and SSB. QSL via their home callsigns, direct or by the bureau.

P40, ARUBA. John, KK9A, will be active as P40A in the CQWW DX CW Contest (November 25-26th) as Single-Op/All-Band entry. QSL via WD9DZV.

Oscar, HK6DOS, reports: "The Liga Colombiana de Radioaficionados (LCRA) was established in 1935, and for many years was an important and respectful organization with a good number of members. Its bureau service worked well for decades, providing an excellent service for all its associates. For the last 5 years now, it has been losing importance, that is members, activity and management. Today, nobody really knows the whereabouts of their QSLs, inbound or out. For this reason many Colombian amateurs currently have a QSL manager. Please be informed that the Colombian Bureau service is out of service for hams outside of the 3rd Colombian zone (HK3) who have not had information on the bureau status for many years now, and you should not waste your money or time, as the LCRA has cancelled this service to its members and international bureaus. We are; therefore, regretfully advising the DX community to refrain from sending QSLs via our LCRA bureau."

CORRECT QSL ROUTE FOR VQ9LA. QSL VQ9LA to: Larry Arneson, DG-21 Anx 30, PSC 466 Box 24, FPO AP 96595-0024, USA (or by QRZ.com). SASE is required for direct QSLs. QSL via the Bureau is fine (Also by VQ9 Bureau or USA Bureau). Logs will be uploaded to LoTW once he leaves the Island. N0QM and WD0HSP ARE "NOT" HIS MANAGERS. The callsign N0QM is his stateside callsign, and WD0HSP is his former callsign. Larry mentions that some people still send to N0QM, and his parents hold on to the envelopes and send them to him about every 6 months or when he goes home on vacation. If you send to N0QM, there will be a big delay in getting the cards direct.

TK, CORSICA. Andrea, IW0HK, will be active as TK/IW0HK until July 30th. He is expected to be in the IOTA Contest on 20 and 15 meters. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

TZ, MALI. Members of the VooDoo Contest Group will be active as TZ5A for the second year in a row during the 2006 CQWW CW Contest (November 25-26th) as a Multi/Multi entry. QSL via G3SXW. Operators mentioned are: Ed/AA7A, Roger/G3SXW, Fred/G4BWP, John/G4IRN, Robert/GM3YTS, Vince/K5VT, Mike/KC7V and Lee/KY7M.

V4, ST. KITTS AND NEVIS. Kanichi (Kan), JJ2RCJ (AB2RF), will be active from Nevis as V47/AB2RF from August 8-12th. Activity will be focused on the digital and CW modes. QSL via AB2RF.

Oh? Then you're in favor of REAL testing about digital modes? Like questions on how Rayleigh fading limits bit rates on HF? That sort of "the times"? (Or didn't you know that, without frame shifting, digital modes cause problems on HF?)

Or are you one of those who favors as little testing as can be gotten away with?

>If we are to save amateur radio at all, we need numbers.

So you'd rather have millions of unqualified hams who know nothing about radio than a few hundred thousand who do. We already have a Citizen's Band - we don't need a dozen more of them.

The drop would have been far worse than it is now had the CW testing speed not been reduced.

Sorry Al, but the drop of CW came around the explosion of the Internet.
Young people see our hobby as outdated and the CW testing requirement reinforces that. What to see a huge drop in licenses? Bring back CW testing for all licenses and raise the speeds again. There will be hardly any new licenses issued if someone made such a gross and stupid error in judgement.

CW testing has nothing to do with knowing how the radio works or how it operates. Thanks for reinforcing some of my previous positions.

The ham bands were filled with idiots when we had all that CW testing.
CW testing has never kept out the idiots and never will.

Besides, since the US is a democracy, the ham bands will turn into whatever we let it turn into because the majority rules and CW freaks like yourself are increasingly in the minority.

Yup, as a person who has been a ham for 35 years, yup that's what I believe.

I absolutely agree.

Yup, that's what I also believe. Get people into the service and they will start learning what they need to know on their own.

We already have a > Citizen's Band - we don't need a dozen more of them.

Actually the CB argument is really old. I got a CB radio for a trip two years ago so my 20 something daughters could talk on it. The reality is that hardly anyone is on CB either. Channel 19 was pretty quiet compared to what is sounded like 20 years ago.

So not only are people avoiding ham radio, they are also avoiding CB.
Find a new argument Al for keeping people out of ham radio will you?

BWHAHAHAHAHA Oh, the irony!

Let's review:

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Billy "shoots" himself in his palsied club foot once again in Message-ID <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right."
in<hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>
"Sure I can spell and smell."

"Billy" the NOtwordSmith fucks up again with this incompete sentence in <qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your
so called educatiion actually doing for you? Those online classes."

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

Billy "illiterate retard" Smith spikes the "HUH?" factor in this slobbering in <MGqUf.16833$S25.8455@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Come on, do it just have you some spiked Kool Aid."

"Didn't" your special-Ed teacher teach you how to spell, Billy?
in <OCqUf.16826$S25.10695@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"...didnt Marie teach you to play nice"

"Rhodes scholar" Billy Lardass Davies Smith blunders and blows his cover again in <Et%0g.6340$sq5.1769@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Rhode's scholar Scheissman blows his cover again."

Billy "dumbass" Smith steps on his own tiny dick when he tries to criticize others' typos,but he doesn't "perform" well as usual with his blatant "stupidity" in <oCk1g.5958$Es3.3907@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Noteed!!!!!!!!!!!!! Bwhahahahahahah. You're a brilliant one Scheissman.
You even peform stupid acts on your blatant stupidty"

Billy "dropout Lardass" Smith steps on his own dick when he tries to comment on others' spelling abilities, but he "can't" do any better in Message-ID: <mQr3g.8970$sq5.4914@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:

"Woger cant spell very well anyway."

Billy "dropout pizza BOY" Smith fucks up his sentence again when he blathered in <WdZfg.629$lp.259@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"How about those retest letter you received for jamming."

Billy "illiterate " Smith claims to have been in the Library, but he can't even spell "I've" correctly, maybe Billy should check out the English tutoring books there in WpFgg.1310$lf4.1288@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Ive been to quite a few libraries on Sunday and a lot of them are open."

Oh, the irony from the Taylorville Twat who can't even spell "Florida."

JDB has the answer. A ham license should be like a learner's permit for driving; proof that you know enough to get on the road and not kill someone, not proof that you have mastered all facets of driving any kind of vehicle.

If you can show you know these basics, I would give you a license:

1. Know the band limits.
2. Know the power limits.
3. Know how to tune up an amp.
4. Know how to recognize when something is wrong.

There could be a few more, but you get the idea. Knowing how the Bayseian something-or-other affects HF propagation as someone suggested can come later, much later.

was possible to mix up my answer sheet with someon elses SC but that would not have affected me passing every one passed the day I took mine
I passed to 2 elemt test for tech we used ot have and I have passed the the general and extra class written waiting for the plug to be plulled on code testing

Look like for time on the CSSE I moay need to retake the general

Day 224 of Mark crying...
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and

"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and

"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and

"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
WAH! WAH! WAH!

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction
ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

"He said he was a Kentucky Colonel. And he works as a consultant for the Government, then said he was tech support..... "

The drop started MANY years before CW was dropped. Want to increase the number of hams? Eliminate cellular phones (a lot of people got on the air to have communications in the car) and the internet - since those are two of the prime causes of lack of interest in ham radio today.

>CW testing has nothing to do with knowing how the radio works or how it >operates.

But many of the same people who want to eliminate CW also want to eliminate any tests that would really test for knowledge. It's not CW they want to eliminate, it's effort. You can cheat on written tests but, since you can't cheat much on CW (although some have), they want it eliminated. Not just kept for one class of license. What's wrong with code-free HF, but an additional class with, say, a 20wpm CW test?
It would have nothing to do with the number of people becoming hams.
But those who are opposed to CW testing are opposed to ALL CW testing.
Getting on the air - with the highest class license available is, to them, their right.

It's like people who are adamantly opposed to having driver's licenses revoked because "driving is a right".

Sorry, but getting on the public airwaves is not a right.

>Besides, since the US is a democracy, the ham bands will turn into >whatever we let it turn into because the majority rules

Democracy is a form of government that protects the minority from the excesses of the majority - the majority doesn't need protection from itself.

What color is the sky on your world? (If you were correct, most CBers would have a pretty good knowledge of electronics and propagation.)

>So not only are people avoiding ham radio, they are also avoiding CB.

So how does CW enter into things?

Oh? It's not MY argument that CW keeps people from using radios, it's YOURS! And you just destroyed your own best argument.

I can't for the life of me understand why there is so much concern over learning code. After 20 yrs in radiation physics (ionizing, not RF communications) as a living, I finally decided to go for an amature radio license. It wasn't until I got here that I learned about this rift in the community (I have seen it in a few places)....granted it may be a few spirited individuals on each side that perpetuate this argument of learning code. I'm very dismayed by this rift, I wanted to join a fellow group of RF communication enthusianists. I don't need a segration here too...there is enough of that society already, I don't need that in a hobby too. I hear my family calling....thats were my time needs to be spent.

years. That was you doing it because your signal was the same level as some of your 75 meter transmissions.

What kind of English is this, Lardass?

BILLY SMITH STEPS ON HIS OWN DICK THUSLY WITH THESE FUCK-UPS:

Billy "Dumbass who can't put together a sentence" Smith shows off those English skills, quite ironically in <VfQHf.14581$rH5.8121@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"That's interesting there idiot. I bet you really did flunk high school math and probably elementary too. Oh thats right, wasn't that when was in Floriduh. Spelled Florida but the DUH is for your Dumb Ass."

"wasn't that when was in Floriduh" - Billy makes good fuck up!

Billy "shoots" himself in his palsied club foot once again in Message-ID <Q0bJf.19641$vU2.7735@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Roger, shots himself in the foot"

Billy the "Rhodes" scholar fucks up again and even demonstrates he is an imbecile in <8uqwg.8275$v0.7632@newsread4.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Right you are, wannabe Rhode's Scholar!"

Billy the illiterate retard Smith screws up again, and his illiteracy is exposed. "It serves him right."
in<hauKf.1410$S25.940@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Deserves him right."

Billy "retard" Smith confesses to his generally accepted retarded
status in <LwpLf.2321$F56.2317@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"I'm a general retard. bwhahaha"

Billy "spelling champ of the general retards" Smith admits his bad hygiene but is still in denial about his English skills in <QxpLf.2322$F56.1169@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>
"Sure I can spell and smell."

"Billy" the NOtwordSmith fucks up again with this incompete sentence in <qgyNf.5576$S25.341@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"So when you got divorced boy, did your finally figure out that your more"

Billy "cumgargler" Smith managed to awaken from his drunken stupor to slobber
in <fbIOf.442$sL2.25@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Isn't that you mom weighed"

Mr."Education" Billy Smith steps on his own dick again when he talks about others' "educations" (or educatiion" as he spells it) in <w7IOf.436$sL2.167@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Uh, huh. Right LOSER. Still smoking that dope again? By the way how is your

<B9IOf.439$sL2.255@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"You're whole life has been exhaled before."

Billy "illiterate retard" Smith spikes the "HUH?" factor in this slobbering in <MGqUf.16833$S25.8455@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Come on, do it just have you some spiked Kool Aid."

"Didn't" your special-Ed teacher teach you how to spell, Billy?
in <OCqUf.16826$S25.10695@newsread1.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"...didnt Marie teach you to play nice"

"Rhodes scholar" Billy Lardass Davies Smith blunders and blows his cover again in <Et%0g.6340$sq5.1769@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Rhode's scholar Scheissman blows his cover again."

Billy "dumbass" Smith steps on his own tiny dick when he tries to criticize others' typos,but he doesn't "perform" well as usual with his blatant "stupidity" in

<oCk1g.5958$Es3.3907@newsread3.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Noteed!!!!!!!!!!!!! Bwhahahahahahah. You're a brilliant one Scheissman.
You even peform stupid acts on your blatant stupidty"

Billy "dropout Lardass" Smith steps on his own dick when he tries to comment on others' spelling abilities, but he "can't" do any better in Message-ID: <mQr3g.8970$sq5.4914@newsread2.news.atl.earthlink.net>:
"Woger cant spell very well anyway."

Billy "dropout pizza BOY" Smith fucks up his sentence again when he blathered in <WdZfg.629$lp.259@newsread3.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"How about those retest letter you received for jamming."

Billy "illiterate " Smith claims to have been in the Library, but he can't even spell "I've" correctly, maybe Billy should check out the English tutoring books there in WpFgg.1310$lf4.1288@newsread1.news.pas.earthlink.net>:
"Ive been to quite a few libraries on Sunday and a lot of them are open."

Gee Lardass, if you claim Roger hasn't got a signal, how could he jam anybody? But you get on 20 meters and 75 with only a training wheel ham license illegally. That's right, folks, N0VFP who only has a no code tech gets on HF illegally. He's been DFed.

How could one sit on their radio and be able to stare at it? Figure out how it works? You are the one who can't even afford one, fatty. You have those third hand used cheapassed radios. Poor Lardass, he's a mentally ill, ill-educated retard. He couldn't hit up mommy and daddy to buy him a decent radio, since they are helping him pay his bills.

Post all you want, Lardass, you just haven't gotten caught qrming yet.
They are aware that you get on bands you are not authorized to get on.
And if Roger hasn't got a signal like you claim, how could he have jammed anybody?
And just so you know: (source: www.arrl.org)

NOTE: Issuance by the FCC of a Warning Notice indicates that the FCC has what it believes to be reliable evidence of possible rules infractions and not necessarily that the recipient has violated FCC rules. The FCC has the authority, pursuant to §97.519(d)(2) of the rules to readminister any examination element previously administered

Liar. The only thing you passed is the training wheel no code. And you gave the VE's a blowjob to do it.

Except you didn't pass it, the VE session sheet proves it.

Really? My other hobby is model trains and I have never seen a rift in model trains in 45 years.

Ham Radio has rifts only because some people feel they are better than others and try to impose their will and superiority over others. Usually over a CW testing requirement, being able to repair old, outdated tube crap, and how fast one can send and receiver an old mode of communication. They feel that just because someone can't send and receive CW that they are somehow inferior. It is such foolishness. But hang in there. These old, unbending old-timers are dying off and eventually hams will all be united again promoting the service/hobby and joining the national organization in support of the service/hobby. I guess that's why God does not have people living forever. Death has a way of cleansing the hobby of the old, outdated, and outmoded.

Wismen setting up the staion is easy even you could do it requires this conect the cable to back or you Icom 910h (turn power up full)conect the otherend of cable to mast mounted preamp run cable from preamp to attnena
concent sound card interface to radio
point the end wth smaller eleamnts at the moon
turn and Viola at workable eme station now geting the hang of the software take a bit more effort but I suppose given what NASA trained chimps to do they could be trained to conduct an EME qso these days

but Wismeen can't manage it

Al, you and the rest of the old farts want CW to keep ham radio from becoming like CB - right? CW does not keep people from using radios, it keeps people from seeking a amateur radio license. You and the rest of the crusty old and out-dated hams think that CW is kind of a filter or the price of admission. It's an over-rated and over-priced ticket.

CBers do not have to have a good knowledge of electronics and propagation to use the radio because there is little else for them to venture into - unlike ham radio. But then again, there are darn few CBers anymore. You, like many other crusty old hams, hang onto this notion that there are so many CBers out there and that the CB band is still out of control like it was 25 years ago. It's not. It's somewhat quiet as people have left CB behind just like they are leaving ham radio behind - but each for different reasons. CB because cell phones have replaced its usage and the speed limit isn't 55 anymore. Ham radio has been left behind because of its image as a hobby for morse code freaks and glowing tubes. The CW testing requirement just reinforces that belief.

Old fart crusty hams like yourself who continue to promote CW and CW testing keep reinforcing the belief that the hobby is old and crusty like yourselves and keep people out in favor of other interest where they don't have to take a test to get involved and have fun.

I am not destroying any argument, you just cannot follow simple logic. Face it, we can spar back and forth on this forever. The reality is that CW testing in the US is going to die soon. You cannot stop the change. Most of the rest of the world has already changed - the US cannot be far behind. Be it now, or ten years from now, CW testing is going to be gone, out of here, adios, good riddance and so long. Hopefully it will not happen too late. The longer the CW requirement remains, the closer ham radio is to death.

In response to my claim of my first EME contact someone in RRAP came back with "I doubt you can caluate the pathloos on an EME path (or words to that effect)

You know what I can't calualte that path loss

Indeed I would discourage anyone from trying to calculate it before trying the path what I have heard about those numbers is pretty discouraging

Why can I make such a contact when other say they can't or that I can't?

simple becuase I always KNEW I would, from the first monet I heard of EME contact which was from a question on Tech test back in 97 (I had heard a few days ebfore that No Code License existed I ordered the study but it arrived only the VE session so I tired the test cold KNOWING I would pass it then or next week or..) at the monent knowing nothing more than that such a contact was possible with my license I swore I would make one (or more)

I read the about the mode in detail and soon (in 97) realize I would likely have to wait awhile to keep that vow, but from time to time I renewed my efforts at first in data gathering a new milestone 2004 when I heard about the results with JT modes I began to pracetice with the early ones in terestial contact then last winter I learn of current jt65b mode and the details of the power and anttenna requiement abit of agonizing over wether I wanted to work with crushcrafts 31 foot 17b2 that I KNEW would work but that I have trouble steer or keeping safe in our harsh winters or the 13b2 I thought might work (and it did work like a charm, which it is in some sense of course) figuring I could always use it in terrestial modes and that I could later phase it with a second one and be assured of sucess then but ALWAYS in mind was the KNOWLEDGE and assurance that I WOULD suceed and that even if I had failed now it was merely a lesson learned , part of paying my dues as it were

I knew I would one day be able to do it

I know anybody reading reading these words can do EME if they poccess 2 things the will to reach for the Moon the confindence to not count the obstacles

You have MY call on it KB9RQZ (sone to be /AE)

if you can't the data drop me a comment here or

Oh, but I already did pass the 13WPM test way back in the 1980s. Most of us objecting to the CW testing requirement have passed the test. We realize that the only way to save the amateur service is to get more people into the service. The way to do it is to eliminate old, outdated and useless requirements that keep us stuck back in time and create a perception that keeps people from even considering getting into the hobby and service.

So which is really the best gauge to model? Is it okay if you buy your cars from scratch? Or do you have to build your own engines from Wrong. I want ham radio to stop being what it's been for the last couple of decades - CB on different frequencies. There are CBers who are competent communications engineers, but the majority today - CB or ham band - want to buy a radio and put it on the air. Any license requirement is just an annoyance they get around any way they can - except by actually studying and learning enough to pass tests.

Take a close look at a General test from the 50s and one from today. The difference isn't that the current one dropped old technical questions and added equivalent questions about modern modes - it's that the current test has dropped the technical requirement low enough that it's a joke. Everyone says that CW is old hat and modern modes have replaced it. Okay - let's see a question asking for a PSK interface schematic, including full isolation. That's just simple audio and DC stuff. Let's have questions on Rayleigh fading and its effect on maximum usable baud rate at various frequencies, so no one complains about the FCC not giving us permission to run 9600 bps on 20. Modern stuff.

And no more published answers.

Then let's see how many people talk about "modern" and how many yell "too difficult - there's no reason to know all this stuff". Which is why, on SWL fora, you'll see people complaining that they listened all day on 4.2 MHz and only heard noise. Or tried to get some foreign broadcast station up above 15 MHz all night and couldn't.

It's the "why doesn't this work, and don't give me any of that technical BS" syndrome. People don't want to know how things work, or why they don't work, but they're angry that they don't. And don't you dare tell anyone it's his fault for trying to receive a 440 repeater 80 miles away with a 1/4 wave antenna 5 feet off the ground. His friend, just 3 doors down, copies the repeater S9+ (with a dual 11 element beam 75 feet in the air and LMR600 coax). Now, without any technical BS or monetary expenditure, what does he have to do to receive it?

It's not that no one ever pulled that stuff 50 years ago - but it was so far in the minority that it was below the noise level. Today it's the majority of newcomers. "I have a right to use the public airwaves, and I don't want to have to learn anything."

NO can do the court have more or less so, along the long standing body of the FCC not chaleanceing Bash et all years ago to close the quiestion pools NOW would more or less require an act of Congress or a change in ITU treaty lang. It took us No Code what 4 or decades to acheeve the changes we needd in order to bring off No Code

Funny all I heard of Ham radio for many years was the "wizards of 80M" all code tested hams

I have never heard any realy bad behavoi r from any ham that hasn't had his license renewed at least twice (which leaves out ALL No code techs BTW)

indeed I have never heard the sort of Vile lang I have heard from that bunch on CB perhaps midwestern Cber are just different prehaps you are just full of it

That's fine - for CB - that's what it's for. Ham radio is NOT CB.

If you call learning how to cheat "learning".

Why what? You said we should forget CW and concentrate on more modern aspects of the hobby. A computer->radio interface is modern.

Because if you try to run much over 100 baud on 20 you're just making interference. the fact that you didn't know that shows that there are things you need to learn before you start transmitting in "modern modes".

>Understand in the case you mention is NOT required only obeinace

How do you begin to understand WHY you can't run more speed on 20 by just operating?

you're saying that not everyone is equal. then why treat everyone as if everyone were equal?

The license is a permit to operate. Whether you ever learn anything after you get it is totally irrelevant to the license.

And all I heard was hams talking about designing and building things that everyone knew couldn't be done. I guess you don't remember when 440 MHz was considered much too high a frequency to be useful for anything. After all, how useful was a frequency you couldn't transmit on as far as you could read a billboard?

expect if you want something to work and be stable and movable you are not going to build a modem wrong if I run more than few buads over 100 (or under for that matter) nobody is going to be answer to since it is not one of the standard speeds

the why is irelavant In this case I would venture to say you are wrong
I supect you could run 110 on 20m after all rules are normaly set a bit on the conservsitive side you don't becuase people aren't looking for that speed and therefore are unlikely to make a concent

if it were just and FCC it means maybe someone would be there to bust you if it truel is pphysics does not not what speeds you packet at on 20 requuires NO understanding merely obeinece to the rules

> >Understand in the case you mention is NOT required only obeinace

you don't need to understand you may choose to learn in which case more power to use, but you are not required to learn this point

> >different folks come to different levels of understanding about no I am not I am saying everyone will develope differently

we all equal in our rights before the law

a very grave difference and resaon why the ARS is in trouble this difinate split in philosophy but the point is what level is required to operate that level is easierly obtained with little real understanding indeed wether you learn anything after matters not to your stauts as a license holder

I made no such claim
I claimed that amending the treaty was one of the few means to Close the question pools off the pools are open becuase the FCC felt it could no longer support legaly (or practicaly) keeping them closed.

an act of congress closing them or enacting an ITU requirement that be closed is about the only to close them at this point prehaps I don't but ulike you I don't claim to know everything or that one needs to try

Why learn arithmetic or math at all? Spelling and grammar seem to be old-fashioned. Letz ghuct spel theengs thu wae thay soun. Maybe we can even make ourselves understood once in a great while that way.

Digital modes are great - for someone who spells the words you understand the way you were taught to spell them. CW seems to work no matter what the accent or native tongue.

But people don't want to learn digital modes either - it's just one of those things that sounds like a good argument until you actually look at it. How many hams can actually read a waterfall display for anything but PSK? And not that many can even do that.

No Al, those are not arguments that take place with the model train hobby. The best scale is what is best for you. Unlike ham radio, no one tries to ram something down another hobbyist's throat. Same for buy vs. build. Not a discussion. You do what you want to do and no one is critical of the other. The way it should be in ham radio.

You were that kid on the playground that always thought you were better than all the other kids and you tried to get other kids in fights didn't you Al? You seem to be always looking for confrontation.

Yup, it is a simple circuit. It's also readily available in books, the Internet, etc., so how does memorizing the circuit to pass a test, make you a better ham?

"Rayleigh Fading" - that comes up in daily discussions on the radio.
Never heard anyone complaining about not being able to run 9600 baud on HF - who the heck to you hang around with?

Why not? Memorizing answers has people learning just like reading a book. Learning is learning.

That's true, many of the things I had to learn for my test in the 1970s was worthless in my opinion. But it was conceived by people who had the same outdated opinion as you. Let's get people communicating and not continue to figure out ways to make it so hard that new people do not come into the service. Here's the choice for kids today. Learn code and other crap to get a license to use a ham radio - or - get on the Internet immediately where everyone is and communicate with them. Guess what choice is being made Al - it's a no brainer and why our testing should be a no brainer.

I won't because those discussions never come up in our area. Where the

Something tells me he'll figure it out on his own, via another ham, the Internet, etc. and he'll learn - learning without being forced is a wonderful thing.

Yup, that's true, and all those strict technical tests back then did not prevent this from occuring.

That's the way it is in ham radio if you look at it through the same glasses you're looking at model railroading through. You want to use different scales to weigh the same thing, then claim it weighs a different amount? Sorry, but I don't play that game.

What's wrong with ham radio being turned into CB? For one thing, we

For them? It's not. If they can't pass the test they don't get the privilege. That's just the way life is. If you're not 75 inches tall, we don't let you be 6'3". These days some people want to be what they aren't, regardless of reality. Giving ham licenses to anyone who wants one doesn't make hams of people who know nothing, it makes the ham license worthless.

So let them get on radio immediately with no testing. The method has

IT'S CALLED CB! You want HF? Get on 11 meters. You want UHF? Get on 465. It's all there.

Yes, if you're in the bottom 10%, it must surely look that way. You

Wismen setting up the staion is easy even you could do it requires this conect the cable to back or you Icom 910h (turn power up full)conect the otherd of cable to mast mounted preamp run cable from preamp to attnena
concent sound card interface to radio
point the end wth smaller eleamnts at the moon
turn and Viola at workable eme station
now geting the hang of the software take a bit more effort but I suppose given what NASA trained chimps to do they could be trained to conduct an EME qso these days

but Wismeen can't manage it

Nope, Roger never beat his mother, try again, Lardass. Hell, you can't even get his mother's name right. But then you are an ill-educated loser with no future.

But you were thrown out for sodomy and your obesity was just a bonus reason.

It's just another thing in this world that got "dumbed down".

I blame home computers and the internet. I'm not saying wether we are better of worse off. That's just what I attribute it to.

well I suspect this is just another forgery of your name Paul but I will agree with the sentiments expressed it is time for the bullshit to stop Nobody have have to endue it but the NGs have let the little pest get used to being able to pull off his shit of calling everyone prapists and child molestors for far to long prehaps the real paul will have some practical plan to stop Robeson and Wisemen his henchman

for myself when the torment of libel about me and esp my family stops of course the responses to it will stop

I agree...But today's kids just don't have the aptitude or need for a hobby that was once the only active hobby which instantly joined others around the entire world with the same common interest on a technical level, as well as a communications level, and a sense of accomplishment. There are simply too many other high-tech hobbies to choose from today.

TV video games come to mind...Satellite TV and communications, cell phones, FRS radio,XM radio, cheap long distance, DVDs, Ipods, etc., etc., etc., etc.

in point of fact they do the method is different it can be observed by studing RRAP lately the Linear (slptter box box design) work be the sender sending the same sort of crap (so and so is rapist child moelstor so on) over and over again till the target either gives up the net or is forced to repond with something (in my case I have tried suggesting the jammer "get help" now I am trying praying for him)

I thought that you had contacted the "very nice man" from aioe.org and that he was blocking all further forgeries. I guess that means that (1) it's not a forgery, or (2) the aioe.org guy lied, or (3) that Paul Schleck lied.

Bottom line: nobody cares; not even aioe.org.

You know, this is the attitude that has kept me from being a licensed ham operator. I have DX'ed for years, but find most of the operators to be smug asses who want to keep the hobby to themselves. I have no need to learn code, or more importantly, no desire. So you old fossils keep your exclusive little club and watch as it dies out with rotary telephones and vacuum tubes. Every ham I have met in person has been secretive and not at all willing to help anyone out. I sold a scope to one a few years back and in our conversation asked a few questions about becoming a ham. He was not willing to answer questions nor offer any advice, just for me to get an arrl book. He wouldn't even tell me what the repeater frequencies were for the 2 meter in our area. So, lets make the passing score 98%, 50wpm, and renew all classes every year. That ought to drive out the rest of 'em and keep you, Mr. Slow Code, as the king of all hams, even if you have no subjects to reign over.
Come to think of it, I can talk to people all over the world via internet, send packets and slow scan tv, so why worry about propagation and antennae?

Blow Code, no more damage to my brain then the lead you are breathing in when putting together your little radios with solder.

But then again, the collector trains come pre-assembled so no glue is involved. One nice thing, the increase in value of some of these is incredible.

Paid $20 each for two railcars. Now I am offered $400 for each of them.
Not a bad hobby at all now is it. Don't believe me? Check the prices for Micro-Trains Illinois state cars (first in the series).

Are trains a great hobby or what?

Man, I went to a Train Show near me recently, I was AMAZED. I didn't know so much Train Hobby stuff existed. WOW!!!!! Speaking of prices - all my train stuff went by the way side in a disaster. One "engine" I had - I seen at this show for $1400.00..... Man what a sinking feeling I had. I'm sure my dad didn't pay anywhere near "that". This was my "first" train show - as I was going to the Computer show adjoining it in the same hall. I think the train show had more customers than the Computer show. Some of the "Computer" vendors even related to such.

Well if you are really just after instant gratification and no real sense of accomplishment, go for it. Some like the challanges. I suppose it is the cahllange aspect to a hobby that makes it fun. Like model building perhaps. I haven't meet a ham who got into it because he wanted fast and easy.

These other hams you met, did you make it clear what you expected out of the hobby?

CB is dead. Turning it into CB is a meaningless statement. Your knowledge of CB is going back way too far when it was chaos. Again, you do not know what you are talking about as you are making references that are very old and very outdated - just like CW and code testing.

Why not give a license to anyone who wants one? It's just not that big of deal anymore. We are not dealing with lethal voltages like we did with all the tube crap used years ago.

That's true, learning does make you more knowledgeable. People can learn on their own, learn what interests them, learn what they need to know.
Not what you or I THINK they need to know.

What if I don't care to know how it works? Most women and many men have no idea how a car engine, transmission and car computer works, but they still get a license to drive. By your standards I guess people need to know how their television, AM and FM radio, etc. works before they are allowed to purchase such an item....hmmmm?

> You never listened to QSOs on 20? Or questions asked at ham club

Yup, I have listened to and have many QSOs on all ham bands. And most of the crap you profess to be discussed is simply not generally discussed.

Yes and no, depends what it trying to be learned. Memorization can be learning. People learn what they WANT and NEED to learn. No one ever truly learns by having something forced on them. "A man convinced against his will is still of the same opinion."

Same old tired CB argument again....yawn.....Yes, you can get on CB, Family Radio, GMRS and guess what, you can operate a radio and communicate without a test and the world does not come to an end.
> And leave ham radio to hams.

If you get a ham license, no matter how simple the test or no test, you are a ham and you can use the appropriate bands for your license class. Let's get more people into the service and hobby, let them explore and learn what they want - not what you want them to learn.

Oh but yes they do. Some more than others. Your statement is baseless and simply an opinion. So is mine. A gratuitous statement can be refuted by an equally gratuitous statement.

No, those with a ham license are hams. Those without a ham license are not hams. It's just that simple. Yup, dumb it down and bring them all in.

O.K. then, it's Mississippi.

I guess. This is the opinion of many old fart gate keeper hams, "I had to pass a test to get a ham license and it was hard. So everyone else needs to have to do what I did or it's dumbing down the license."

Yes it might be dumbing down the license. But because you had to do it, doesn't mean it's right for the world today. Things are changing. Times are changing. If you cannot deal with change, then just give up on life because change is inevitable.

Yes, wouldn't a classless society be nice? Everyone treated equally?
Probably will never happen as it did not work for Russia and the Eastern Bloc, but do we really need to have haves and have nots when it comes to a hobby and a public service? I don't think so.

Wrong again, Lardass. Imagine that. Say, you lived with daddy until about 1997-1998, didn't you? And Toad, well, he still lives with mommy and daddy in their basement. And you are the queer "Billy," you are the Nope, dumbass, Riley say the the evidence waas faked.

What's "worng?", "woger", "reeiver"?????????????

And dumbass, the FCC can retest anybody who was first tested under the VE system.
>From the ARRL website:
The FCC has the authority, pursuant to §97.519(d)(2) of the rules to readminister any examination element previously administered by a volunteer examiner.

Roger could and did pass the tests, twice, you can't even pass them the first time. He even upgraded to Extra, so a reterst isn't much of a success as a FCC sanction, is it in a case such as that?

Sexual Immorality
12"Everything is permissible for me"-but not everything is beneficial. "Everything is permissible for me"-but I will not be mastered by anything. 13"Food for the stomach and the stomach for food"-but God will destroy them both. The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. 14By his power God raised the Lord from the dead, and he will raise us also.
15Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ himself? Shall I then take the members of Christ and unite them with a prostitute?
Never! 16Do you not know that he who unites himself with a prostitute is one with her in body? For it is said, "The two will become one flesh."[b] 17But he who unites himself with the Lord is one with him in spirit.

18Flee from sexual immorality. All other sins a man commits are outside his body, but he who sins sexually sins against his own body.
19Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; 20you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your body.

SODOMY IS AN ABOMINABLE SIN, WORTHY OF DEATH.
"If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them." Leviticus 20:13. "Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them." Romans 1:32.

See also Leviticus 18:22, Genesis 19, Romans 1:18-32, I Corinthians 6:9-11, I Timothy 1:10, and Jude 7.
GOD HATES ALL WORKERS OF INIQUITY.
"The foolish shall not stand in thy sight, thou hatest all workers of iniquity." Psalm 5:5.
See also Leviticus 20:23, Leviticus 26:30, Deuteronomy 32:19, Psalm 5:6, Psalm 11:5, Malachi 1:3, Matthew 7:23, and Romans 9:13.
JESUS CHRIST DIED ONLY FOR THOSE WHO BELIEVE.
"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.
See also John 13:1, John 17:9, Ephesians 5:25, etc.
ONLY GOD'S ELECT HAVE THE CAPABILITY TO BELIEVE.
"Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them." John 12:39,40.
See also John 10:11,26, Matthew 11:25,26, Acts 13:48, Romans 9:19-24, etc.
SODOMITES ARE PROUD OF THEIR SIN ("GAY PRIDE"), AND IN THAT PRIDEFUL STATE THEY CANNOT REPENT - YOU CANNOT REPENT OF SOMETHING YOU'RE PROUD OF.
"Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD." Jeremiah 6:15.

See also Jeremiah 13:23, Romans 1:24-32, Ezekiel 16:49-50, etc.
THE SODOMITES' ONLY HOPE IS TO HAVE THE UNAMBIGUOUS TRUTH PREACHED TO THEM, AND PERHAPS GOD WILL SOFTEN THEIR HEARTS AND GRANT THEM REPENTANCE TO DEPART FROM THEIR SIN AND NAME THE NAME OF CHRIST. NOT VERY LIKELY, THOUGH, SINCE GOD HAS GIVEN THEM UP.
"Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity." II Timothy 2:19. "Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness...unto vile affections...to a reprobate mind." Romans 1:24-28.
See also II Timothy 2:24-26, Psalm 5:5, I Corinthians 6:9-11, Acts 17:30, Jude 22,23, etc.
THERE IS A HELL WHERE ALL IMPENITENT SINNERS WILL RESIDE FOR ALL ETERNITY. THAT INCLUDES SODOMITES (CALLED "DOGS").
"And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh." Isaiah 66:24. "For without are dogs..." Revelation 22:15.
See also Mark 9:44, Luke 16:23, Revelation 20:15.
In summary, sodomites are wicked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly (Gen. 13:13), are violent and doom nations (Gen. 19:1-25; Jgs. 19), are abominable to God (Lev. 18:22), are worthy of death for their vile, depraved, unnatural sex practices (Lev. 20:13; Rom. 1:32), are called dogs because they are filthy, impudent and libidinous (Deut. 23:17,18; Mat. 7:6; Phil. 3:2), produce by their very presence in society a kind of mass intoxication from their wine made from grapes of gall from the vine of Sodom and the fields of Gomorrah which poisons society's mores with the poison of dragons and the cruel venom of asps (Deut. 32:32,33), declare their sin and shame on their countenance (Isa. 3:9), are shameless and unable to blush (Jer. 6:15), are workers of iniquity and hated by God (Psa. 5:5), are liars and murderers (Jn. 8:44), are filthy and lawless (2 Pet. 2:7,8), are natural brute beasts (2 Pet. 2:12), are dogs eating their own vomit and sows wallowing in their own feces (2 Pet. 2:22), will proliferate at the end of the world bringing final judgment on mankind (Lk. 17:28-30), have been finally given up by God to uncleanness dishonoring their own bodies among themselves, to vile affections, and to a reprobate mind such that they cannot think straight about anything (Rom. 1:23-28), have wholly given themselves over to fornication and gone after strange flesh (Jude 7), must be pulled as faggots from the fire (Jude 23), and have no hope of Heaven unless they repent (Rev. 22:15), which they can't do in their prideful state (Jer. 6:15). They need to hear this truth if they are to have any hope of penitence, faith in Jesus Christ and salvation (I Timothy 4:2-4).

TO MARQUEER:
SODOMY IS AN ABOMINABLE SIN, WORTHY OF DEATH.
"If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them." Leviticus 20:13. "Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them." Romans 1:32.

See also Leviticus 18:22, Genesis 19, Romans 1:18-32, I Corinthians 6:9-11, I Timothy 1:10, and Jude 7.
GOD HATES ALL WORKERS OF INIQUITY.
"The foolish shall not stand in thy sight, thou hatest all workers of iniquity." Psalm 5:5.
See also Leviticus 20:23, Leviticus 26:30, Deuteronomy 32:19, Psalm 5:6, Psalm 11:5, Malachi 1:3, Matthew 7:23, and Romans 9:13.
JESUS CHRIST DIED ONLY FOR THOSE WHO BELIEVE.
"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.
See also John 13:1, John 17:9, Ephesians 5:25, etc.
ONLY GOD'S ELECT HAVE THE CAPABILITY TO BELIEVE.
"Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them." John 12:39,40.
See also John 10:11,26, Matthew 11:25,26, Acts 13:48, Romans 9:19-24, etc.
SODOMITES ARE PROUD OF THEIR SIN ("GAY PRIDE"), AND IN THAT PRIDEFUL STATE THEY CANNOT REPENT - YOU CANNOT REPENT OF SOMETHING YOU'RE PROUD OF.
"Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD." Jeremiah 6:15.
See also Jeremiah 13:23, Romans 1:24-32, Ezekiel 16:49-50, etc.
THE SODOMITES' ONLY HOPE IS TO HAVE THE UNAMBIGUOUS TRUTH PREACHED TO THEM, AND PERHAPS GOD WILL SOFTEN THEIR HEARTS AND GRANT THEM REPENTANCE TO DEPART FROM THEIR SIN AND NAME THE NAME OF CHRIST. NOT VERY LIKELY, THOUGH, SINCE GOD HAS GIVEN THEM UP.
"Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal,

The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity." II Timothy 2:19. "Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness...unto vile affections...to a reprobate mind." Romans 1:24-28.
See also II Timothy 2:24-26, Psalm 5:5, I Corinthians 6:9-11, Acts 17:30, Jude 22,23, etc.
THERE IS A HELL WHERE ALL IMPENITENT SINNERS WILL RESIDE FOR ALL ETERNITY. THAT INCLUDES SODOMITES (CALLED "DOGS").
"And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh." Isaiah 66:24. "For without are dogs..." Revelation 22:15.
See also Mark 9:44, Luke 16:23, Revelation 20:15.
In summary, sodomites are wicked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly (Gen. 13:13), are violent and doom nations (Gen. 19:1-25; Jgs. 19), are abominable to God (Lev. 18:22), are worthy of death for their vile, depraved, unnatural sex practices (Lev. 20:13; Rom. 1:32), are called dogs because they are filthy, impudent and libidinous (Deut. 23:17,18; Mat. 7:6; Phil. 3:2), produce by their very presence in society a kind of mass intoxication from their wine made from grapes of gall from the vine of Sodom and the fields of Gomorrah which poisons society's mores with the poison of dragons and the cruel venom of asps (Deut. 32:32,33), declare their sin and shame on their countenance (Isa. 3:9), are shameless and unable to blush (Jer. 6:15), are workers of iniquity and hated by God (Psa. 5:5), are liars and murderers (Jn. 8:44), are filthy and lawless (2 Pet. 2:7,8), are natural brute beasts (2 Pet. 2:12), are dogs eating their own vomit and sows wallowing in their own feces (2 Pet. 2:22), will proliferate at the end of the world bringing final judgment on mankind (Lk. 17:28-30), have been finally given up by God to uncleanness dishonoring their own bodies among themselves, to vile affections, and to a reprobate mind such that they cannot think straight about anything (Rom. 1:23-28), have wholly given themselves over to fornication and gone after strange flesh (Jude 7), must be pulled as faggots from the fire (Jude 23), and have no hope of Heaven unless they repent (Rev. 22:15), which they can't do in their prideful state (Jer. 6:15). They need to hear this truth if they are to have any hope of penitence, faith in Jesus Christ and salvation (I Timothy 4:2-4).

Day 227 of Mark crying...
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and
fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
"Maj Steven J Robeson of the CAP has enaged in a multi effort at libbel and fraud."
WAH! WAH! WAH!

So, let's re-cap Mark's wonderful life, shall we:

1) He was drafted into the US Army.
2) He is a member of the Chemical Corps.
3) The military won't let him retire.
4) He doesn't serve under the name 'Mark Morgan', but that's okay, 'cuz
the FBI, DOD, and CIA have all told him he can do it.
5) He is on-the-lam from stalking former marines and fatal attraction
ex-wives
6) He was, until recently, paying $5/hr. to access his ISP
7) He has a 248 IQ, but can't figure out how to use a spell checker.
8) He is a bi-sexual 33 yr. old Pagan male ham who likes to be spanked.

9) He can't find any action on the military base in Central IL, so he has to ask people on USENET.
10) His best like-minded buddy lives in Glendale, West Virginia and neither of them can spell.

Have I missed anything?

"He said he was a Kentucky Colonel. And he works as a consultant for the Government, then said he was tech support..... "

July 31, 2006
Editor Tedd Mirgliotta, KB8NW
Provided by BARF80.ORG (Cleveland, Ohio)

Thanks to the Northern Ohio Amateur Radio Society, Northern Ohio DX Association, Ohio/Penn PacketCluster Network, AB5K & the AR TelNet Clusters Network, K1VV, K1XN & GoList, NG3K, W3UR & The Daily DX, N4AA & QRZ DX, K5XK, WW5L, K8YSE, NE8Z/HC1MD, W9DX, N0HJZ, Pete's-DX-Newsdesk, CX5BW, DL1EK & The DX News Letter, F5NQL & UFT, HA5BWW, I1JQJ/IK1ADH & 425 DX News, LU6EF, M0RNR, OH2BH, OH2BN, PT7WA, RSGB IOTA, UT5UGR, VA3RJ & ICPO, YO3JW and YU1AB for the following DX information.

 SPECIAL NOTE FROM EDITOR (Tedd, KB8NW): This week's bulletin was sent out earlier than normal to provide the latest update on the Swains Island DXpedition and to accommodate the late RSGB IOTA Contest announcements. Also, we advise readers to visit NG3K Amateur Radio Contest/DX Web Page which will provide a consolidated listing of the RSGB IOTA Contest participants at: http://www.ng3k.com/Misc/iota2006.html

 KH8S, SWAINS ISLAND (News/Update). Operators Kan/JA1BK (Team Leader), Uti/KS6FO, Paul/F6EXV, John/K1ER, Tets/AH7C and John/K8YSE are on their way to activate the new DXCC entity (#337) under the callsign KH8SI. According to a press release by Larry Gandy, AH8LG, the team set sail for Swains Island on the "MV Tokelau" from Pago Pago harbor on Thursday, July 27th, at 12:30 local Samoan time which is 2330z. The trip will take about 24 hours to get to Swains Island (OC-200) and should be operational about 6 hours after landing. This means they should be on landing around 0000z Saturday and possibly be on the air around 0600z. The team would have liked to have been there earlier but transportation availability in American Samoa has been the reason for their delay. This will be a short operation. The team will leave Swains Island on Tuesday, August 1st. They need to be back in Pago Pago on August 3rd to catch their flights. The team will be concentrating on 160-17 meters CW/SSB because of expected propagation conditions. They are also taking plenty of equipment with them. This list was released earlier in the week:
1 EA FT-2000 TXR Many other dipoles for other bands.
1 EA FT-1000MP TXR A pushup mast and other types.
1 EA ALPHA 87A AMP Lots of rope and a slingshot for

1 EA PL-922A AMP getting rope in the coconut trees.
1 EA VL-1000 AMP Plus all the other stuff like food, 1 EA FT-900 water, coax cable, computers for 2 EA HB9CV BEAMS ONE FOR 18 AND 14 logging, gas for generators, tents 1 EA 3EL SPIDERBEAM 15-17-20 and nets for bugs.
1 EA 5500 WATT GENERATOR
1 EA 4500 WATT GENERATOR
1 EA FOLDED DIPOLE 3-30 MHZ

OPDX and its readers would like to wish the team the best of luck and a safe operation. The KH8SI team is calling this a "FRIENDLY DXPEDITION IS!" operation.
PLEASE NOTE: The team "WILL NOT" be in the IOTA Contest, so please DO NOT ask for a contest report. If you need OC-200 for a new island, PLEASE JUST MAKE A NORMAL QSO CONTACT. QSL this KH8SI operation via JA1BK.

ONE LAST NOTE: A couple of the team members were active this past week from American Samoa. John, K8YSE, informed your editor on Wednesday that he made 900 QSOs as KH8/K8YSE. QSL via K8YSE. Paul, F6EXV, was also active as WH8/WH7S. QSL via F6EXV.

DXCC COUNTRY/ENTITY REPORT: According to the AR-Cluster Network for the week of Friday, 21st/July, through Friday, 28th/July there were 196 countries active. * PLEASE NOTE: The report "could" contain "Pirate/SLIM" operations or more likely a "BUSTED CALLSIGN". As always, you never know - "Work First Worry Later" (WFWL).

4O3/YU6, MONTENEGRO. Operators Toma/YU1AB and Emin/T91S will be active as YU6/YU1AB and YU6/DK4ES, respectively, from August 1-10th. Activity will be focused on the SSB and CW modes. QSL via YU1AB.

4O3T AND YU6AO, MONTENEGRO NEWS. Both 4O3T and YU6AO operations are still very active all over the bands (CW/SSB/RTTY). Activity will continue through August 13-15th. There are no press releases or updates to report on from the YU6AO team. However, the YU6AO team now has a Web page with an online log search at: http://www.yu6ao.info/
As this was being typed, the log was only updated through July 25th.
Martti Laine, OH2BH, (one of the operators of the 4O3T team) has put out a few press releases over the past week with some pictures. On Thursday, July 27th, Martti informs that the first wave of operators have done a mammoth job and 50k QSOs have been made. The first team of operators are preparing to leave as the second team is beginning to arrive. Martti states, "DXpedition leader Ranko Boca, YT6A, indicates that everything is on track for the next 50K QSOs with a new and fresh operator fleet." OPDX InterNet Subscribers will receive all of Martti's press releases (minus the picture) as an additional bulletin.

JUST A REMINDER: The 4O3T online log is available at:
http://www.yu6scg.cg.yu/log-book-search.html

C9, MOZAMBIQUE (IOTA Op). Ken/G3OCA and Rei/DL6DQW will be in C9-land from August 5-14th. During their stay, they plan to activate the Island of Inhacamba (AF-103) the last unactivated IOTA group in Mozambique. The callsign may be C94KF. QSL via G3OCA. Activity will be on 40-10 meters, CW and SSB. Also, look for them to be active from the mainland using the callsign C94RF or C93RF.

COULD THERE BE A 338? There have been several reports in the media that Kosovo Representatives have formally made a pitch for independence face-to-face with Serbia. Kosovo's ethnic Albanian President Fatmir Sejdiu said independence was "the beginning and end of our position." Could this be DXCC entity 338 in the close future?

CT3, MADEIRA ISLANDS. Zoltan, HA5PP, will be active as CT3/HA5PP during the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) as a Single-Op/Single-Band entry (band not mentioned). QSL via HA5PP.

IOTA NEWS (RSGB IOTA Contest this weekend, July 29-30th).....
AS-122. Operators HL2UOK, HL2AEJ, HL2IFR, HL2ADO and HL2IYI will be active as D7C from Daecheong Island, July 28-30th. Activity will include the IOTA Contest. QSL via HL2IFR.

EU-006. Dave, EI3IO, will be active as EJ3IO from the Aran Islands from July 27th to August 1st. QSL via his home callsign.

EU-008. Members of the Cockenzie and Port Seton Amateur Radio Club (CPSARC) will once again operate from the Isle of Tiree (IOSA NH04, WAB NM04), the most westernly of Scotland's Inner Hebridean Islands, during the RSGB IOTA (Islands on the Air) Contest which runs from 1200z, July 29th until 1200z, July 30th, using the club's special contest callsign GM2T. This year's team consists of : Cambell/MM0DXC, Bob/GM4UYZ, John/MM0JXI, Brian/M0RNR, Landles/GM4XZZ, Norman/GM4IUS, Willie/MM0WZZ, Gareth/M3INO, Derek/MM3PYX, Colin/2M0CRR, Moe/MM0MRM, Ellis/GM4GZW and Geoff/MM5AHO. For QSL information visit http://www.qrz.com/gm2t or QSL via GM4UYZ Bob. For details about CPSARC, visit their Web page at: http://www.cpsarc.com

EU-030. Look for Jens, DL8WOW, to be active as OZ/DL8WOW from Bornholm Island (BO-001 for the Danish Islands Award, WLOTA LH-2203), August 7-17th. Activity will be on 40-10 meters, mainly QRP CW at 5 watts. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

EU-064. Members of the RC de Provins ARC will be active as TM7C from Ile de Noirmoutier, July 27th through August 8th. Operators mentioned are: Frank/F4AJQ (SSB), John/F5VHQ (SSB), Jean-Paul/F8BJI (SSB), Pascal/F5JSD (CW), Flo/F5CWU (CW) and Bernard/F9IE (CW). Activity will include the IOTA Contest as a Multi-Op/Mixed-Mode/24-HR/Low-Power entry. Look for activity outside of the contest on the HF bands, including the WARC bands and 6m. Modes will be CW, SSB and digitals. QSL via F6KOP, bureau preferred.

EU-091. Operators IK6CAC, IK7JWX, 9A3A, IK7QMJ, IK7FPX, IK7LMX and I7PXV will be active as IK6CAC/7 in the IOTA Contest as a Multi-Op/Mixed-Mode/Low-Power/DXpedition entry from Grande Island of Porto Cesareo (LE)(IIA LE-02). Outside the contest, look for activity on 6m (WW. Locator JN80WG). QSL via the home callsign, by the bureau or QRZ.com.

EU-127. Operators Andy/DL7AT, Olaf/DL4HG, Dirk/DJ1LD, Andy/DG3XA and Thorsten/DG7TG will be active as DF0TX and DA0T from Helgoland Island (N-14 for the German Islands Award, WLOTA LH-0518), July 28-30th. Activity will include the IOTA Contest. The operators might use homecall/p prior to the contest. QSL via their home callsign. QSL DF0TX via the information on QRZ.com.

EU-149. Operators ES1AN, ES1LS, ES1QV, ES1LSR, ES2EZ, ES2DJ and ES2NJ will be active as ES2U from Rammu Island from July 27th to August 1st. Activity will include the IOTA Contest.

EU-183. A group of Romanian hams will try to activate Sacalinu Mare Island in the Black Sea. They will be active in the IOTA Contest and after with the callsign YP1W. The group will be on the island between July 26 and August 6th. If possible, they will try to activate some of the lighthouses in the area: ROM 007 and ROM 008 (using homecall/p). Operators mentioned are: YO3JW, YO8RIJ, YO9GJX, YO9WF and YO9XC. QSL via YO3JW.

NA-026. Andrei, EW1AR-NP3D, will be active as NP3D/W2 in the IOTA Contest.

NA-096. Mark, KB2MS, will be active as HI3/KB2MS from Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic between July 28th to about August 23rd. Activity will be on all bands, except 160 meters. QSL only direct via his home callsign.

KH0, MARIANA ISLANDS. Skip, JE2HCJ, is expected to be active as KH0/JE2HCJ from Saipan, Northern Mariana Islands (OC-086), July 27-31st. Activity will be on 160-6 meters using CW, SSB and RTTY. QSL via his home callsign, direct or by the bureau.

LIGHTHOUSE ACTIVITY. Peter, SP5PB, will be active as SP5PB/2 from Stilo Lighthouse (POL-017) to commemorate 100th anniversary of the lighthouse's establishment. Activity will be on HF both CW and SSB between August 17-20th. A special award will be issued for all who make contact with SP5PB/2 from Stilo Lighthouse. Details on the award is available at: http://www.qsl.net/sp5pb/STILO.htm

NATIONAL LIGHTHOUSE-LIGHTSHIP WEEKEND QSO PARTY (NLLW-2006). The NLLW QSO Party will be held August 5th, 0001z to August 6th, on through 2359z. The activity is to promote public awareness of ham radio and lighthouses; to contribute to the recognition that lighthouses, lightships, and their keepers deserve; to foster camaraderie within the ham fraternity; and to provide fellowship amongst the members of the Amateur Radio Lighthouse Society. Awards are available. Please visit:

P3, CYPRUS (AS-004). Denis, 5B4AHI, will be active as P3B during the RSGB IOTA Contest (July 29-30th). QSL via RX3RC.

P40, ARUBA (SA-036). John, W2GD, will be active as P40W during both the CQWW DX SSB Contest (October 28-29th) and the CQWW CW Contest (November 25-26th) as a Single-Op/All-Band entry. Activity outside the contest will be on the WARC bands and 160m. QSL via N2MM.

QSL INFO AND NEWS.....
Effective, July 1st, QSL 3B8FQ direct or via K5XK--not via RW6HS or the RB5 routes listed in some databases. Rachid's direct address is now updated on QRZ.com and QSLs are being printed for distribution by Ron, K5XK. Rachid now has an updated rig and is spending more time on the WARC bands as time and propogation allow.

C91TL QSL STATUS. Tom, WW5L/C91TL, reports that all 200+ cards for his C91TL Mozambique operation received direct as of Monday, July 24th, have been answered. Approximately 2,100 contacts are in the log. He also mentions that the QSL routes for other stations on their Mozambique DXpedition go via the following QSL routes:
C91CF & C91HQ--K5LBU--Frosty C91TK-NQ7R--Tom C91TL--WW5L--Tom C91H-ZS6JR--Daniel C91JR--N4PJ--Art
ADDED NOTE: An online log search for the K5LBU Mozambique DXpedition (June 29th-July 13th) is now available for callsigns C91CF, C91HQ, C91TL, C91JR, C91EE, and C91TK at: http://www.tdxs.net/C9.html

Luke, PT7WA, reports that QSLs for all WRTC2006 stations will be managed by PP5VB. You may QSL via Bureau or direct to PP5VB. He also provided a list of SA-026 and SA-027 WRTC stations:
SA-026 (13 stations) SA-027 (5 stations)

SILENT KEYS (SK).....
N4BQW - Chuck Brady, DXer and retired space shuttle astronaut, became "SK" on July 23rd. His age was 54. Many may remember him by his 3Y0C Bouvet Island operation and his work on the SAREX (Shuttle Amateur Radio Experiment) program.

CW7BY - Raul Roji, a very enthusiastic DXer and Contester became a "SK" on July 25th. His age was 84.

HA5HR - Alex (Szilard Kerekes), a known Hungarian HAM, old timer - became a "SK" on July 19th. His age was 84. His previous callsign at the age of 35 was YR5BP.

OPDX and its reader would like to send out our deepest sympathy to the families and friends of the above individuals.

SPECIAL EVENTS. The International Shortwave League (ISWL) still continues with their 60th (Diamond) Anniversary celebrations this coming weekend: July 29-30th. Look for GB6SWL to be active for 2 days from Walton on the Naze, Essex. Herbie, G6XOU, will be the main operator. PLEASE NOTE: The ISWL QSL information has been changed. Herbie Yeldham, G6XOU, has taken over as the QSL Manager for ALL ISWL Club and Special Event Callsigns. Herbie has also become the ISWL's QSL Bureau Manager. All cards and logs sent to the old address WILL be forwarded to Herbie, so there is no need to resend cards to the new address. The NEW address for the Bureau and QSL Manager, is: The ISWL QSL Bureau, Belle Fleurs, 18 Wade Reach, Walton on the Naze, Essex, CO14 8RG England. Also, see QRZ.com for further details. Direct Cards are welcomed, also via the ISWL Bureau, or the RSGB Bureau, or Electronic cards via, www.eqsl.cc (They do not currently use LOTW). OTHER NOTE: The ISWL Club callsigns - "GS4BJC /P" and "MX1SWL /P" will also be active until the end of July. The ISWL Awards Program is open to non members for a very small fee to cover postage to any country in the world. For all details, including QSL information and the Special Diamond Anniversary Awards, etc....., please visit: http://www.iswl.org.uk

Subject: 4O3T --- Montenegro --- 75M SSB
From The Beautiful Coastal City of Bar
Date: Tue, 25 Jul 2006 16:31:01 +0300

The following message is from Martti, OH2BH now in Montenegro:

4O3T --- MONTENEGRO

75M SSB From The Beautiful Coastal City of Bar

During the first weekend, with more than 30.000 QSOs in the books, the 160/80M emphases were on cw with low-band powerhouse Ditmar, DL3DXX and the likes of him at the helm. In spite of the summer season, they were able to get their signals deep into the Midwest of the U.S. on 160M using a Titanex vertical. On Monday, first steps were taken to prepare 75M SSB activity for the coming weekend from Ocas near the coastal city of Bar. Trial operations will be conducted tonight by Dragan, YT6Y.

The location is part of a navy radio station utilizing large commercial wide-band conical antennas with a gain of 5dBi. It's a low-band dream location with a large sloping plateau next to the Adriatic Sea with an open shot toward the United States, Japan and Europe. While the place looks like a paradise, it hides an extensive radial field buried into the ground. We heard stories about 200-watt ship radios relaying messages with S9 telephone-like signals below 2MHz from Cuba and other long distance maritime locations.

In the evening, sipping the best local wines during a planning session, Nick, LZ1JY was heard making a rock solid commitment to put three-thousand 75M QSOs into the books from this marvelous QTH. "I'm not gonna leave the country before the job gets done", Nick affirmed. Nick will be operating with his personal low-band gear while Acom Bulgaria has lined up their best amplifiers for this activation.

On the regular 4O3T sites, plans were made to boost the second weekend run for an even stronger performance than the first because the sites are now built up and fully stabilized. Latest on July 27, RTTY will added when the IK1PMR and K2LEO duo arrives. Also the first 6M QSOs were made yesterday, and soon the magic band will be up and running.

Subject: OH2BH: WHAT DO YOU DO IF ONE MORNING YOU WAKE UP IN A NEW DXCC COUNTER?
Date: Thu, 27 Jul 2006 12:36:51 +0300

The following report is from Martti, OH2BH, now in Montenegro:

WHAT DO YOU DO IF ONE MORNING YOU WAKE UP IN A NEW DXCC COUNTER?

While in Montenegro, one thing is a must. Find Rajko, YU6DZ who has been a most productive local operator in the Republic of Montenegro since its birth and who has delighted the bands with his solid presence.

Driving to his house through and under climbing gravevines and honeybee hives shows immediately that there is a ham there spelled with a capital H --- a 4-element quad overlooks the property and the man himself with Mama Margarita are there to welcome us.

Over an expresso and cookies we talk, and we talk some more over some homemade brandy. Ugh, gulping the stuff down, it is strong like the signals on 20M this morning.

"Life will never be the same again now that QSOs are coming in left and right", says Rajko, a 65-year old retired Chief Naval Security Officer.
"My days have got a new routine. Yes, there's breakfast and lunch and dinner, but nowadays there are QSOs in between them. It's only some twenty days and I have more than 6500 of them", Rajko muses.

He is considering on updating his current Yaesu FT101B to more modern gear but Mama Margarita objects. "If Rajko gets into this changing mode, he may update everything - and I may have to go as well". Margarita is full of happy life and humor and nowadays even more so. "I have started to collect stamps and I get a full bag every day. We are now seen as popular favorites by our mailman". And then we open some of the letters that have arrived today.

"It only took a few days until I realized that it would not work on my own frequency but I saw that the tubes of my separate VFO would still light up, and I gave them some rock and roll", Rajko continues.

But I find many people not in the log - and we start leafing through the pages of Rajko's logbook filled with handwritten entries that look like objects of art. The QSOs go fine all the way, but then in the final stage people do not understand that the confirmation phase is equally important.
It's a matter of not leaving a good affair halfway through. "I cross them out - look at these... there was a QSO but no more. They should make a solid one and not run away", Rajko points out. He tunes up the trustworthy FT101B and lets his old electronic key sing, and sure it does. We realize that he wants to be perfect on the end part - maybe even throw in a CQ before starting the next QSO. Do we all remember that CQ means "I seek you"? Surely Rajko does that and then some more.

That gives us a chance to review his logbooks and find out the first ten that got him during his first days.

USA: W7CB, W6LZ, W3UR, W3LPL, NG8Z, W3BGN, N4OA, N6AR, K2VV, W5UN
JA: JJ2LPV, JA4DND, JA3FGJ, JE2LUN, JA1EOD, JA2XKM, JG3FPD, JJ2LPV, JA2FMW, JR2JLO
EU: YZ7AA, I2ZBX, HB9AFI, DL6KVN, LA6CF, LX1NO, SM5DJZ, OK1TM, SP8AJR, OH2BU

But we find a treasure there as well: with his transverter and 7 watts Rajko has added HI3TEJ, NL7AU/4, N4IS and W1JR to his book on 6M!

Mamma Margarita is packing up something for us to take home, as they do in those friendly corners of the world. We get two jars of honey and two bottles of brandy made by YU6DZ from their own berries. We are hugging and hoping to see again. It's a warm feeling to have met Rajko and Margarita in their own element - under the climbing grapevines and and the 4-element cubical quad.

As we back out, my cell phone sends a text message - it's from Bernie, W3UR. "I am just working Rajko on RTTY". But Rajko is still standing on the driveway and waving us goodbye. We did not see anything looking like RTTY in the house. But I just answer Bernie: "DX Is".

Subject: OH2BH: 4O3T OPERATION HITS THE 50.000 QSO MARK AFTER FIRST WEEK
Date: Thu, 27 Jul 2006 15:38:54 +0300

The following story is from Martti, OH2BH:

4O3T OPERATION HITS THE 50.000 QSO MARK AFTER FIRST WEEK

It is Thursday with 50K QSOs under the belt and the first wave of operators having done a mammoth job, coupled with building the camp in temperatures often reaching 45 degrees C (115 F). They have not seen clouds or rain during the entire week. The home going ops will be saying goodbye on tonight's dinner cruise while welcoming many of the second week people to Montenegro.

DXpedition leader Ranko Boca, YT6A indicates that everything is on track for the next 50K QSOs with a new and fresh operator fleet. He also wants to recognize Hans, PB2T for acting as site manager in Klinci and other members of the Organizing Committee for their valuable contributions as well as all the guest operators for giving their best effort and time out of their summer schedules.

The 4O3T powerhouses, Ranko, YT6A and Dragan, YT6Y were heading home yesterday to see their families after ten days away, only to return today to lead the dinner cruise. Ranko's message to the world is: "Allow us to celebrate on Thursday night, we will be back on duty on Friday".

Many people have commented on the huge signals emanating from 4O3T. Here is the lineup: the Obosnik site is located on top of a 600m mountain overseeing the beautiful Boka Bay with the following antennas: 10M: 5-L, 15M: 3-L & 4-L, 20M: 3-L and 5-L beams fed together, 40M: 5-L beaming to USA, 80/160M: slopers from a 45m tower plus NE and NW beverages; on the Klinci site a TB36 tribander is used plus a Titanex vertical and a variety of other vertical and wire antennas. On both locations they use 2-L SteppIR beams on WARC bands donated by SteppIR and the Northern California DX Foundation (NCDXF).

Five (5) Yaesu FT1000 transceivers with a range of amplifiers are employed while a new FT2000 has undergone severe field testing, driving a huge Henry amplifier to provide Yaesu with a complete field report. Other smaller radios are used for a number of special tasks.

GOD HATES ALL WORKERS OF INIQUITY.
"The foolish shall not stand in thy sight, thou hatest all workers of iniquity." Psalm 5:5.
See also Leviticus 20:23, Leviticus 26:30, Deuteronomy 32:19, Psalm 5:6, Psalm 11:5, Malachi 1:3, Matthew 7:23, and Romans 9:13.
JESUS CHRIST DIED ONLY FOR THOSE WHO BELIEVE.
"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.
See also John 13:1, John 17:9, Ephesians 5:25, etc.
ONLY GOD'S ELECT HAVE THE CAPABILITY TO BELIEVE.
"Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them." John 12:39,40.
See also John 10:11,26, Matthew 11:25,26, Acts 13:48, Romans 9:19-24, etc.
SODOMITES ARE PROUD OF THEIR SIN ("GAY PRIDE"), AND IN THAT PRIDEFUL STATE THEY CANNOT REPENT - YOU CANNOT REPENT OF SOMETHING YOU'RE PROUD OF.
"Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD." Jeremiah 6:15.
See also Jeremiah 13:23, Romans 1:24-32, Ezekiel 16:49-50, etc.
THE SODOMITES' ONLY HOPE IS TO HAVE THE UNAMBIGUOUS TRUTH PREACHED TO THEM, AND PERHAPS GOD WILL SOFTEN THEIR HEARTS AND GRANT THEM REPENTANCE TO DEPART FROM THEIR SIN AND NAME THE NAME OF CHRIST. NOT VERY LIKELY, THOUGH, SINCE GOD HAS GIVEN THEM UP.
"Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity." II Timothy 2:19. "Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness...unto vile affections...to a reprobate mind." Romans 1:24-28.

See also II Timothy 2:24-26, Psalm 5:5, I Corinthians 6:9-11, Acts 17:30, Jude 22,23, etc.
THERE IS A HELL WHERE ALL IMPENITENT SINNERS WILL RESIDE FOR ALL ETERNITY. THAT INCLUDES SODOMITES (CALLED "DOGS").
"And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh." Isaiah 66:24. "For without are dogs..." Revelation 22:15.
See also Mark 9:44, Luke 16:23, Revelation 20:15.
In summary, sodomites are wicked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly (Gen. 13:13), are violent and doom nations (Gen. 19:1-25; Jgs. 19), are abominable to God (Lev. 18:22), are worthy of death for their vile, depraved, unnatural sex practices (Lev. 20:13; Rom. 1:32), are called dogs because they are filthy, impudent and libidinous (Deut. 23:17,18; Mat. 7:6; Phil. 3:2), produce by their very presence in society a kind of mass intoxication from their wine made from grapes of gall from the vine of Sodom and the fields of Gomorrah which poisons society's mores with the poison of dragons and the cruel venom of asps (Deut. 32:32,33), declare their sin and shame on their countenance (Isa. 3:9), are shameless and unable to blush (Jer. 6:15), are workers of iniquity and hated by God (Psa. 5:5), are liars and murderers (Jn. 8:44), are filthy and lawless (2 Pet. 2:7,8), are natural brute beasts (2 Pet. 2:12), are dogs eating their own vomit and sows wallowing in their own feces (2 Pet. 2:22), will proliferate at the end of the world bringing final judgment on mankind (Lk. 17:28-30), have been finally given up by God to uncleanness dishonoring their own bodies among themselves, to vile affections, and to a reprobate mind such that they cannot think straight about anything (Rom. 1:23-28), have wholly given themselves over to fornication and gone after strange flesh (Jude 7), must be pulled as faggots from the fire (Jude 23), and have no hope of Heaven unless they repent (Rev. 22:15), which they can't do in their prideful state (Jer. 6:15). They need to hear this truth if they are to have any hope of penitence, faith in Jesus Christ and salvation (I Timothy 4:2-4).

Marqueer's Message From Hell
"Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they come into this place of torment. Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead." Luke 16:27-31. Listen to Moses and the prophets:
"Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination." Leviticus 18:22.

"Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming...the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee." Isaiah 14:9-11.

"The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb; And the smoke of their torment ascendeth forever and ever; and they have no rest day or night." There was once a medical student specializing in pathology who truly wanted to excel in his studies. Without fail, he would daily visit the school's path lab following his classes to do extra work. One evening he uncovered a cadaver only to notice a cork plugging it's rectum. Curious, he removed the cork only to hear, "CQ contest , I just can't wait to call CQ contest ..." Startled, he replaced the cork. Curiosity soon got the best of him and he once again removed the cork. Again he heard the tune, "CQ contest , I just can't wait to call CQ contest ..." He could stand it no more. He replaced the cork, covered the cadaver and raced upstairs to his professor's office. He persuaded the man to accompany him back to the lab. Once there, the student again uncovered the cadaver and displayed the corked rectum. The professor looked unfazed. When the student removed the cork, the same sound emanated, "CQ contest." The professor looked bored and started to walk away. The student was aghast at this casual response. He said to the professor, "Don't you find this amazing?" The professor replied, "Not really, almost any asshole can call CQ Contest.

A mother, accompanied by her small daughter, were in New YorkCity. The mother was trying to hail a cab, when her daughter noticed several wildly dressed women who were loitering on a nearby street corner. The mother finally hailed her cab and they both climbed in, at which point the daughter asks her mother, "Mummie, what are all those ladies waiting for by that corner?", to which the mother replies, "Those ladies are waiting for their husbands to come home from work."

A nearby ham radio operator, upon hearing this exchange, turns to the mother and says,

"Ahhhhhhh, C'mon lady!!!! Tell your daughter the truth!!!! For crying out loud. They're hookers!"

A brief period of silence follows, and the daughter then asks,"Mummie, do the ladies have any children?"

The mother replies, "Of course dear. Where do you think hams come from?"

Ham Guts

A man went to a guts store to get some guts for dinner. He sees a sign remarking on the quality of guts offered at this particular gut store. So he asks the butcher: "How much for Engineer guts?"
"3 dollars an ounce."
"How much for teacher guts?"
"4 dollars an ounce."
"How much for ham operator guts?"
"100 dollars an ounce."
"Why is ham operator guts so much more?"
"Do you know how many hams you need to kill to get one ounce of guts?

by Rabbi Eliyahu Stern

Tisha b'Av (the 9th of the month of Av), the day Jews mourn the loss of the Temple and their subsequent exile, is one of those holidays that never made too much sense growing up. Let me explain by recounting a story told to me by my teacher Rabbi David Hartman. Following the Six Day War, Hartman, who was a rabbi in Montreal, was commemorating Tisha b'Av with his congregation. He had just been in Israel celebrating its glorious victory. As he looked out into his congregation he became increasingly disturbed. Shaking his head and saying to himself, "What are they mourning for? We have returned! We have returned to our homeland." Hartman got up from his seat, walked over to the podium, and asked for his congregation's attention. They were sitting on the floor saying over lamentations, but they looked up from their prayer books and gave their ears to their spiritual leader. Looking at them in shock and disbelief Hartman exclaimed, "I want you all to know that the Jewish people are singing and dancing in the streets of Jerusalem while you are sitting here and crying." He then went back to his seat and the bewildered congregation went back to mourning.

In recent years, Hartman's enthusiasm has become tempered by the reality that we have not been fully redeemed and maybe we are still in a state of mourning. The tumultuous events of the past few weeks in Gaza and Lebanon remind us just how important that reality check is.

It's a shame, but this year we all have so much to be mourning about.

It is "tenets", Dufus. As in doctrine or theory.

Tenants are persons who occupy the property of another.

You just can't fix stupid, can you?

The bottom line, Mark, despite your weak-kneed responses, is that you are an intellectual midget. Between you and mental misfit Wiseman, the two of you have managed to turn this news group into a virtual cesspool. Your half-assed responses that you are merely defending your "honor" are but more of your ongoing charade. You've been spamming Usenet since at least 1998. You have no honor. You certainly have no pride.
You, like Wiseman, apparently have little to nothing going for you. I think that I can safely speak for all of this newsgroup when I say that you are a pure, unadulterated idiot, Mark. You make your unwelcome presence known for just about any post so presented, whether or not your comments were asked for. You even attempted to ingratiate yourself with Paul in hopes that if Paul responded to you it would lend you credibility. By his non-response you were summarily rebuffed and ignored. Apparently Paul considers you to be a mental inferior unworthy of his attention, and rightfully so. He shut you off, didn't he? So, Mark, after being ignored by Paul, you had to seek your own intellectual level...that being Roger Wiseman.
Disdain, Mark, look it up. That is how many of us view you. I will take it one step further. I pity you. You sit on your overweight haunches day in, day out with no life save for Usenet. I feel sorry for you, Mark. I hesitate to quantify anybody as a loser, but if I had to pick an example, you would be it.
Simply put? You are an idiot, Mark. A bean-brained, grossly overweight nonentity. Nothing more, nothing less.

What honor? Markieboy has no honor.

This is correct. You are right. Had he any honor, he'd cease spamming Usenet to the tune of 40 to 50 posts per diem. Had he any honor he'd cease exchanging taunts with Roger, too. (sewage seeking its own level there) Unfortunately for the rest of us Mark has no honor, fewer scruples, and zero common sense. He will most likely continue to burden the groups with his worn one-liners and unasked for opinions.
You'd think that after being rebuffed, made fun of, and digitally spat upon that he'd learn something. This is not to be and Mark will continue, sadly, to provide us with blatantly open displays of his stupidity. Mark is a classic example of the old saying, "You just can't fix stupid."

Wireless image transmission over walkie-talkie; has this been done? Clearly the camera cell phones have the option of transmitting images, I am curious if you can modify a toy walkie talkie radios for general digital data transmission in a similar way?

I am sure you could legal note make sure it is low powered toy if you want it legal but something like a rig blaster should do it if you have jacks on the wt even just plug cord off the sc with the software if you do the PTT keying by hand

Hello everyone,

I'm looking to anyone who record any message on January 15th 2004 on VHF channel 16 for the accident of the french vessel "BUGALED BREIZH".

I'm also looking for any 'confidential' message recorded during this day about this accident on any frequency.

I'm making a final report about this accident south of english coast, near Lizard Point, and all the clues I can get, will be helpfull.

Many thanks to all.

Yeah, I missed half of the net, which was apparently jammed by some 3945 guys before I got home. Cindy Sheehan had me pinned down in bed and wouldn't let me leave. She just loves it when I don my John Kerry mask and give her "chin". What a squealer! Did you know her panties are red with a hammer and sickle pattern?

Cynthia couldn't make it. She passed out at Popeye's Fried Chicken after a day long crack binge.

Hi Ben

Modifying the walkie talkie itself is probably way too cost prohibitive. It is much cheaper to use a PC (eg laptop or maybe PDA) to do the necessary encoding/decoding of digital information. I'd suggest a soundcard interface rather than purpose built hardware like a TNC. You can even acoustically couple but you may have to lower the data rate some.

Your next hurdle will be the much lower data rate of an essentially voice bandwidth radio and thus the slower transfer of images/data. Without a huge amount of trouble you may get 1200-2400 bits per second on a voice FM circuit. This works out at around 100-200 characters per second which for an average 640x480 lowish quality JPG image (say 30K bytes) as taking quite a while to transmit. (Say 3-5 mins)

Cell phones have a much higher data rate and in fact encode audio into a digital stream. I'll admit I dont know what the rate is but think 3G is around 2MBit/sec max!

You could no doubt modify the walkie talkie modulation method and bandwidth to get better rate but I doubt it would be worth it. I'll not mention the legal implications of doing this! If you really want to play have a look at the ISM bands like 2.4GHz. In the US at least you can even build your own equipment that conforms to this "unlicensed" band. There are even chips available to make it easier.

There is lots of GPL software around that will encode/decode an audio stream to/from data and even key the TX. If you want some names/refs pls post your request.

For years, Wiseman has been claiming that he's not Jewish, but that he is of Welsh ancestry instead. The real truth is that the Wiseman surname is mostly associated with black people. According to Oprah, an important article on the subject is:

Valdes, Mario, "The Black Wiseman in European Symbolism," Journal of African Civilizations 3, No. 1 (1981): 67-85.

The Oprah ladies are going to read the article and discuss it in depth during an upcoming show. I'm going to be sure and tape the whole thing.

You have had folks in these groups "attack" you because of your stupid and incessant spam. You start it, Mark, and then you whine like a petulant flattering name. You are not a "victum", Mark. You are the instigator and Your comment that I am "annymouse" and thereby have no "honnor" is pointless, as are the majority of your posts. I can afford to use Altopia, can you?

You might learn the advantage of being anonymous after your neighbors receive a few copies of your posts, as your buddy once threatened to do.
So, Mr. Morgan, I am going to continue being "annymous" while you plod

I agree, its not worth modifying the walkie talkie if a data-to-voice encoder and voice-to-data decoder exist that can reasonably transmit over a walkie talkie's channel. Would love to review some of references on software or studies done already. Thanks so much in when you falsely claim I have intelectual superoirs in posting in the NG you cease to be a messenger and become a libeler, let alone go on about wasting O2

thee are those that consider my efforts a waste. I would conceed that they ight have point if the facts were clearly to the contary
you presented no facts you just repeat more libel

here are some facts

Fact: I set out to stop what has been K4YZ multi year effort to libel
everyone he is seriously oposed to. I have achived that goal.

Fact: I decided to resist the effort of many folks to use an accusation of Homosexaulity as weapon in these NG's. I have not been entirely succesfull to date OTOH most posters have come to the point of noting
"so what?" (or words to that effect) in response to such efforts, thus
I am satfied with the results

Fact:in resisting the effort of various folks to label tech and NoCoders as incapple Ham I believe the way such trolls as "slow code" and Al klein quiting the feild have shown that my point is made.

Fact: in persuing justice for all (even Wismen as I try to restrain those tat feel the need to enhance his records of sin further) I have prefromed a Mitvah

The price I have paid for this is what? Making it more obvious (not that it was ever a secert) that I suffer from dyslexia and aphasia which make my words esp with typed with passion (or boredom as is often the case in hauling out Wisemen trash) an adventureto say the least to read. For you I supose this would be mortifing to me it is indeed something I had to get used too by the 3rd or 4th grade

you may make of my typos all you like it hardly bothers me (msotly it bothers me when the mispeeling at point near the heart of the peice of writing is seized upon to avoid the point itself but even that makes my oint in many cases

you are a cowwrd and clearly without honor

and contiue to support the use of hate and smear campaign over the truth yes you can do that and likely you will enjoy being anymouse about since you would be likely ashamed to aosscate with such remarks by your own name satan (or is 666 the antichrist) oh well who can sort out your delsuions of grander
I see. When it is correctly pointed out to you that your intellectual superiors consider your blatherings to be a waste of oxygen, you attack the messenger rather than the facts presented.
Don't try to twist the intent or content of my previous post with the use of terms such as "smear campaign" or "use of hate". I stated facts, Mark. No "smear campaign" involved. Your attempt to do so is covered in Debating 101, and holds no water. You've been watching Hillary Clinton too much. Your comment about my choice of 666 is laughable. Nice try, Mark, but like the rest of your post, it is weak. A third grader could do better.

Facts, as they often say, is facts. You have quickly become The Clown of Usenet and have done so all by your lonesome self.
Now, Mark, twist THIS message around to suit your fancy. I guess next up for you will be to accuse me of "libbeling" you by calling you a clown. And, Mark. Describing you as a lonesome clown is a statement of fact. Live with it.

when you falsely claim I have intelectual superoirs in posting in the NG you cease to be a messenger and become a libeler, let alone go on about wasting O2

Prove that there are those of us who are NOT your intellectual superior. By which yardstick are you going to measure or determine this? By the very simple fact that we post correctly, use good grammar and don't splatter our posts with misspelled words is example enough.

thee are those that consider my efforts a waste. I would conceed that they ight have point if the facts were clearly to the contary
you presented no facts you just repeat more libel
I repeated nothing. I made a statement based upon my observations. There is no libel involved.

here are some facts

Fact: I set out to stop what has been K4YZ multi year effort to libel everyone he is seriously oposed to. I have achived that goal.
Fact: You "saw" Steve in post after post that were not his. You falsely accused Steve of making anon posts when he, in fact, did no such thing when you yourself were accused of the same. How many email addresses and sock puppets do you need? Steve has one...his REAL name and callsign.

Fact: I decided to resist the effort of many folks to use an accusation of Homosexaulity as weapon in these NG's. I have not been entirely succesfull to date OTOH most posters have come to the point of noting
"so what?" (or words to that effect) in response to such efforts, thus
I am satfied with the results
The accusations you refer to were mostly posts made by Wiseman in his attempt to anger you after your forty to fifty posts per day. Wiseman is no intellectual giant but you went way past the typical boundaries and even went so far as to follow Wiseman to the Nim Busters boards where you further antagonized him. Last I heard, Mark, the Admin banned you from the Nim Boards and to be banned from that group of misfits takes some bit of doing.

Fact:in resisting the effort of various folks to label tech and NoCoders as incapple Ham I believe the way such trolls as "slow code" and Al klein quiting the feild have shown that my point is made.
This is a moot point. If you were so easily offended by comments aimed toward No-Coders, the problem is yours. Had you any intellect you would have ignored the posts, but you couldn't leave well-enough alone. You just HAD to stick your nose in.

Fact: in persuing justice for all (even Wismen as I try to restrain those tat feel the need to enhance his records of sin further) I have prefromed a Mitvah
...
Fact: You are not "persuing" justice for all. You are taking every opportunity to spam, irritate, and inject inane comments where none are due. You have performed nothing other than flooding the newsgroups with one-liners that make little to no sense.

The price I have paid for this is what? Making it more obvious (not that it was ever a secert) that I suffer from dyslexia and aphasia which make my words esp with typed with passion (or boredom as is often the case in hauling out Wisemen trash) an adventureto say the least to read. For you I supose this would be mortifing to me it is indeed something I had to get used too by the 3rd or 4th grade
...
That, Mark, is an excuse. There are many of your peers who have overcome what you claim to be an affliction. You could do likewise, were you not so lazy. I have no pity for you or your excuses.

you may make of my typos all you like it hardly bothers me (msotly it bothers me when the mispeeling at point near the heart of the peice of writing is seized upon to avoid the point itself but even that makes my oint in many cases
If my "corrections" regarding your poor spelling didn't bother you, you would have not made the above comment. If you want to make a point, and make it intelligently, then take the time to do it correctly. Your compositions are akin to those that a second-grader would create. You can hardly expect your "points" to be taken seriously when you cannot present them in a format that the majority of us can understand. You are at fault here, Mark. Not the rest of us who speak English.

Was that supposed to cut to the core of my being? Upset me? Send me crying? To the contrary, Mark, your words, misspelled as they are, are meaningless. As I've said in the past, I look at you as a bouncy-ball toy to be slapped around much as a cat would do with a mouse. You are entertainment, Mark. A diversion. A nonentity. I respond to you for two reasons. First, I am bored. Secondly, you are so easy to bounce around that I find you mildly amusing and a soft target to boot.

Now let me see how you will twist this. Did I "libbel" you by referring to you as a soft target? Did I comport myself as being the Antichrist by using "666"? It will be interesting to see how you will surely misinterpret my commentary.

Lecture me not about honor, Mark. You, of all people, know not the meaning of the word.

What, exactly, IS Libbel? Can we count the ways? Is "Libbel" akin to Dribble? Piddle?
Perhaps someone with greater mental acquity than Mark can answer this age-old riddle/piddle/libbel/diddle conundrum.
How, exactly, does one "libbel" another? Is it a verb? An adjective? An insult? Compliment? Or does it have sexual undertones?
Perhaps we should forward this query to a person who is mentally superior to Mark Morgan. Just maybe Roger Wiseman can step in to provide an answer in terms that Mark may be able to comprehend.
I defer to the greater intellect of Mr. Wiseman who has shown so much mental sharpness of late. Can you, Roger, define "libbel" for Mark and the rest of us, the mental unworthies? Surely you can shed no small amount of West Virginia intellect upon this dilemma.
And remember, Roger, by so doing you will forever place Mark in a position of indebtedness.

2029. FIGHT THE SPEW! xnews / slrn score file update

The xnews score file which was posted previously has been updated to block some additional IP addresses belonging to known garbage posters. Google has now been blocked entirely, because it is now recognized as a major Usenet abuser which is responsible for allowing far too many people like Wiseman and Morgan to disrupt Usenet. All followups to Google posts have also been blocked.

Xnews is a free news reader which does not have to be installed. Simply extract it from the zip file and start running xnews.exe. You can obtain xnews from

http://www.download.com/3000-2164-10144167.html

and you can copy the score file below into score.ini to have an immediately effective filtering system.

An xnews / slrn score file allows you to specify filtering rules for each news group or for a collection of groups. You do that by enclosing the name of the group(s) in square brackets.

After the bracketed name of the groups, you specify a score. I don't bother with elaborate scoring, and instead give all matches a score of -9999. That causes the matching posts to be killed.

So, for all of the rec.radio.amateur hierarchy, plus the flame_fest news group, you can use the following score file (lines starting with "%" are comments). Text case is ignored by default, so "get help" matches "GeT HElp" when specified below. If you don't want to use a rule, simply insert a "%" character as the first character of a rule, or else delete the rule completely.
